Remaking Radicalism Dan Berger,Emily K. Hobson,2020-10 This book brings together documents from multiple radical movements in the recent United States from 1973 through 2001 These years are typically viewed as an era of neoliberalism dominated by conservative retrenchment the intensified programs of privatization and incarceration dramatic cuts to social welfare and the undermining of labor antiracist and feminist advances Yet activists from the period proved tenacious in the face of upheaval resourceful in creating new tactics and dedicated to learning from one another Persistent and resolute activists did more than just keep radical legacies alive They remade radicalism bridging differences of identity and ideology often assumed to cleave movements grappling with the eradication of liberal promises and turning to movement cultures as the source of a just future Remaking Radicalism is the first anthology of U S radicalisms that reveals the depth diversity and staying power of social movements after the close of the long 1960s Editors Dan Berger and Emily Hobson track the history of popular struggles during a time that spans the presidencies of Richard Nixon and George W Bush and bring to readers the political upheavals that shaped the end of the century and that continue to define the present When States Fail Robert I. OUR UNFINISHED BUSINESS Phillip Berryman, 2013-02-20 What human ends are served by our economic policies To whom is what owed in our country today Is there an acceptable argument for just wars or for the proliferation of nuclear weapons In the final years of the Reagan era The U S Catholic bishops emerged as articulate sources of dissenting wisdom publicly testing our foreign and domestic policies against the principles of morality and humanity With the same succinct style of Liberation Theology Phillip Berryman analyzes two recent and widely circulated texts the 1982 Challenge of Peace on nuclear arms and the 1986 Economic Justice For All Drawing on debate in and beyond church circles over these letters Berryman argues that as we search for acceptable answers to urgent political questions we must use ethical and moral traditions if we are to confront them squarely Only then can we promote peace and prosperity for all

The Nutmeg's Curse Amitav Ghosh, 2021-10-14 The author of The Great Derangement finds the origins of our climate crisis in Western colonialism's violent exploitation of human life and the environment A powerful work of history essay testimony and polemic Amitav Ghosh's new book traces our contemporary planetary crisis back to the discovery of the New World and the sea route to the Indian Ocean The Nutmeg's Curse argues that the dynamics of climate change today are rooted in a centuries old geopolitical order constructed by Western colonialism At the center of Ghosh's narrative is the now ubiquitous spice nutmeg The history of the nutmeg is one of conquest and exploitation of both human life and the natural environment In Ghosh's hands the story of the nutmeg becomes a parable for our environmental crisis revealing the ways human history has always been entangled with earthly materials such as spices tea sugarcane opium and fossil fuels Our crisis he shows is ultimately the result of a mechanistic view of the earth where nature exists only as a resource for humans to use for our own ends rather than a force of its own full of agency and meaning Writing against the backdrop of the global pandemic and the Black Lives Matter protests Ghosh frames these historical stories in a way that connects our shared colonial histories with the deep inequality we see around us today By interweaving discussions on everything from the global history of the oil trade to the migrant crisis and the animist spirituality of Indigenous communities around the world The Nutmeg's Curse offers a sharp critique of Western society and speaks to the profoundly remarkable ways in which human history is shaped by non human forces

Otherworldly Mothering Marika Ceschia, 2024-08-09 Otherworldly Mothering argues that literary works by Toni Morrison Gloria Naylor Paule Marshall Audre Lorde and Toni Cade Bambara reimagine subjectivity in processual and relational terms through a rewriting of maternal praxis a technique that unveils the historical continuities between antebellum and neoliberal America By refiguring materials drawn from the tradition of slave narratives Black women's literature of the 1970s and 1980s often conjures maternal otherworlds where it is possible to engage alternative modes of being In conversation with the work of Hortense Spillers Sylvia Wynter and Saidiya Hartman Marika Ceschia analyzes how Black women writers find in the maternal a means of creatively reenvisioning the figure of the human Morrison's Song of Solomon Naylor's Linden Hills Marshall's Praisesong for the Widow Lorde's Zami and Bambara's The Salt Eaters each change the strictures that dictate how the human is performed As these texts show maternal praxis can have a transformative ontological effect confronting the toll exerted by centuries of racial violence these writers reclaim the maternal as a site of subject formation Otherworldly Mothering reassesses canonical works of twentieth century Black women's literature alongside theoretical debates around the ontology of the human antiblackness and Black motherhood Ceschia proposes a reappraisal of maternal praxis that challenges neoliberal discourse and questions recent critical turns toward Afropessimism and posthumanism
