

'Twas The Night Before School Starts

'Twas the night before school starts and all through the house
Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse.

The backpacks were hung by the front door with care
In hopes that the morning soon would be there.

The children were restlessly sleeping in bed
While Momma, a million things rushed in her head.

Once all were asleep, happy school dreams arose.
With visions of friends, teachers, apples and clean clothes.

For in just a few hours, the new day would come,
And all would awake to the bright morning sun.

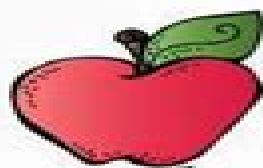

Kids would put on fresh clothes, new shoes and a smile
And fidget and fumble with nerves for a while.

Then bravely stand up with a smile and say
"I'm ready to do this. Let's get on our way!"

Momma would take a few pictures and wipe a small tear
For the long awaited first day of school was now here!

Happy first day of school to all... and to all a great first day!

The Poetry Circuit Peter B. Howarth, 2024-09-17 Live performance has changed poetry more than anything else in the last hundred years it has given poets new audiences and a new economy and it has generated new styles from Imagism to confessional to contemporary Spoken Word But the creative impact that public reading had right through the twentieth century has not been well understood Mixing close listening to archive performances with intimate histories of modernist venues and promoters The Poetry Circuit tells the story of how poets met their audience again and how the feedback loops between their voices the venues and the occasions turned poems into running dramas between poet and listener A nervous T S Eliot reveals himself to be anything but impersonal while Marianne Moore's accident prone readings become subtle ways of keeping her poems in constant re draft Robert Frost used his poems to spar with his fans and rivals while Langston Hughes wrote Ask Your Mama to expose the prejudice circulating in the room as he spoke it The Poetry Circuit also shows how the post war reading boom made new kinds of poetry involving their audience and setting in the performance such as John Ashbery's anti-charismatic Poets Theatre Amiri Baraka's documentary soundtracks of the streets or the confessional readings of Allen Ginsberg which shame the listeners more than the poet Covering the first seventy years of the poetry reading The Poetry Circuit demonstrates that there never were page and stage poets the reading simply changed what every modern poet could do
