Social Foundations of Judaism Calvin Goldscheider, Jacob Neusner, 2004-10-14

Modernist Short Fiction by Women Claire Drewery, 2016-04-15 Taking on the neglected issue of the short story's relationship to literary Modernism Claire Drewery examines works by Katherine Mansfield Dorothy Richardson May Sinclair and Virginia Woolf Drewery argues that the short story as a genre is preoccupied with transgressing boundaries and thus offers an ideal platform from which to examine the Modernist fascination with the liminal Embodying both liberation and restriction liminal spaces on the one hand enable challenges to traditional cultural and personal identities while on the other hand they entail the inevitable negative consequences of occupying the position of the outsider marginality psychosis and death Mansfield Richardson Sinclair and Woolf all exploit this paradox in their short fiction which typically explores literal and psychological borderline states that are resistant to rational analysis Thus their short stories offered these authors an opportunity to represent the borders of unconsciousness and to articulate meaning while also conveying a sense of that which is unsayable Through their concern with liminality Drewery shows these writers contribute significantly to the Modernist aesthetic that interrogates identity the construction of the self and the relationship between the individual and society

Darwin, Divinity, And The Dance Of The Cosmos Bruce Sanguin, In March 2005 the United Nations released its Millennium Ecosystem Assessment Among the findings 2 3 of the world's ecosystems are seriously degraded 90 percent of the world's fish stocks are depleted and climate change is not just something that might happen it is already upon us Many people including many Christians will hear this and delude themselves into thinking that technology can and will save the day A wiser and more helpful response especially for Christians is to find a way to step back into the flow of nature from which we have extricated ourselves In Darwin Divinity and the Dance of the Cosmos Bruce Sanguin shows us the way Sanguin draws on the latest scientific understandings of the nature of the universe and weaves them together with biblical meta narratives and frequently overlooked strands of the Judeo Christian tradition to create an ecological and truly evolutionary Christian theology a feat few theologians have even attempted The importance of this accomplishment can hardly be overstated As Sanguin writes It's time for the Christian church to get with the cosmological program We need new wineskins for the new wine the Holy One is pouring out in the 21st century Twenty first century science has provided us with new a new story of creation that needs to inform our biblical stories of creation We now know for instance that we live in an evolving or evolutionary universe Evolution is the way that the Holy creates in space and in time in every sphere material biological social cultural psychological and spiritual This new cosmology simply cannot be contained by old models and images of God or by old ways of being the church As his starting point Sanguin encourages readers to rediscover awe an attitude very much absent from the modern mindset We don t see what is before us he writes and as a result we are plundering our planet at an unprecedented rate If we could see what is before our eyes day in and day out the sacred radiance of creation would drop us to our knees and render us speechless Central to this recovery of awe is the new Great Story the 14 billion year history of the cosmos Into this Great Story first told by Thomas Berry and by mathematical physicist and cosmologist Brian Swimme Sanguin reintroduces the presence God Headly as all this sounds it has very practical implications for the mission of the church Sanguin writes In the first centuries after Jesus death his disciples looked around at their world and found that what was needed by way of response to the crisis of their age was hospitals for the sick and food for the poor This is what compassion required of them Mission is determined by the context in which the church finds itself in each new age I am suggesting that today there is nothing more critical than a compassionate response to the plight of our planet The church must be at the forefront of shifting human consciousness away from an ethic of domination for economic gain and toward a spirituality of awe This book and more importantly the work of integration it suggests represents a fundamental challenge to our theological and liturgical models But for those who are ready and willing to embark on an exciting theological journey of discovery it also represents a rich opportunity to become reacquainted with the Spirit of God moving in and through the very dynamics of an unfolding universe

Sun,2018-07-13 What is union with Christ What role does this theme play in the Epistle to the Romans Does union with Christ have an Old Testament background or did Paul create the concept for his own theological purposes These questions will be answered in this exegetical study of Romans Special attention is given to Paul s use of Old Testament stories in relation to union with Christ It will be shown that Paul understands union with Christ to be the climax of the human story a story of creation and rebellion that includes all people regardless of ethnic or social background Those who believe in Jesus as the promised Messiah experience restoration as they move from union with Adam into union with Christ United to Christ the church finds unity in a new identity as a new people in Christ American Arabesque Jacob Rama Berman,2012-06-11

Part of the American Literatures Initiative Series American Arabesque examines representations of Arabs Islam and the Near East in nineteenth century American culture arguing that these representations play a significant role in the development of American national identity over the century revealing largely unexplored exchanges between these two cultural traditions that will alter how we understand them today Moving from the period of America s engagement in the Barbary Wars through the Holy Land travel mania in the years of Jacksonian expansion and into the writings of romantics such as Edgar Allen Poe the book argues that not only were Arabs and Muslims prominently featured in nineteenth century literature but that the differences writers established between figures such as Moors Bedouins Turks and Orientals provide proof of the transnational scope of domestic racial politics Drawing on both English and Arabic language sources Berman contends that the fluidity and instability of the term Arab as it appears in captivity narratives travel narratives imaginative literature and ethnic literature simultaneously instantiate and undermine definitions of the American nation and American citizenship
