trans localism as each has redefined the US and the world more generally This collection shows how the remapping of America in terms of global networks and as a set of particular localities or even glocalities now plays out in Americanist scholarship reflecting on the critical consequences of the spatial turn in American literary and cultural studies Spanning twentieth and twenty first century American poetry fiction memoir visual art publishing and television and locating the US in Caribbean African Asian European and other contexts this volume argues for a re modelling of American ness with the transnational as part of its innate rhetoric It includes discussions of travel migration disease media globalization and countless other examples of inflowing Essays focus on subjects tracing the contemporary contours of the transnational such as the role of the US in the rise of the global novel the impact of Caribbean history on American thought and vice versa transatlantic cultural and philosophical genealogies and correspondences and the exchanges between the poetics of American space and those of other world spaces Asking questions about the way the American eye has traversed and consumed the objects and cultures of the world but how that world is resistant this volume will make an important contribution to American and Transatlantic literary studies

Universal (In the Realm of the Sensible) Dorothea Olkowski,2007-03-02 The Universal In the realm of the sensible Beyond Continental Philosophy proposes a radical new philosophical system that moves from ontology to ethics Dorothea Olkowski develops the concept of an ontological unconscious a connection arising from our sensible relation to the world that conditions encounters with the environment and with others This fundamental ontology rethinks the space time relations opened by Irigaray s notion of the interval Bergson s recollection Merleau Ponty s idea of the flesh and Deleuze s plane of immanence Writing in an original style inspired by literature and the arts Olkowski locates a realm of the senses a field of vulnerability felt as pleasures and pains This presents an aesthetic sense of something universal to all human kind as well as to the organic and inorganic world In addition to this proposal for a wider ontology the relation between traditional ontologies and politics is examined as a means of opening politics beyond a no exit or limit cycle Instead a multiplicity of self organized emergent perspectives emerges eliminating the need for the connections conjunctions and disjunctions of the Kantian paradigm at work in contemporary continental philosophy This is a timely controversial and important book that will contribute enormously to the study of Deleuze and Continental Philosophy
