Casey, 1990-05-01 Second edition first 1977 of a book offering practical guidelines and techniques for those wishing to effectively practice or develop this ancient skill Seventeen short stories by well known authors such as Mary Lavin Edna O'Brien and Julia O Faolain and new writers such as Clare Boylan Rita Kelly and Una Woods With an introduction by the editors that examines the role of women writers in Irish literature Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR A History of Modern Irish Women's Literature Heather Ingman, Cliona Ó Gallchoir, 2018-07-26 This book offers the first comprehensive survey of writing by women in Ireland from the seventeenth century to the present day It covers literature in all genres including poetry drama and fiction as well as life writing and unpublished writing and addresses work in both English and Irish The chapters are authored by leading experts in their field giving readers an introduction to cutting edge research on each period and topic Survey chapters give an essential historical overview and are complemented by a focus on selected topics such as the short story and key figures whose relationship to the narrative of Irish literary history is analysed and reconsidered Demonstrating the pioneering achievements of a huge number of many hitherto neglected writers A History of Modern Irish Women's Literature makes a critical intervention in Irish literary history Modernism in Irish Women's Contemporary Writing Paige Reynolds, 2024 This volume explores the relationship between contemporary Irish women writers and literary modernism Paige Reynolds examines how the work of Elizabeth Bowen Edna O'Brien Anne Enright and others employs the modernist mode to articulate female interiority as a way of thinking about contemporary social problems Women and Relationships in Contemporary Irish Women's Short Stories [PDF], 2021-07-01 This book examines archetypal motifs related to aspects of human relationships in contemporary Irish women's short stories from the late 1960s to the present. These relationships examined embrace not only relationships between men and women as married couples and lovers but also women to women relationships as mothers, daughters, sisters or lovers. This book has uncovered certain recurrent motifs which may be construed as archetypal and are employed as a narrative device to express a certain level of feminist awareness by Irish female writers in their stories against the backdrop of Irish feminism emerged in the late 1960s. This feminist aspect of Irish women's stories appears to address the paradoxes of patriarchal ideology underlying male domination in male female courtship and marriages, the conflict between patriarchally loyal mothers and rebellious daughters, powerless but rival female siblings and peers competing for limited resources and male attention under the Father's law. Motifs of resistance and subversion serve in these stories as metaphors unveiling female protests against an ideology which defines and confines women in the Irish patriarchal context. This book demonstrates a process of transition during which Irish female writers progress from the depiction of women who struggle and fight against unfairness and distortion within an androcentric culture to a new direction in which such writers describe a situation where women recognise the internalisation of the false consciousness of patriarchy and out of this recognition may be eventually able to develop further their sense of self and individuality. The archetypal motifs in Irish women's stories also illustrate a kind of continuity of an ancient female archetype of female rebellious powers which in female literary imagination never ceases to resurface in the face of patriarchal suppression.

Body Politics in Contemporary Irish Women's Fiction Ellen Scheible, 2024-12-12 Exploring twentieth and twenty-first century texts that wrestle with the Irish domestic interior as a sexualized and commodified space, this book provides readings of the power and authority of the feminized body in Ireland. Scheible dissects the ways that the woman as symbol remains consistent in Irish literary representations of national experience in Irish fiction and shows how this problematizes the role of women in Ireland by underscoring the oppression of sexuality and gender that characterized Irish culture during the twentieth century. Examining works by Elizabeth Bowen, Pamela Hinkson, Emma Donoghue, Tana French, Sally Rooney and James Joyce, this book demonstrates that the definition of Irish nationhood in our contemporary experience of capitalism and biopolitics is dependent on the intertwining and paradoxical tropes of a traditional yet equally sexual feminine identity which has been quelled by violence and reproduction.

Women and Exile in Contemporary Irish Fiction Ellen McWilliams, 2013-04-09 Women and Exile in Contemporary Irish Fiction examines how contemporary Irish authors have taken up the history of the Irish woman migrant. It situates these writers' work in relation to larger discourses of exile in the Irish literary tradition and examines how they engage with the complex history of Irish emigration.

The Cambridge Guide to Women's Writing in English Lorna Sage, 1999-09-30 This Guide aims to consolidate and epitomise the re-reading of women's writing that has gone on in the last twenty-five years. This is an opportunity for stock-taking a timely project when so much writing has been rediscovered reclaimed and republished There are entries on writers on individual texts and on general terms genres and movements all printed in a single alphabetical sequence The earliest written documents in medieval English the visionary writings of Julian of Norwich and Margery Kempe are covered in an historical and geographical sweep that takes us up to the present day The book reflects the spread of literacy the history of colonisation and the development of post colonial cultures using and changing the English language The entries are written by contributors from all the countries covered The result is a work of reference with a unique feeling for the vitality wealth and diversity of women s writing The Irish Short Story at the Turn of the Twenty-First Century Madalina

Armie,2022-12-30 In the mid 1990s Ireland was experiencing the best of times The Celtic Tiger seemed to instil in the national consciousness that poverty was a problem of the past The impressive economic performance ensured that the Republic occupied one of the top positions among the world s economic powers During the boom dissident voices continuously criticised what they considered to be a mirage identifying the precariousness of its structures and foretelling its eventual crash The 2008 recession proved them right Throughout this time the Irish contemporary short story expressed distrust Enabled by its capacity to reflect change with immediacy and dexterity the short story saw through the smokescreen created by the Celtic Tiger discourse of well being It reinterpreted and captured the worst and the best of the country and became a bridge connecting tradition and modernity The major objective of this book is to analyse the interactions between fiction and reality during this period in Ireland by studying the short stories written by old and emergent voices published between the birth of the Celtic Tiger in 1995 up to its immediate aftermath in 2013 Teaching the Short Story A.

Pelan,2005-06-27 The very different histories of the North and South are reflected in their literature While women in the Republic of Ireland have tended to write about social issuessexism crime unemployment and domestic violencewomen in Northern Ireland focused on their society s historical tension and primarily nationalist and unionist politics However Pelan maintains that feminist ideology has provided contemporary Irish women with an alternate political stance that incorporates gender and nationality ethnicity and allows them to move beyond the usual binaries of politics history and languageIrish and English In an analysis enriched by a sophisticated but accessible engagement with contemporary feminist and gender theory Pelan concludes that Irish women s writing whether at the community or mainstream levelNorth or Southconsistently articulates political issues of direct relevance to the lives of Irish women today As a result such work retains close links with the initial impetus of the second wave of feminism as a political movement and questions the legitimacy of long standing social religious and political conventions From within the framework provided by this second wave argues Pelan Irish women can critique certain masculine ideologiesnationalist unionist imperialist and capitalistwithout forfeiting their own sense of gender and national or ethnic identity The book s significance lies in its placement of women s writing in the center of contemporary political discourse in Ireland and in ensuring that the writing from this periodmuch of it long out of printcontinues to exist as sociological as well as literary records It will be of interest to a general and scholarly audience especially those in the fields of contemporary Irish writing feminism and literary history Post-Celtic Tiger Ireland and Contemporary Women's Writing Claire Bracken,Tara Harney-Mahajan,2021-05-09 Post Celtic Tiger Ireland and Contemporary Women s Writing Feminist Interventions and Imaginings analyzes and explores women s writing of the post Tiger period and reflects on the social cultural and economic conditions of this writing s production The Post Celtic Tiger period 2008 in Ireland marks an important moment in the history of women s writing It is a time of increased visibility and publication dynamic feminist activism and collective projects as well as a significant garnering of public recognition to a degree that has never been seen before The collection is framed by interviews with Claire Kilroy and Melatu Uche Okorie two leading figures in the field and closes with Okorie s landmark short story on Direct Provision This Hostel Life The book features the work of leading scholars in the field of contemporary literature with essays on Anu Productions Emma Donoghue Grace Dyas Anne Enright Rita Ann Higgins Marian Keyes Claire Kilroy Eimear McBride Rosaleen McDonagh Belinda McKeon Melatu Uche Okorie Louise O Neill and Waking The Feminists Reflecting on all the successes and achievements of women s writing in the contemporary period this book also considers marginalization and exclusions in the field especially considering the politics of race class gender sexuality ethnicity nationality and ability The chapters in this book were originally published in the journal LIT Literature Interpretation Theory Real Lace Stephen Birmingham,1997 Stephen Birmingham turns his eye to the great Irish Catholic dynasties of America violent colorful charming and charmed the Kennedys the Cuddihys Buckleys and Bradys and the California Silver Kings the Floods Fairs Mackays and O Briens Many of these families started with every disadvantage fleeing from the great Irish potato famine they arrived penniless in the slums of New York and Boston But from desperate poverty and degradation they rose to fame and fortune fueled by a powerful combination of driving energy native wit strong religion stronger drink and of course the luck of the Irish Remarkable characters warring families and fluctuating fortunes out of this rich material Birmingham has fashioned an extraordinary social history Folk Women and Indirection in Morrison, N Dhuibhne, Hurston, and Lavin Jacqueline Fulmer,2017-11-30 Focusing on the lineage of pivotal African American and Irish women writers the author argues that these authors often employ strategies of indirection via folkloric expression when exploring unpopular topics This strategy holds the attention of readers who would otherwise reject the subject matter The author traces the line of descent from Mary Lavin to il s N Dhuibhne and from Zora Neale Hurston to Toni Morrison showing how obstacles to free expression though varying from those Lavin and Hurston faced are still encountered by Morrison and N Dhuibhne The basis for comparing these authors lies in the strategies of indirection they use as influenced by folklore The folkloric characters these authors depict wild denizens of the Otherworld and wise women of various traditions help their creators insert controversy into fiction in ways that charm rather than alienate readers Forms of rhetorical indirection that appear in the context of folklore such as signifying practices masking sly civility and the grotesque or bizarre come out of the mouths and actions of these writers magical and magisterial characters Old traditions can offer new ways of discussing issues such as sexual expression religious beliefs or issues of reproduction As differences between times and cultures affect what can and cannot be said folkloric indirection may open up a vista to discourses of which we as readers may not even be aware Finally the folk women of Morrison N Dhuibhne Hurston and Lavin open up new points of entry to the discussion of fiction rhetoric censorship and folklore Finnegans Wake John Gordon,1986-12-01 This is the only full length study of Finnegans Wake to outline and catalog the immense amount of naturalistic detail from which Joyce built the book The opening chapters describe the physical setting time and main characters out of which the book is constructed John Gordon argues that behind this detail is an essentially autobiographical story involving Joyce s history and in particular his feelings toward his father wife daughter and the older brother who died in infancy Many of the author s findings are new and likely to be controversial because recent criticism has tended to the belief that what he attempts to do cannot be done This new study of Finnegans Wake represents a radically conservative approach and is intended to function both as a guide to the newcomer seeking a chapter by chapter plot summary and as an original contribution to Joyce criticism A List of Books on Modern Ireland in the Public Library of the City of Boston Boston Public Library,1921 The Modern Irish Sonnet Tara Guissin-Stubbs,2020-10-10 The Modern Irish Sonnet Revision and Rebellion discusses how and why the sonnet appeals to Irish poets and has grown in popularity over the last century Using a thematic approach Tara Guissin Stubbs argues for the significance of the Irish sonnet as a discrete entity within modern and contemporary poetry and shows how the Irish sonnet has become a debating chamber for discussions concerning the relationship between Irish and British culture poetry and gender and revision and rebellion The text reshapes the poetic and critical field exploring canonical and non canonical poems by male and female poets so as to challenge outmoded views of the thematic and formal limitations of the sonnet The Routledge Companion to Twenty-First-Century Irish Writing Anne Fogarty,Eugene O'Brien,2024-12-20 This Companion brings together leading scholars in the field of Irish studies to explore the significance of twenty first century Irish writing and its flourishing popularity worldwide Focusing on Irish writing published or performed in the twenty first century this volume explores genres modes and styles of writing that are current relevant and distinctive in today s classrooms Examining a host of innovative key writers including Sally Rooney Marion Keyes Sebastian Barry Paul Howard Claire Kilroy Micheal O Siadhail Donal Ryan Marina Carr Enda Walsh Martin McDonagh Colette Bryce Leanne Quinn Sin ad Morrissey Paula Meehan Ailbhe N Ghearbhuigh and Doireann Ni Ghr ofa This text investigates the sociocultural and theoretical contexts of their aesthetic achievements and innovations Furthermore The

Routledge Companion to Twenty First Century Irish Writing traces the expansion of Irish writing offering fresh insight to Irish identities across the boundaries of race class and gender With its distinctive contemporary focus and comprehensive scope this multifaceted volume provides the first significant literary history of twenty first century Irish literature Deirdre Madden Anne Fogarty, Marisol Morales-Ladrón, 2022-06-28 The Irish writer Deirdre Madden has written key novels about the Northern Irish Troubles and about contemporary Ireland In these works she weighs up the aftermath of violence and the impact of the shift to a more open but materialist society in the country overall Memory trauma and the abiding but elusive links between the past and the present are central concerns of her fiction This pioneering set of essays by leading experts in Irish Studies explores the many dimensions of her novels from a wide variety of perspectives Madden s skill at interweaving novels of ideas with artist novels that draw out the complex inner predicaments of her characters is highlighted States of dislocation are concentrated on in her texts but also the quest for a home in the world and a lasting set of values that allows for personal integrity and authenticity These multifaceted explorations bear out the compelling and enduring aspects of Madden s highly regarded novels
