Indigenous Storytelling and Connections to the Land Francesca Mussi, 2024-09-13 This book builds on the perspective that for Indigenous peoples relations to the land are familial intimate intergenerational spiritual instructive and life nourishing and it is these relations that Western societies sought to destroy as part of their colonial projects of territorial conquest and exploitation of resources Positioning storytelling as a research methodology and a model of decolonial practice this edited collection seeks to explore the following key questions how does Indigenous storytelling contribute to understanding Indigenous identity and the crucial role of the land in Indigenous ways of life How can Indigenous storytelling subvert colonial narratives of the land How can Indigenous storytelling contribute to addressing colonial exploitations of the land and its resources Can Indigenous storytelling become a rich mode for the investigation of current climate crises And finally how does storytelling assist Indigenous peoples in restoring their intimate relations to the land and its natural gifts Through critical analysis of a unique range of Indigenous storytelling practices including fiction performative art new media platforms archaeological findings and personal live experienced stories this collection aims to examine the interplay between colonialism and current environmental challenges and to expose the impacts past present and future of Western worldviews on Indigenous connections to the land whilst simultaneously bringing to the fore Indigenous ethos of care and land custodianship

Super Dimensions in Globalisation and Education David R. Cole, Christine Woodrow, 2016-02-05 This volume is the first major production of the globalisation research strand of the Centre for Educational Research at Western Sydney University This book makes a significant contribution to the theory of and research in globalisation and education and tackles the topics of superdiversity and supercomplexity The book's thesis is that the effects of globalisation on education can only be understood if the specific yet complex conditions of globalisation in education are investigated The book takes an international approach to understanding globalisation and does not restrict itself to just one methodological or theoretical plane of investigation Education is one of these frontline domains in which the effects of superdiversity cannot be dismissed minimized or denied The continuously increasing complexity of learning environments is raising critical issues at every level from description over analysis to theoretical generalization and this book is a first and fruitful attempt at charting these waters This pioneering book will remain a key text for many years to come Jan Bloomaert Professor of Language Culture and Globalization and Director of the Babylon Center Tilburg University the Netherlands This provocative collection works from two premises that today there is superdiversity in our globalised world and related is a supercomplexity of theoretical and methodological approaches The collection proffers multifarious challenges for educational theory research and practice in working with through and across these two premises As such Super Dimensions in Globalisation and Education is essential reading for all educational researchers whatever their interests or location Professor Bob Lingard The University of Queensland Australia This is a highly imaginative book that stops flat earth and convergence arguments dead in their tracks

Its genius is to bring super complexity and super diversity into a conversation with each other and with education and in doing so shed light on the numerous and unexpected ways in which global processes are shaping education in revealing and compelling ways Any scholar concerned with globalisation and education will find Super Dimensions in Globalisation and Education a must have on their reading list Professor Susan Robertson Director of the Centre for Globalisation Education and Social Futures University of Bristol UK This is an absorbing and compelling collection It takes readers on a kaleidoscopic journey through various intricate expressions of the nexus between globalisation and education And it offers multiple ways that such expressions can be thought and rethought In transcending conventional categorisations it invites educators to do so too Professor Jane Kenway Australian Professorial Fellow Australian Research Council Education Faculty Monash University Australia
