How & why Stories Martha Hamilton, Mitch Weiss, 1999 Did you ever look carefully at a spider's web If their purpose is strictly to catch flies why do spiders weave such beautiful intricate webs Did you ever wonder what causes thunder Why is the sea salty How did tigers get their stripes In this collection of delightful tales from around the world and through the ages each story explains why an animal plant or natural object looks or acts the way it does Telling Stories Steven Cohan, Linda M. Shires, 2002-01-04 Telling Stories overturns traditional definitions of narrative by arguing that any story whether a Bette Davis film a jeans ad a Jane Austen novel or a Cathy comic must be related to larger cultural networks The authors show how meanings and subjectivity do not exist in isolation but are manufactured by the narratives our culture reads and watches every day They call for a critical practice that through the fracturing of texts can alter the grounds of knowledge and interpretation This timely study will interest critics of narrative and culture as well as students wanting to extend post Saussurean theories to popular and canonical cultures and to the dynamics of story telling itself
