Temptations Of St Ed And Brother S Frank Bergon:

The Journals of Lewis and Clark Meriwether Lewis, William Clark, 2002-12-31 In 1803 when the United States purchased Louisiana from France the great expanse of this new American territory was a blank not only on the map but in our knowledge President Thomas Jefferson keenly understood that the course of the nation's destiny lay westward and that a national Voyage of Discovery must be mounted to determine the nature and accessibility of the frontier He commissioned his young secretary Meriwether Lewis to lead an intelligence gathering expedition from the Missouri River to the northern Pacific coast and back From 1804 to 1806 Lewis accompanied by co captain William Clark the Shoshone guide Sacajawea and thirty two men made the first trek across the Louisiana Purchase mapping the rivers as he went tracing the principal waterways to the sea and establishing the American claim to the territories of Idaho Washington and Oregon Together the captains kept a journal a richly detailed record of the flora and fauna they sighted the Indian tribes they encountered and the awe inspiring landscape they traversed from their base camp near present day St Louis to the mouth of the Columbia River In keeping this record they made an incomparable contribution to the literature of exploration and the writing of natural history

Postmodern/Postwar and After Jason Gladstone, Andrew Hoberek, Daniel Worden, 2016-07 Within the past ten years the field of contemporary American literary studies has changed significantly Following the turn of the twenty first century and mounting doubts about the continued explanatory power of the category of postmodernism new organizations have emerged book series have been launched journals have been created and new methodologies periodizations and thematics have redefined the field Postmodern Postwar and After aims to be a field defining book a sourcebook for the new and emerging critical terrain that explores the postmodern postwar period and what comes after The first section of essays returns to the category of the post modern and argues for the usefulness of key concepts and themes from postmodernism to the study of contemporary literature or reevaluates postmodernism in light of recent developments in the field and historical and economic changes in the late twentieth and early twenty first centuries These essays take the contemporary abandonments of postmodernism as an occasion to assess the current states of postmodernity After that the essays move to address the critical shift away from postmodernism as a description of the present and toward a new sense of postmodernism as just one category among many that scholars can use to describe the recent past The final section looks forward and explores the question of what comes after the postwar postmodern Taken together these essays from leading and emerging scholars on the state of twenty first century literary studies provide a number of frameworks for approaching contemporary literature as influenced by yet distinct from postmodernism The result is an indispensable guide that seeks to represent and understand the major overhauling of postwar American literary studies that is currently underway

The Toughest Kid We Knew Frank Bergon, 2020-06-15 Frank Bergon's newest work is a thoughtful exploration of the ways that memories of random childhood events become unexpected revelations about life in the West In many senses this project is a personalized version of Two Buck Chuck The Marlboro Man where Bergon explored the ways that a multiethnic and multiracial society shaped and continues to shape the day to day lived realities of the residents and communities of the San Joaquin Valley Bergon's latest book creation however is more elegiac in tone paying tribute to ranching and farming lives that are disappearing under suburban and exurban sprawl industrial farming and white collar job growth

Under the Western Sky Neil Campbell, 2018-03-01 This original collection of essays by experts in the field

weave together the first comprehensive examination of Nevada born Willy Vlautin's novels and songs as well as featuring 11 works of art that accompany his albums and books. Brutally honest, raw, gritty, down to earth, compassionate and affecting, Willy Vlautin's writing evokes a power in not only theme but in methodology. Vlautin's novels The Motel Life, Northline, Lean on Pete and The Free (2006, 2014) chart the dispossessed lives of young people struggling to survive in difficult economic times and in regions of the U.S. West and Pacific Northwest traditionally viewed as affluent and abundant. Yet as his work shows, they are actually highly stratified and deprived. Likewise, Vlautin's songs, penned as lead singer of the Americana band Richmond Fontaine, chart a related territory of blue collar landscapes of the American West and Northwest with a strong emphasis on narrative and affective soundscapes evocative of the similar worlds defined in his novels. Featuring an interview with Vlautin himself, this edited collection aims to develop the first serious critical consideration of the important novels and songs of Willy Vlautin by exploring relations between region, music and writing through the lens of critical regionality and other interdisciplinary cultural and theoretical methodologies. In so doing, it will situate his work within its regional frame of the American New West and particularly the city of Reno, Nevada and the Pacific Northwest whilst showing how he addresses wider cultural and global issues such as economic change, immigration, shifts in gender inequality and the loss of traditional mythic identities. The essays take different positions in relation to considerations of both novels and music, looking for links and relations across genres, always mindful of their specificity. Under the Western Sky shows how, although apparently rooted in place, Vlautin's work traces diverse lines of contemporary cultural enquiry, engaging in an effective and troubling examination of regional haunting. Talking Book Topics, 1995
