Sisson, 1975      Rivista di Estetica 86 AA.VV., 2024-12-11 The concept of speculative thinking is in many ways ambiguous First the concept of speculation refers on the one hand to philosophical research i.e. to the need for philosophy to remain committed to pure thought and not to bend to instances alien to conceptual ones while on the other hand it refers to financial transactions aimed at profiting from fluctuations in market prices Second even within philosophical discourse the term remains equivocal At times speculation refers to an inquiry that precisely by being merely speculative seems detached from the practical concerns of the world thereby indicating the essential theoretical element of philosophical inquiry at others the term marks the extreme experience of thinking in which ordinary discursiveness touches its limits After a period of relative oblivion the notion of the speculative has returned today within contemporary philosophical debate This special issue focuses on the notion of speculative thinking both in its Hegelian and neo Hegelian interpretations and in contexts that partially diverge from that tradition aiming to philosophically explore the term's rich and varied meanings      Ephemeral Bodies Julius Ritter von Schlosser, 2008 The critical history of wax is fraught with gaps and controversies These eight essays explore wax reproductions of the body or body parts throughout history and assess their conceptual ambiguity material impermanence and implications for the history of western art      Histories of Conservation and Art History in Modern Europe Sven Dupré, Jenny Boulboulé, 2022-03-14 This book traces the development of scientific conservation and technical art history It takes as its starting point the final years of the nineteenth century which saw the establishment of the first museum laboratory in Berlin and ground breaking international conferences on art history and conservation held in pre World War I Germany It follows the history of conservation and art history until the 1940s when from the ruins of World War II new institutions such as the Istituto Centrale del Restauro emerged which would shape the post war art and conservation world The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history conservation history historiography and history of science and humanities      Storia Dell'arte Italiana Giulio Carlo Argan, 1969      Storia Dell'arte in Italia Corrado Maltese, 1960
