Livingstone,D. G. Hart,Mark A. Noll,1999-04-08 In the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries evangelicals often took their place among prominent practicing scientists and their perspectives exerted a considerable impact on the development of modern western science Over the last century however evangelical scientists have become less visible even as the focus of evangelical engagement has shifted to political and cultural spheres Evangelicals and Science in Historical Perspective offers the first wide ranging survey of the history of the encounter between evangelical Protestantism and science. Comprising papers by leading historians of science and religion, this collection shows that the questions of science have been central to the history of evangelicalism in the United States as well as in Britain and Canada. It will be an invaluable resource for understanding the historical context of contemporary political squabbles such as the debate over the status of creation science and the teaching of evolution.

Story World and Photodramatist, 1923 Middle Unearthed: The Best Fantasy Short Stories 1800-1849 Charles Dickens, Washington Irving, Mary Shelley, John MacKay Wilson, Elizabeth Ellet, 2015-02-22 Before there were lovable hobbits and Game of Thrones and kid wizards named Harry Potter, there were the 10 best fantasy short stories published in English during the first half of the nineteenth century. These excellent stories have been uncovered by Andrew Barger, award-winning editor of The Best Horror Short Stories 1800-1849 and Blood Death: The Best Vampire Short Stories 1800-1849. In old magazines and forgotten journals, Andrew read well over 100 fantasy short stories and settled on the very best for this fantasy anthology. He provides a list at the back of the collection of the stories considered, along with the author and year of publication. Andrew further includes background introductions to each story and author photos where available. But his treatment of some of the earliest stories in the genre gets even better with annotations of the stories which allow readers to peek behind the stories. Middle Unearthed an Introduction Andrew Barger 1836 The Story of the Goblins Who Stole a Sexton Charles Dickens 1839 The Kelpie Rock Joseph Holt Ingraham 1831 Transformation Mary Shelley 1819 Rip Van Winkle Washington Irving 1824 Lilian of the Vale George Darley 1835 The Doom of Soulis John MacKay Wilson 1827 The Dwarf Nose Wilhelm Hauff 1829 Seddik Ben Saad the Magician D. Lance Bennett, Martha S. Feldman, 2014-03-13 Reconstructing Reality in the Courtroom explains what makes stories believable and how ordinary people connect complex legal arguments and evidence presented in trials to assess guilt and innocence. The explanation takes the core elements of narrative: the who, what, where, when, how, why, and shows how average people who hear hundreds of stories every day use the connections between these elements to assess credibility. A series of simple experiments outside the courtroom provides evidence for the explanation, showing that there is little relationship between the actual truth of a story and the degree to which the story is believed to be true by an audience of random listeners not familiar with the teller. So how do jurors make a particular legal judgment? Based on courtroom observation, trial transcripts, and credibility experiments, Bennett and Feldman create a method of diagramming stories that shows exactly what makes some stories more believable than others. Prosecutors and defense attorneys can use this method of analyzing stories to weigh the strategies and tactics available to them; scholars can use it to assess the process of legal judgment. Now in its Second Edition, this much-cited resource adds a new preface by the authors as well as new forewords.
