Fear Falls Away Janice Emily Bowers, 2015-11-01 Jan Bowers lives in the right place A lover of nature and the outdoors an avid hiker and backpacker she is surrounded by mountain ridges peaks and canyons of almost every description In this book she invites us to come along and find out why some of these places are special why some of them stay in her mind long after she has returned to the workaday world of the city Readers have come to expect the best from this writer termed a rare talent uncommonly good at the craft by Wilderness magazine Her new book is filled with creeks and meadows tiny ferns and towering oaks bears and butterflies and Red tailed Hawks We see gray clouds clogging the sky in a canyon wildly almost tastelessly romantic as full of clouds as a tea kettle with steam and we startle a female grouse and her half dozen fuzzy chicks exploding from underfoot like billiard balls scattered with a cue stick Faced with the prospect of moving to another place Bowers finds herself thinking about the familiar world in new and unfamiliar ways Through her eyes too we see how an interest in nature and the outdoors developed from early childhood and how simple curiosity has led her to the most surprising discoveries At odd and unexpected moments her work also seems to bring new insights into herself and her life as a writer a wife and a mother These pages promise a new adventure at every turn in the trail For sheer terror there's a climb up the face of Baboquivari for laughs there's the great bagworm caper and for some quiet truths there are themes of gain and loss of connection and reconciliation Crunching through winter snow or sweating under summer sun we know we're in the hands of an experienced guide And we know we couldn't ask for a better companion

The Wild Out

Your Window Sy Montgomery, 2002-07-25 What could be better than watching the natural world out your window or on your television? Going out and experiencing it firsthand. In these fifty essays, acclaimed nature and science writer Sy Montgomery takes her readers on a season-by-season tour of the wilderness that is often as close as the backyard. Sy invites, almost dares, readers to follow her and form hands-on relationships with the plants, animals, birds, and even the insects that share space with people. These essays, most of which originally appeared in Sy's Boston Globe column Nature Journal, are by turns enlightening, entertaining, sometimes amusing, and always absorbing and informative. Filled with natural history and lore, the essays urge readers to appreciate what they find around them.
