Storm Clouds Over Ireland Donald Willis, 1992 Stormclouds Brian Gallagher, 2013-09-02 Big changes are coming to late Sixties Belfast At first life seems normal for Sammy and Maeve two children from the opposing republican and loyalist communities Sammy tries to avoid trouble with his unemployed father while Maeve has lived with her aunt and uncle since her mother's death When twins Dylan and Emma Goldman move from Washington to Belfast they strike up friendships with Maeve and Sammy Gradually the nationalist girl and loyalist boy overcome their suspicions of each other and all four children become friends But even as they have fun at local sports clubs attend the Goldman's barbeques and secretly make their own radio programmes they can't ignore the trouble that is slowing gripping the country And when the simmering tensions in Northern Ireland erupt into violence it threatens not just their friendships but their very lives Ireland's Holy Wars Marcus Tanner, 2003-01-01 For much of the twentieth century Ireland has been synonymous with conflict the painful struggle for its national soul part of the regular fabric of life And because the Irish have emigrated to all parts of the world while always remaining Irish the troubles have become part of a common heritage well beyond their own borders In most accounts of Irish history the focus is on the political rivalry between Unionism and Republicanism But the roots of the Irish conflict are profoundly and inescapably religious As Marcus Tanner shows in this vivid warm and perceptive book only by understanding the consequences over five centuries of the failed attempt by the English to make Ireland into a Protestant state can the pervasive tribal hatreds of today be seen in context Tanner traces the creation of a modern Irish national identity through the popular resistance to imposed Protestantism and the common defense of Catholicism by the Gaelic Irish and the Old English of the Pale who settled in Ireland after its twelfth century conquest The book is based on detailed research into the Irish past and a personal encounter with today's Ireland from Belfast to Cork Tanner has walked with the Apprentice Boys of Derry and explored the so called Bandit Country of South Armagh He has visited churches and religious organizations across the thirty two counties of Ireland spoken with priests pastors and their congregations and crossed and re crossed the lines that for centuries have isolated the faiths of Ireland and their history Ireland, Revolution, and the English Modernist Imagination Eve Patten, 2022 Studies the response of English writers during the first half of the twentieth century to the process of revolution in neighbouring Ireland It explores novels letters travelogues and memoirs from writers such as Wyndham Lewis Virginia Woolf D H Lawrence Evelyn Waugh May Sinclair Ethel Mannin George Thomson and T H White On the Atmospheric Changes which Produce Rain, Wind, Storms, and the Fluctuations of the Barometer ... Malcolm Smuts, 2016-06-30 The Oxford Handbook of the Age of Shakespeare presents a broad sampling of current historical scholarship on the period of Shakespeare's career that will assist and stimulate scholars of his poems and plays. Rather than merely attempting to summarize the historical background to Shakespeare, individual chapters seek to exemplify a wide variety of perspectives and methodologies currently used in historical research on the early modern period that can inform close analysis of literature. Different sections examine political history at both the national and local levels, relationships between intellectual culture and the early modern political imagination, relevant aspects of religious and social history, and facets of the histories of architecture, the visual arts, and music. Topics treated include the emergence of an early modern public sphere and its relationship to drama during Shakespeare's lifetime; the role of historical narratives in shaping the period's views on the workings of politics; attitudes about the role of emotion in social life; cultures of honour and shame and the rituals and literary forms through which they found expression; crime and murder and visual expressions of ideas of moral disorder and natural monstrosity in printed images as well as garden architecture. Donahoe's Magazine, 1887
