The Biology of Human Behavior Thomas Rowland,2020-01-17 Why do human beings behave the way they do What governs how they act out their daily lives It is not difficult to provide the traditional argument that it s largely a matter of the culture in which we live a product of the influences of family peers teachers religious leaders the movies we see the books we read and so forth Such behavior often contradicts the independent nature of the human spirit demanding a certain compromise we depend on others for our needs and to obtain these we must behave accordingly Evidence grows however that in addition much of our behavior has its roots in biological processes Such information indicates that whether we like to accept it or not our conduct is often governed by biochemical agents within in the brain an expression of our animalistic ancestral past governed by our genetic inheritance and all beyond the level of our conscious decision making This book addresses a series of such behaviors love jealousy travel suicide etc and examines new found perspectives that speak to a biological component in explaining just why we behave as we do Certainly such scientific insights are limited and currently provide only a narrow insight into human behavior However this information clearly forecasts the coming of a greater appreciation that as members of the animal kingdom we remain biological beings as well as members of a cooperative society

,1996 Reframing Common Discourse Bryant Griffith,2010-01-01 We live immersed in what appears to be a paradox between coherence and complexity It is the gap between the modern presuppositions we largely live by and the emerging presuppositions we are testing which makes this seem chaotic It is the pull of the individual and the collective and their multi layered discourses Your role as a teacher as the one who crafts the magic of knowing is to be the auteur the author the director the conductor who understands where the students are situated and inspires them to levels of understanding where they become the experts You need to be the listener and the one to guide constructively the path which knits emerging personal meaning with understanding and shared knowledge The outcome will be a text which you have never read a piece of music you have never heard and a portrait you have never seen This is the collective voice of common discourse and it is limitless The groundwork for a common discourse I suggest lies in as ifing making meaning of a series of multiple possibilities Each of us has been brought up in a society with a set of relative presuppositions about the way things work and what things mean We can acknowledge different voices by thinking of them as a series of small cautionary tales related to us and by us about the way things might be Aging, Nutrition and Taste Jacqueline B.
