Learning at Home Pre K-3 Ann C. Barbour,2011-12-19 Families play a critical role in helping young children develop a solid academic foundation and love of learning Numerous examples have proven time and again that children's learning behavior is strongest when reinforced with activities, social interactions, and play. In Learning at Home, PreK-3 Ann Barbour stresses the importance of getting parents involved with their children's education through engaging homework activities. Bursting with activities to foster learning on many levels, this book also offers ideas for teachers on how to include parents in their children's education. Discover hundreds of fun activities designed to relate learning directly to children's own experiences. Include shared reading experiences, family projects, and games. Integrate developmental and content areas including language and literacy, mathematics, science, and the creative arts. Promote literacy learning in homes where English is not the primary language. And more! This book gives teachers the tools to reach out to families and provides parents with the guidance to reinforce learning both in school and at home. Complete with tips on how to encourage parent involvement, data to support family commitment to the child's education, and activities that young students will enjoy doing at home with their families. Learning at Home is a fantastic resource to promote the joy of learning at home.

Tough Trivia for Kids Helene Hovanec, 2005. What summer month has no major holidays? Which Australian critters live on eucalyptus leaves? In connection with Mensa, renowned author Helene Hovanec, the creator of 38 kids puzzle books, gives children a pleasurable brain workout with some challenging kid-centered trivia. It's absolutely fun to see if you know the answers to questions such as: Which kind of test is given to determine if someone is telling the truth? Which hero from children's literature traveled to a land called Lilliput? Some quizzes are multiple choice, while others simply ask the questions or feature fill-ins, and the subjects range from art to music, sports to food, with many categories in between.
