Casler, 2017-01-16 I was no secessionist and hoped the trouble would be settled without recourse to arms but when the war came I shouldered my musket in behalf of my native State and defended her to the last As a commander in Stonewall Jackson's brigade John Casler experienced all the horrors and comedy of the American Civil War His time was not so different from his countrymen on the other side with the exception of point of view He buried more than one good friend I saw my friend William I Blue lying on his face dead I sat down by him and took a hearty cry and then thinks I It does not look well for a soldier to cry but I could not help it While I was at work a Georgian came to me and wanted the tools as soon as I was done with them He said he wanted to bury his brother and asked if I was burying a brother No I replied but dear as a brother New Intro Annotated Every memoir of the American Civil War provides us with another view of the catastrophe that changed the country forever For the first time this long out of print volume is available as an affordable well formatted book for e readers and smartphones Be sure to LOOK INSIDE by clicking the cover above or download a sample
