The Destructive Achiever Charles M. Kelly, 1990-09-30 3Destructive Achievers<sup>2</sup> are managers who sacrifice ethics to efficiency and personal success They are far more successful at projecting an image of power and authority to top management than in communicating integrity and commitment to their peers and subordinates Kelly analyzes the unintended negative consequences of common management practices such as Performance Appraisal and Management by Objectives Managers are focused on short term results and their own personal power instead of on organizational effectiveness and the benefit of the group We should begin to substitute group problem solving and supportive confrontation for the power politics that increasingly constitutes business as usual in today's organization Destructive Achievers Charles M Kelly, 1988-01-21

Values, Nature, and Culture in the American Corporation William C. Frederick, 1995-09-21 In Values Nature and Culture in the American Corporation distinguished ethicist William Frederick explores issues of fundamental importance to all who aspire to conduct their business affairs ethically He begins with an examination of the three value systems in business that are basically incompatible and therefore in constant tension The first is the need for managers to efficiently allocate resources for maximum profits The second is the natural tendency for managers in pursuit of the first goal to accumulate power for its own sake The third is the desire for people in the community to create relationships that will perpetuate these communities Frederick brings in a range of ideas and concepts from the social sciences as well as the natural sciences to illuminate his discussion In the final section of the book he explores a range of issues of current concern to managers including corporate culture and technology A Companion to Business Ethics Robert E. Frederick, 2008-04-15 In a series of articles specifically commissioned for this volume some of today's most distinguished business ethicists survey the main areas of interest and concern in the field of business ethics Sections of the book cover topics such as the often easy relation between business ethics and capitalism the link between business ethics and ethical theory how ethics applies to specific problems in the business world the connection between business ethics and related academic disciplines and the practice of business ethics in modern corporations Includes extensive accessible discussion of all of the main areas of interest and debate in business ethics Features all original contributions by distinguished authors in business ethics Includes an annotated table of contents bibliographies of the relevant literature and a list of internet sources of material on business ethics Perfect comprehensive book for use in business ethics courses Ready, Set, Practice Bruce G. Sharky, 1994-09-28 Ready Set Practice A SUPERB STUDENT TEXT AN INDISPENSABLE TOOL OF THE TRADE FOR YOUNG PROFESSIONALS The only single source reference covering all essential areas of professional practice Ready Set Practice is a comprehensive textbook for professional practice courses required by accredited landscape architecture degree programs At the same time it is also a superb guide to professional literacy and a career planner for young professionals Based on the author's considerable professional and academic experience as well as his extensive survey of more than sixty landscape architecture degree programs in the U S and Canada it covers all topics deemed indispensable to a course dedicated to preparing students for the real world including Preparing for the LARE Legal and contractual issues Marketing your professional services Technical specifications Project management Starting and managing your own firm Getting the competitive edge And much more

The Persuasive Preacher David A. Christensen, 2020-07-16 How can we preach persuasively without huckstering manipulating or coercing people Sadly we are seeing the fall of many pastors not for reasons of sexual immorality but the pursuit of pride and power The skillful use of marketing methods creates celebrity pastors who become significant influencers in the evangelical church The lure of success is seductive turning pastors into hucksters and Christians into consumers We need to heed the warnings of the New Testament about the pride of rhetoric and the pursuit of power David Christensen carefully analyzes the biblical warnings of Paul about the temptations of rhetorical sophistry in the first century church and applies them to pastoral ministry today God calls preachers to be ethical and effective persuaders David develops an ethical grid for pastoral persuasion using principles drawn from the Bible and social science along with practical illustrations from his years of ministry He calls preachers to be ethical and effective persuaders by emphasizing the centrality of the word of God while depending on the power of the Spirit of God
