Vintage Games 2.0 Matt Barton, 2019-05-08 Super Mario Bros Doom Minecraft It's hard to imagine what life would be like today without video games a creative industry that now towers over Hollywood in terms of both financial and cultural impact The video game industry caters to everyone with games in every genre for every conceivable electronic device from dedicated PC gaming rigs and consoles to handhelds mobile phones and tablets Successful games are produced by mega corporations independent studios and even lone developers working with nothing but free tools Some may still believe that video games are mere diversions for children but today's games offer sophisticated and wondrously immersive experiences that no other media can hope to match Vintage Games 2.0 tells the story of the ultimate storytelling medium from early examples such as Spacewar and Pong to the mind blowing console and PC titles of today Written in a smart and engaging style this updated 2nd edition is far more than just a survey of the classics Informed by hundreds of in depth personal interviews with designers publishers marketers and artists not to mention the author's own lifelong experience as a gamer Vintage Games 2.0 uncovers the remarkable feats of intellectual genius but also the inspiring personal struggles of the world's most brilliant and celebrated game designers figures like Shigeru Miyamoto Will Wright and Roberta Williams Ideal for both beginners and professionals Vintage Games 2.0 offers an entertaining and inspiring account of video game's history and meteoric rise from niche market to global phenomenon Credit for the cover belongs to Thor Thorvaldson

Learning and Practice Patricia Murphy, Kathy Hall, 2008-07-18 By examining ideas about learning that transcend typical boundaries such as school workplace or home school this book emphasises the socially negotiated and embedded nature of meaning making and how learners learn to use the cognitive tools of their cultural community through participation in social activity The editors argue that this is the means by which individual agency is extended and learners' identities as forms of competency are transformed The book locates sociocultural understanding in a wide theoretical frame and demonstrates its implications for learning and assessment generally covering a range of educational and workplace settings The contributions challenge ways of understanding learning and thinking about practice both teaching and assessment Drawing on the international literature this book is essential reading for students of curriculum learning and assessment in all sectors from pre primary to further and higher education It is suitable as a core text for masters and taught doctorate programmes It will be of interest to a range of professionals involved with curriculum learning and the practice of teaching and assessment It is also relevant to those in work based and professional education and training and informal educational settings A unique collection in a field that is underrepresented it will also be of interest to an academic audience

African American Males and Video Games Kenneth Jones, 2025-03-20 African American males are confronted with formidable barriers in their pursuit of quality education resulting in stark disparities in academic performance economic opportunities and social outcomes Despite numerous educational initiatives striving for parity African American males persistently bear the brunt of the highest rates of suspensions expulsions and dropout rates surpassing all other demographic groups Educational environments often fail to acknowledge and integrate the cultural and social needs of Black males viewing them as problems rather than recognizing their immense potential for academic and leadership success The prevalence of negative stereotypes in media particularly in video games exacerbates societal biases portraying African American males as inherently violent and criminal These representations contribute to implicit biases that affect perceptions and treatment in real life scenarios The systemic issues within the education system coupled with socioeconomic factors result in African American males being underrepresented in advanced placement and gifted education programs This underrepresentation limits their opportunities for higher education and professional advancement Confronting these challenges necessitates a comprehensive approach that encompasses the creation of inclusive educational environments the eradication of systemic racism and the promotion of positive representations of African American males in media By acknowledging and fostering the potential of Black males society can strive to reduce disparities and cultivate a more equitable and just education system that recognizes and celebrates their academic and professional achievements

African American Males and Video Games explores the perspectives of four African American male college students aged 18 to 21 on the impact of video games on their academic growth and development The participants all maintaining a GPA of 3.0 or higher shared their experiences with teachers video games and coping mechanisms This qualitative approach allowed for a rich understanding of the participant s experiences and the role of video games in their academic and mental well being Video games emerged as a significant coping tool for the participants providing a mental escape from academic and social pressures The games allowed them to engage in competitive and creative activities fostering a sense of accomplishment and reducing stress For example games like NBA 2K21 and Forza Horizon 4 enabled them to explore alter egos and interests in a virtual space offering entertainment and a sense of community

African American Males and Video Games is a critical text for exploring alternatives in providing a quality education experience for young African American males It is vital reading for educators in all areas of higher education and a valuable teaching tool in Colleges of Education Perfect for courses such as Educational Psychology Sociology of Education African American Studies Media Studies Game Design Youth Development Digital Literacy Cultural Studies Educational Technology Social Psychology Gender Studies
