Migrant Revolutions Valerie Kaussen, 2008-01-01 Migrant Revolutions Haitian Literature Globalization and U S Imperialism interprets Haitian literature in a transnational context of anti colonial and anti globalization politics Positing a materialist and historicized account of Haitian literary modernity it traces the themes of slavery labor migration diaspora and revolution in works by Jacques Roumain Marie Chauvet Edwidge Danticat and others Author Valerie Kaussen argues that the sociocultural effects of U S imperialism have renewed and expanded the relevance of the universal political ideals that informed Haiti's eighteenth century slave revolt and war of decolonization Finally Migrant Revolutions defines Haitian literary modernity as located at the forefront of the struggles against transnational empire and global colonialism

Ecology, Spirituality, and Cosmology in Edwidge Danticat Joyce White, 2022-10-28 Ecology Spirituality and Cosmology in Edwidge Danticat Crossroads as Ritual employs nature literary tradition and the cosmogram to examine Danticat's fiction as textual sites imbued with ritual and conducive for healing and clarifying Africana diasporic consciousness The Bloomsbury Handbook to Edwidge Danticat Jana Evans Braziel, Nadège T. Clitandre, 2021-01-28 Edwidge Danticat's prolific body of work has established her as one of the most important voices in 21st century literary culture. Across such novels as Breath Eyes Memory, Farming the Bones and short story collections such as Krik Krak and most recently Everything Inside, essays and writing for children, the Haitian American writer has throughout her oeuvre tackled important contemporary themes including racism, imperialism, anti-immigrant politics and sexual violence. With chapters written by leading and emerging international scholars, this is the most up to date and in depth reference guide to 21st century scholarship on Edwidge Danticat's work. The Bloomsbury Handbook to Edwidge Danticat covers such topics as: The full range of Danticat's writing from her novels and short stories to essays, life writing and writing for children and young adults; Major interdisciplinary scholarly perspectives including from establishing fields: fields of literary studies, Caribbean Studies, Political Science, Latin American Studies, feminist and gender studies, African Diaspora Studies and emerging fields such as Environmental Studies; Danticat's literary sources and influences from Haitian authors such as Marie Chauvet, Jacques Roumain and Jacques St. phen Alexis to African American authors like Zora Neale Hurston, Toni Morrison and Caribbean American writers Audre Lorde to Paule Marshall. Known and unknown historical moments in experiences of slavery and imperialism, the consequence of internal and external migration and the formation of diasporic communities. The book also includes a comprehensive bibliography of Danticat's work and key works of secondary criticism and an interview with the author as well as and essays by Danticat herself Notions of Identity, Diaspora, and Gender in Caribbean Women's Writing B. Mehta, 2009-09-14 Notions of Identity, Diaspora, and Gender in Caribbean Women's Writing uses a unique four dimensional lens to frame questions of diaspora and gender in the writings of women from Martinique, Guadeloupe and Haiti. These divergent and interconnected perspectives include violence, trauma, resistance and expanded notions of Caribbean identity. In these writings, diaspora represents both a wound created by slavery and Indian indenture and the discursive praxis of defining new identities and cultural possibilities. These framings of identity provide inclusive and complex readings of transcultural Caribbean diasporas especially in terms of gender and minority cultures Tropical Apocalypse Martin Munro, 2015-08-06 In Tropical Apocalypse, Martin Munro argues that since the earliest days of European colonization, Caribbean and especially Haitian history has been shaped by apocalyptic events so that the region has in effect been living for centuries in an end time without end. By engaging with the contemporary apocalyptic turn in Caribbean studies and lived reality, he not only provides important historical contextualization for a general understanding of apocalypse in the region but also offers an account of the state of Haitian society and culture in the decades before the 2010 earthquake. Inherently interdisciplinary, his work ranges widely through Caribbean and Haitian thought, historiography, political discourse, literature, film, religion and ecocriticism in its exploration of whether culture in these various forms can shape the future of a country. The author begins by situating the question of the Caribbean apocalypse in relation to broader global narratives of the apocalyptic present notably Slavoj Žižek's Living in the End Times Tracing the evolution of apocalyptic thought in Caribbean literature from Negritude up to the present he notes the changes from the early work of Aimé Césaire through an anti-apocalyptic period in which writers such as Frantz Fanon, Antonio Benítez Rojo, Édouard Glissant and Michael Dash have placed more emphasis on lived experience and the interrelatedness of cultures and societies to a contemporary stage in which versions of the apocalyptic reappear in the work of David Scott and Mark Anderson

Gendered Violence and Human Rights in Black World Literature and Film Naomi Nkealah, Obioma Nnaemeka, 2021-03-29 This book investigates how the intersection between gendered violence and human rights is depicted and engaged with in African literature and films The rich and multifarious range of film and literature emanating from Africa and the diaspora provides a fascinating lens through which we can understand the complex consequences of gendered violence on the lives of women, children and minorities Contributors to this volume examine the many ways in which gendered violence mirrors, expresses, projects and articulates the larger phenomenon of human rights violations in Africa and the African diaspora and how in turn the discourse of human rights informs the ways in which we articulate, interrogate, conceptualise and interpret gendered violence in literature and film The book also shines a light on the linguistic contradictions and ambiguities in the articulation of gendered violence in private spaces and war This book will be essential reading for scholars, critics, feminists, teachers and students seeking solid grounding in exploring gendered violence and human rights in theory and practice

Transnational Narratives from the Caribbean Elvira Pulitano, 2016-03-10 This book offers a timely intervention in current debates on diaspora and diasporic identity by affirming the importance of narrative as a discursive mode to understand the human face of contemporary migrations and dislocations Focusing on the Caribbean double diaspora Pulitano offers a close reading of a range of popular works by four well-known writers currently living in the United States: Jamaica Kincaid, Michelle Cliff, Edwidge Danticat and Caryl Phillips Navigating the map of fictional characters, testimonial accounts and autobiographical experiences Pulitano draws attention to the lived experience of contemporary diasporic formations The book offers a provocative rethinking of socio-scientific analyses of diaspora by discussing the embodied experience of contemporary diasporic communities drawing on disciplines such as Caribbean Postcolonial Diaspora and Indigenous Studies along with theories on border thinking and coloniality/modernity Contesting restrictive national and linguistic boundaries when discussing literature originating from the Caribbean Pulitano situates the transnational location of Caribbean-born writers within current debates of Transnational American Studies and investigates the role of immigrant writers in discourses of race, ethnicity, citizenship and belonging Exploring the multifarious intersections between home, exile, migration and displacement the book makes a significant contribution to memory and trauma studies, human rights debates and international law aiming at a wide range of scholars and specialized agents beyond the strictly literary circle This volume affirms the humanity of personal stories and experiences against the invisibility of immigrant subjects in most theoretical accounts of diaspora and

Andrew I. Cohen, Kathryn McClymond, 2023-08-11 This book brings together leading interdisciplinary scholars to broaden and deepen the conversation about moral injury In the original chapters the contributors present new research to show how the humanities are crucial for understanding the expressions meaning and significance of moral injury Moral injury is the disorientation we suffer when we are complicit in some moral transgression Most existing works address moral injury from a clinical or neuroscientific perspective The chapters in this volume show how the humanities are crucial for understanding the meaning and significance of moral injury as well as suggesting how to grapple with its lived challenges The chapters address the conceptual sociological historical and ritualistic dimensions of moral injury across three thematic sections Section 1 explores how tools of the humanities provide new lenses for understanding conceptual and genealogical themes about moral injury Section 2 highlights the experiences of moral injury in combat soldiers law enforcement and noncombatants such as photojournalists These chapters examine the power and limits to theorizing moral phenomena by appeals to lived experience Section 3 considers how humanistic inquiry illuminates important dimensions of the aftermath of moral injury beyond the scope of clinical research These chapters consider how ritual relationship repair and atonement might shape the ways people navigate moral injury and consider how such responses shape our understanding of what we owe to one another Moral Injury and the Humanities Interdisciplinary Perspectives is an essential resource for researchers and advanced students in philosophy religious studies literature journalism and the arts who are interested in moral injury

Transnational Negotiations in Caribbean Diasporic Literature Kezia Page, 2010-09-13 Taking an interdisciplinary approach Page casts light on the role of citizenship immigration and transnational mobility in Caribbean migrant and diaspora fiction Page's historical socio cultural study responds to the general trend in migration discourse that presents the Caribbean experience as unidirectional and uniform across the geographical spaces of home and diaspora She argues that engaging the Caribbean diaspora and the massive waves of migration from the region that have punctuated its history involves not only understanding communities in host countries and the conflicted identities of second generation subjectivities but also interpreting how these communities interrelate with and affect communities at home In particular Page examines two socio economic and political practices remittance and deportation exploring how they function as tropes in migrant literature and as ways of theorizing such literature
