That Kiss From Heaven Fell On My Heart C. Nicole Treadwell, 2009-03-16 Nicole Treadwell has a secret. If she reveals it, she will surely die. Of course she knows it's true because certain death is what he promised her after the incident in the deep woods years ago. Her fate ever in his hands, keeping the secret guts her on the inside as she struggles to make ends meet, serving as a law clerk to a dangerously ambitious judge in the Nation's Capitol with secrets of her own. Nicole is tired, exhausted, toying with thoughts she's afraid to own of letting life go. Her life is unraveling, her sound mind frayed. At the end of herself, she knows she can't save herself, but who can? Worse, does she want to be saved? A swift reply to both questions comes in the way of a still, small voice at an unlikely time that ushers her onto a path few dare to tread or openly discuss. In contrast, Nicole's former law school chum and classmate Timothy Grue is a hotshot private attorney who blazes notorious trails in and out of the courtroom. Both handsome and brash, owing to his kinship with privilege and social standing of a fine Philadelphia family, he seems to have the world on a string, every creature comfort easily within his reach, including an overabundance of company from the fairer sex. Despite his privilege and pedigree, Tim later learns that it came at a very high price. By a stroke of legal fortune or misfortune, their paths collide professionally as Tim is handpicked to represent an A-List Hollywood client in a lawsuit over which Nicole's boss is the presiding judge. Not so secretly, the judge relishes the prospect of having her fifteen seconds of fame before the world press. Her staff knows that the attention from the paparazzi may prove to be her professional undoing and theirs. Her job potentially on the line, Nicole contacts Tim Grue for a clandestine meeting of the minds, but will Tim take the bait and sign on to Nicole's harmless solution? Their former friendship, on course to self-ignite or implode, sets in motion a chain of events that blast open the door to Nicole's secret past and their bitter-sweet history, and where crises of identity, spirituality, and morality intersect, conflicting issues of race and class deepen already murky waters as Nicole is black and Timothy is white. Yet as between the two, they want to know why race is still an issue at all. On the road from hell to higher ground, both learn that anything worth having is always tried by fires of a faith that asks simply, what do you really believe? And more can redemption ever come too late.

You're the First One I've Told Kathryn Whetten, Kathryn Whetten-Goldstein, Trang Quyen Nguyen, 2002 In the second wave of the HIV epidemic, those with the disease are more likely than ever to be female, younger, heterosexual, a racial minority, and rural living. Vital to the development of user-friendly health care systems is an understanding of the vastly different lives of this second wave of HIV-infected persons. You're the First One I've Told offers a view into the lives of men and women infected with HIV. The experiences of twenty-five people living with this disease in rural eastern North Carolina serve as the foundation of this book which also draws upon unique HIV AIDS survey data collected by the authors and statistics from the Southeastern United States This combination of qualitative and quantitative information provides readers with a vivid description of how people live with HIV AIDS in the midst of their often traumatic lives and why they manage their illness in ways that seem to contradict mainstream medical and social wisdom The people interviewed represent a variety of races genders professions family lives and medical and social service access and utilization This book is the first to address a history of racism distrust of formalized medical systems homophobia trauma and their interplay with HIV treatment particularly in the South It is an indispensable read for students needing to understand health care for the disenfranchised as well as any provider policymaker or researcher involved in HIV service provision Cinema Her Way
