Stones of Aran: Pilgrimage Tim Robinson, 2008-08-05 The Aran Islands in Galway Bay off the west coast of Ireland are a unique geological and cultural landscape and for centuries their stark beauty and their inhabitants traditional way of life have attracted pilgrims from abroad The Aran Islands in Galway Bay off the west coast of Ireland are a unique geological and cultural landscape and for centuries their stark beauty and their inhabitants traditional way of life have attracted pilgrims from abroad After a visit with his wife in 1972 Tim Robinson moved to the islands where he started making maps and gathering stories eventually developing the idea for a cosmic history of rainn the largest of the three islands Pilgrimage is the first of two volumes that make up Stones of Aran in which Robinson maps the length and breadth of rainn Here he circles the entire island following a clockwise sunwise path in guest of the good step in which walking itself becomes a form of attention and contemplation Like Annie Dillard's Pilgrim at Tinker Creek and Bruce Chatwin's In Patagonia Stones of Aran is not only a meticulous and mesmerizing study of place but an entrancing and altogether unclassi able work of literature Robinson explores Aran in both its elemental and mythical dimensions taking us deep into the island s folklore wildlife names habitations and natural and human histories Bringing to life the ongoing forever unpredictable encounter between one man and a given landscape Stones of Aran discovers worlds Robinson's voyage continues in Stones of Aran Labyrinth of Aran: Labyrinth Tim Robinson, 2009-09-08 Tim Robinson's Stones of Aran is one of the most striking and original literary undertakings of our time Robinson's ambition is to find out both what it is to know a landscape know it as extensively and intimately as possible and what it takes to make that knowledge the sense of the landscape itself come alive in writing It is a project that draws on the legacies of Thoreau and Joyce to which Robinson brings his own polymathic gifts as cartographer mathematician historian and above all shaper of words In Pilgrimage Robinson walked the entire coast of Airann largest of the Aran islands In Labyrinth he turns in to the island's interior These two books parts of an inseparable whole that can for all that be read quite separately from each other constitute a vast polyphonic composition at once encyclopedic and lyrical scientific and surprisingly personal Exploring the illimitable complexity and bounty contained in the seemingly limited confines of a single island Robinson invites us to look without and within and to see the wonder of the world Stones of Aran Tom Robbins, 2016-08-08 Stones of Aran Pilgrimage is as Robert Macfarlane says in his introduction one of the most sustained intensive and imaginative studies of a place that has ever been carried out That place is one of the most mysterious and oldest inhabited landscapes in the world the islands of Aran off the west coast of Ireland Tim Robinson's epic exploration of the desolate storm lashed limestone rocks which have already haunted generations of Irish writers takes the form of a clockwise journey around the coast Every cliff inlet and headland reveals layers of myth and historical memory and Robinson makes beautifully crafted observations about the habits of birds plants and the humans who lived there and endured leaving records in stone on the walls cairns and ancient forts in story and in oral tradition Stones of Aran Tim Robinson, 1990-06

Stones of Aran Tim Robinson,1989 Irish Writing in the Twentieth Century David Pierce,2000 With five Nobel Prize winners seven Pulitzer Prize winners and two Booker Prize winning novelists modern Irish writing has contributed something special and permanent to our understanding of the twentieth century Irish Writing in the Twentieth Century provides a useful comprehensive and pleasurable introduction to modern Irish literature in a single volume Organized chronologically by decade this anthology provides the reader with a unique sense of the development and richness of Irish writing and of the society it reflected It embraces all forms of writing not only the major forms of drama fiction and verse but such material as travel writing personal memoirs journalism interviews and radio plays to offer the reader a complete and wonderfully varied sense of Ireland's contribution our literary heritage David Pierce has selected major literary figures as well as neglected ones and includes many writers from the Irish diaspora The range of material is enormous and ensures that work that is inaccessible or out of print is now easily available The book is a delightful compilation including many well known pieces and captivating discoveries which anyone interested in literature will long enjoy browsing and dipping into

Connemara Tim Robinson, 2007-06-19 The first volume in Tim Robinson's phenomenal Connemara Trilogy which Robert Macfarlane has called One of the most remarkable non fiction projects undertaken in English In its landscape history and folklore Connemara is a singular region ill defined geographically and yet unmistakably a place apart from the rest of Ireland Tim Robinson who established himself as Ireland's most brilliant living non fiction writer with the two volume Stones of Aran moved from Aran to Connemara nearly twenty years ago This book is the result of his extraordinary engagement with the mountains bogs and shorelines of the region and with its folklore and its often terrible history a work as beautiful and surprising as the place it attempts to describe Chosen as a book of the year by Iain Sinclair Robert Macfarlane and Colm T ib n One of the greatest writers of lands No one has disentangled the tales the stones of Ireland have to tell so deftly and retold them so beautifully Fintan O Toole Dazzling an indubitable classic Giles Foden Cond Nast Traveller He is that rarest of phenomena a scientist and an artist and his method is to combine scientific rigour with artistic reverie in a seamless blend that both informs and delights John Banville One of contemporary Ireland's finest literary stylists Joseph O Connor Guardian

Ecocriticism and the Island Pippa Marland,2022-12-19 Islands have long been the subject of cultural fascination but in recent decades they have exerted an increasingly powerful centrifugal force sending writers to the outer edges of the British Irish archipelago in search of inspiration and insight Drawing on contemporary ecocritical approaches island studies and emergent archipelagic perspectives Ecocriticism and the Island explores a wide selection of island themed creative non fiction Through a combination of textual analysis and where possible original interviews and archival research Pippa Marland offers new insights into the work of Tim Robinson Brenda Chamberlain Christine Evans W G Sebald Stephen Watts Amy Liptrot Kathleen Jamie Adam Nicolson Robert Macfarlane and David Gange In assessing the ways in which these authors negotiate existing cultural tropes of the island while offering their own distinctive articulations of islandness this book represents an important intervention into island literary studies At the same time it contributes to the development of an archipelagic strand of ecocriticism one that offers a valuable perspective on human environmental relationships in an Anthropocene context

Unfolding Irish landscapes Derek Gladwin, Christine Cusick, 2016-01-01 This is the first scholarly edited collection devoted to the work of the Anglo Irish writer and cartographer Tim Robinson GeoHumanities Michael Dear, Jim Ketchum, Sarah Luria, Doug Richardson, 2011-04-14 In the past decade there has been a convergence of transdisciplinary thought characterized by geography s engagement with the humanities and the humanities integration of place and the tools of geography into its studies GeoHumanities maps this emerging intellectual terrain with thirty cutting edge contributions from internationally renowned scholars architects artists activists and scientists This book explores the humanities rapidly expanding engagement with geography and the multi methodological inquiries that analyze the meanings of place and then reconstructs those meanings to provoke new knowledge as well as the possibility of altered political practices It is no coincidence that the geohumanities are forcefully emerging at a time of immense intellectual and social change This book focuses on a range of topics to address urgent contemporary imperatives such as the link between creativity and place altered practices of spatial literacy the increasing complexity of visual representation in art culture and science and the ubiquitous presence of geospatial technologies in the Information Age GeoHumanties is essential reading for students wishing to understand the intellectual trends and forces driving scholarship and research at the intersections of geography and the humanities disciplines These trends hold far reaching implications for future work in these disciplines and for understanding the changes gripping our societies and our globalizing world Christian inscriptions in the Irish language, chiefly collected and drawn by G. Petrie; and ed. by M. Stokes Royal society of antiquaries of Ireland, 1869 Christian Inscriptions in the Irish Language Anonymous, 2023-05-06 Reprint of the original first published in 1872

Christian Inscriptions in the Irish Language Anonymous,2023-05-06 Reprint of the original first published in 1872 The publishing house Anatiposi publishes historical books as reprints Due to their age these books may have missing pages or inferior quality Our aim is to preserve these books and make them available to the public so that they do not get lost

Christian Inscriptions in the Irish Language Margaret Stokes,1878 Historical Dictionary of Ireland Frank A. Biletz,2013-11-14 All places undergo change but in few has this change been quite as sweeping as Ireland both the independent Republic of Ireland and dependent Northern Ireland so it is good to see where it is heading at present Obviously that has to be judged on the background of where it is coming from not only over the past decade or so but over centuries and indeed millennia This new edition of Historical Dictionary of Ireland is an excellent resource for discovering the history of Ireland This is done through a chronology an introductory essay and an extensive bibliography The cross referenced dictionary section has over 600 entries on significant persons places and events political parties and institutions including the Catholic church with period forays into literature music and the arts This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Ireland Listening to the Wind Tim Robinson, 2019-09-10 A mapmaker's vivid journey through the geography ecology and history of Ireland's Connemara region Here is Connemara experienced at a walker's pace From cartographer Tim Robinson comes the second title in the Seedbank series a breathtakingly intimate exploration of one beloved place s geography ecology and history. We begin with the earth right in front of his boots as Robinson unveils swaths of fiontarnach fall leaf decay We peer from the edge of the cliff where Robinson s house stands on rickety stilts We closely examine an overgrown patch of heather a flush of sphagnum moss And so footstep by footstep moment by moment Robinson takes readers deep into this storied Irish landscape from the quibbling contentious terrain of Bogland to the shorelines of Inis N to the towering peaks of Twelve Pins Just as wild and essential as the countryside itself are its colorful characters friends and legends and neighbors alike a skeletal story filled sheep farmer an engineer who builds bridges both physical and metaphorical a playboy prince and cricket champion and an enterprising botanist who meets an unexpected demise Within a landscape lie all other things and Robinson rejoices in the universal magic of becoming one with such a place joining with the sound of the past the language we breathe and our frontage onto the natural world Situated at the intersection of mapmaking and mythmaking Listening to the Wind is at once learned and intimate elegiac and magnificent an exceptionally rich book about one place which is also about the whole world Robert Macfarlane Visitors to Connemara that expanse of stony beauty in the west of Ireland are often struck by its stillness This collection of essays succeeds in the difficult task of staying true to the verities of a place on to which so many fantasies have been projected The Guardian Journal of the Royal Historical and Archaeological Association of Ireland Royal Society of Antiquaries of Ireland, 1915 The Journal of the Royal Historical and Archaeological Association of Ireland Royal Historical and Archaeological Association of Ireland, 1878 The Journal of the Royal Historical and Archaeological Association of Ireland ,1887 Mapping the Invisible Landscape Kent C. Ryden, 1993 Any landscape has an unseen component a subjective component of experience memory and narrative which people familiar with the place understand to be an integral part of its geography but which outsiders may not suspect the existence of OC ounless they listen and read carefully This invisible landscape is make visible though stories and these stories are the focus of this engrossing book Traveling across the invisible landscape in which we imaginatively dwell Kent RydenOCohimself a most careful listener and readerOCoasks the following questions What categories of meaning do we read into our surroundings What forms of expression serve as the most reliable maps to understanding those meanings Our sense of any place he argues consists of a deeply ingrained experiential knowledge of its physical makeup an awareness of its communal and personal history a sense of our identity as being inextricably bound up with its events and ways of life and an emotional reaction positive or negative to its meanings and memories Ryden demonstrates that both folk and literary narratives about place bear a striking thematic and stylistic resemblance Accordingly Mapping the Invisible Landscape examines both kinds of narratives For his oral materials Ryden provides an in depth analysis of narratives collected in the Coeur d Alene mining district in the Idaho panhandle for his consideration of written works he explores the OC essay of place OCO the personal essay which takes as its subject a particular place and a writer s relationship to that place Drawing on methods and materials from geography folklore and literature Mapping the Invisible Landscape offers a broadly interdisciplinary analysis of the way we situate ourselves imaginatively in the landscape the way we inscribe its surface with stories Written in an extremely engaging style this book will lead its readers to an awareness of the vital role that a sense of place plays in the formation of local cultures to an understanding of the many layered ways in which place interacts with individual lives and to renewed appreciation of the places in their own lives and landscapes
