The Short Story in

South Africa Rebecca Fasselt,Corinne Sandwith,2022-03-24 This book considers the key critical interventions on short story writing in South Africa written in English since the year 2000 The short story genre whilst often marginalised in national literary canons has been central to the trajectory of literary history in South Africa In recent years the short story has undergone a significant renaissance with new collections and young writers making a significant impact on the contemporary literary scene and subgenres such as speculative fiction erotic fiction flash fiction and queer fiction expanding rapidly in popularity This book examines the role of the short story genre in reflecting or championing new developments in South African writing and the ways in which traditional boundaries and definitions of the short story in South Africa have been reimagined in the present Drawing together a range of critical interventions including scholarly articles interviews and personal reflective pieces the volume traces some of the aesthetic and thematic continuities and discontinuities in the genre and sheds new light on questions of literary form Finally the book considers the place of the short story in twenty first century writing and interrogates the ways in which the short story form may contribute to or recast ideas of the post apartheid or post transitional The perfect guide to contemporary short story writing in South Africa this book will be essential reading for researchers of African literature

A Reader's Companion to the Short Story in English Erin

Fallon,R.C. Feddersen,James Kurtzleben,Maurice A. Lee,Susan Rochette-Crawley,2013-10-31 Although the short story has existed in various forms for centuries it has particularly flourished during the last hundred years Reader s Companion to the Short Story in English includes alphabetically arranged entries for 50 English language short story writers from around the world Most of these writers have been active since 1960 and they reflect a wide range of experiences and perspectives in their works Each entry is written by an expert contributor and includes biography a review of existing criticism a lengthier analysis of specific works and a selected bibliography of primary and secondary sources The volume begins with a detailed introduction to the short story genre and concludes with an annotated bibliography of major works on short story theory

The Short Story Anthology and Women's Writing Aleix Tura Vecino,2025-08-14 Hundreds of anthologies of women s short stories have appeared in the literary market between the 1970s and now This publishing and cultural phenomenon is considered for the first time in this book which argues that during this period anthologies have become a literary technology used not only to make visible female short story writers but also to think about and mould ideas of womanhood Through creative and contextualised readings of the most important anthologies produced in this period this study shows that this literary form has contributed to and in some cases pioneered key developments in gender theory and feminist thought including questions of political combination among women which underlie contemporary global movements such as MeToo In doing so the book also develops the first book length conceptualisation of the features and meaning making mechanisms of the short story anthology as a literary form This book will benefit academics and students working in the fields of short fiction publishing and women s studies as well as feminist scholars and a growing number of specialists interested in the anthology as a literary form worldwide The Short Story after Apartheid Graham K. Riach, 2023-10-15 Honourable Mention in the 2023 British Association for Contemporary Literary Studies Monograph Prize The Short Story after Apartheid offers the first major study of the anglophone short story in South Africa since apartheid s end By focusing on the short story this book complicates models of South African literature dominated by the novel and contributes to a much needed generic and formalist turn in postcolonial studies Literary texts are sites of productive struggle between formal and extra formal concerns and these brief fragmentary elliptical formally innovative stories offer perspectives that reframe or revise important concerns of post apartheid literature the aesthetics of engaged writing the politics of the past class and race the legacies of violence and the struggle over the land Through an analysis of key texts from the period by Nadine Gordimer Ivan Vladislavi Zo Wicomb Phaswane Mpe and Henrietta Rose Innes this book assesses the place of the short story in post apartheid writing and develops a fuller model of how artworks allow and disallow forms of social thought The Postmodern Short Story Farhat Iftekharrudin, Joseph Boyden, Mary Rohrberger, Jaie Claudet, 2003-12-30 Short stories are usually defined in terms of characteristics of modernism in which the story begins in the middle develops according to a truncated plot and ends with an epiphany This approach tends to ignore postmodernism a movement often characterized by a negation of objective reality where plots are seemingly abandoned surfaces are extraordinary and symbols turn inward on themselves This book examines postmodern forms and characteristic themes by analyzing a group of short stories that make use of postmodern narrative strategies including nonfictional fiction gender profiling and death as an image The volume begins with a discussion of the blurred lines between fiction and nonfiction in the short story and imaginative personal essay It then looks at the role of women in works by such authors as Sandra Cisneros Leslie Marmon Silko Joyce Carol Oates and Lorrie Moore This is followed by a section of chapters on postmodern masculinity and short fiction The next section focuses on death as an image and theme in works by Richard Ford Richard Brautigan and James Joyce The final set of chapters considers postmodern short fiction from South Africa and Canada The Short Story Valerie Shaw, 2014-07-21 Throughout this text Valerie Shaw addresses two key questions What are the special satisfactions afforded by reading short stories and How are these satisfactions derived from each story s literary techniques and narrative strategies She then attempts to answer these questions by drawing on stories from different periods and countries by authors who were also great novelists like Henry James Flaubert Kafka and D H Lawrence by authors who specifically dedicated themselves to the art of the short story like Kipling Chekhov and Katherine Mansfield by contemporary practitioners like Angela Carter and Jorge Luis Borges and by

unfairly neglected writers like Sarah Orne Jewett and Joel Chandler Harris

Double-Voicing the Canadian Short Story Laurie Ruk, 2016-05-27 Double Voicing the Canadian Short Story is the first comparative study of eight internationally and nationally acclaimed writers of short fiction Sandra Birdsell Timothy Findley Jack Hodgins Thomas King Alistair MacLeod Olive Senior Carol Shields and Guy Vanderhaeghe With the 2013 Nobel Prize for Literature going to Alice Munro the master of the contemporary short story this art form is receiving the recognition that has been its due and as this book demonstrates Canadian writers have long excelled in it From theme to choice of narrative perspective from emphasis on irony satire and parody to uncovering the multiple layers that make up contemporary Canadian English the short story provides a powerful vehicle for a distinctively Canadian double voicing The stories discussed here are compelling reflections on our most intimate roles and relationships and Ruk offers a thoughtful juxtaposition of themes of gender mothers and sons family storytelling otherness in Canada and the politics of identity to name but a few As a multi author study Double Voicing the Canadian Short Story is broad in scope and its readings are valuable to Canadian literature as a whole making the book of interest to students of Canadian literature or the short story and to readers of both Published in English
