Labor Day weekend of 1972 journalist Jerry Bledsoe hooked up with the stock car racing circuit to begin research for his first book. The result of his efforts first published in 1975 has been called the classic work on stock car racing. Bledsoe captures the beginnings of the modern NASCAR era a time when legends like Richard Petty, David Pearson, Bobby Allison and the Wood brothers ruled. It was also a time when independent drivers like Wendell Scott, NASCAR's first African American driver and Larry Smith could build a car in their garages during the week and race on Sunday alongside King Richard. With levels of access impossible to achieve today, Bledsoe is not only in the pits and garages with the drivers but also is alongside their family driving to the next race in a van piled high with ice chests filled with sandwiches and fried chicken. He digs into the sport's rough and rowdy history and shines a light into its nooks and crannies uncovering the forgotten role that women drivers played in creating this most macho of motorsports. And then there are the fans. There's Red Robinson, the self-proclaimed World's Number One Stock Car Racing Fan who collects racing beauty queens the way some people collect stamps. And the fans camped out in the infield at Darlington, the biggest wildest whoopingest holleringest drinkingest gamblingest carousingest knock down fall out blowout held in the South. More than a book about racing, this is a close up look at a cultural phenomenon that illuminates America and the South. In 1965 Tom Wolfe called racer Junior Johnson the last American hero. The World's Number One All Time Great Stock Car Racing Book shows that a decade later there were still plenty of heroes circling the track with no signs of them disappearing anytime soon.

Bowling Green Stock Car Racing

Larry Upton, Jonathan Jeffrey, 2010. Bowling Green became the city of speed immediately after World War II as America began its love affair with the automobile. Stock car racing took the city by storm in its inaugural season of 1951 drawing crowds of up to 7,000 in a city of only 18,000. Soon thereafter the city attracted the Chevrolet Corvette assembly plant followed by the National Corvette Museum. Images of Sports: Bowling Green Stock Car Racing documents the history of stock car racing in Bowling Green and the emergence of the raceway at Beech Bend Park. Larry Upton is a bank executive in Gilbert, Arizona. He has written for the Journal of Commercial Bank Lending and the Journal of Arizona History. Jonathan Jeffrey, special collections librarian at Western Kentucky University's Kentucky Library has written a number of books about the city's heritage. Many of the images used in this book came from the collection of Marshall Love Jr.

A Delicious Country

Scott Huler, 2019-02-05. In 1700 a young man named John Lawson left London and landed in Charleston, South Carolina, hoping to make a name for himself. For reasons unknown, he soon undertook a two-month journey through the still mysterious Carolina backcountry. His travels yielded A New Voyage to Carolina in 1709, one of the most significant early American travel narratives rich with observations about the region's environment and Indigenous people. Lawson later helped found North Carolina's first two cities. Bath and New Bern became the colonial surveyor general, contributed specimens to what is now the British Museum, and was killed as the first casualty of the Tuscarora War. Yet despite his great contributions and remarkable history, Lawson is little remembered even in the Carolinas he documented. In 2014, Scott Huler made a surprising decision to leave home and family for his own journey by foot and canoe faithfully retracing Lawson's route through the Carolinas This is the chronicle of that unlikely voyage revealing what it's like to rediscover your own home Combining a traveler's curiosity a naturalist's keen observation and a writer's wit Huler draws our attention to people and places we might pass regularly but never really see What he finds are surprising parallels between Lawson's time and our own with the locals and their world poised along a knife edge of change between a past they can't forget and a future they can't quite envision LIFE
