Women and Religion in the Ancient Near East and Asia Nicole Maria Brisch, Fumi Karahashi, 2023-04-03 The recent years have seen an upswing in studies of women in the ancient Near East and related areas This volume which is the result of a Danish Japanese collaboration seeks to highlight women as actors within the sphere of the religious In ancient Mesopotamia and other ancient civilizations religious beliefs and practices permeated all aspects of society and for this reason it is not possible to completely dissociate religion from politics economy or literature Thus the goal is to shift the perspective by highlighting the different ways in which the agency of women can be traced in the historical and archaeological record This perspectival shift can be seen in studies of elite women who actively contributed to religious gift giving or participated in temple economies or through showing the limits of elite women's agency in relation to diplomatic marriages Additionally several contributions examine the roles of women as religious officials and the language worship or invocation of goddesses This volume does not aim at completeness but seeks to highlight points for further research and new perspectives
