Soft Skills for the New Journalist Colleen Steffen, 2019-03-01 Journalism is a pool staffed by distracted lifeguards and no matter how fancy your school is your first week in a real newsroom will feel like a shove in the small of the back into 15 feet of water Most of us come up for air eventually but if you're like journalist and educator Colleen Steffen you may still be left feeling like all that training in inverted pyramids and question lists left something important out you Journalism is people managing wrestling truth and story out of the messy confusing raw material that is a human being and the messiest human involved can often be the reporter themselves So it's time to talk about it Instead of nervously skirting the sizable EQ emotional intelligence portion of this IQ intelligence intelligence enterprise Soft Skills for the New Journalist explores how it FEELS to do this strange hard amazing job and how to use those feelings to better your work and yourself

Gender and Agriculture in Turkey Emine Erdogan, 2020-10-15 How have attempts to integrate Turkish agriculture into the global economy impacted rural populations This book reveals the extent to which the increasingly authoritarian political regime in Turkey and the neoliberal economy impacts minority ethnic groups and women The tomato industry in Turkey has the highest export rate amongst fresh and processed fruit and vegetables But Emine Erdogan shows here that global production is gendered relying on the labour of unpaid or poorly paid women and based on a system of what she calls intersectional patriarchy The book is based on participant observation and interviews to foreground the stories of the those involved in production including local rural workers Kurdish seasonal migrant workers women factory workers and factory managers as well as the landowning families This provides a detailed picture of the transformation of rural Turkey and the inequalities of gender class ethnicity and age A detailed ethnographic account the book is unique in providing an intersectional and feminist analysis on processes of capitalization

Teaching and Learning in History Ola Hallden, 2012-10-12 Research on history instruction and learning is emerging as an exciting new field of inquiry The editors prepared this volume because the field is at an important moment in its development a stage where there is research of sufficient depth and breadth to warrant a collection of representative pieces The field of research on history teaching and learning connects with both traditional research on social studies and with recent cognitive analyses of domains such as mathematics and physics However the newer research goes beyond these activities as well Where traditional research approaches to social studies instruction and learning have focused on curriculum they have avoided the study of purely disciplinary features the textual components of history and the concomitant demands as well as the nature of various learners Where recent cognitive analyses of mathematics and physics have dealt with misconceptions and knowledge construction they have avoided topics such as perspective taking interpretation and rhetorical layerings The new work by contrast has been concerned with these issues as well as the careful analyses of the nature of historical tasks and the nature of disciplinary and instructional explanations The lines of research presented in these chapters are both compelling and diverse and include a range of topical questions such as What affects the quality of teaching How are historical documents interpreted in the writing of history How is history explained What are the classroom demands on an elementary school social studies teacher What does text accomplish or fail to accomplish in educational settings How do teachers think about particular topics for history teaching Although much of the research reflects a grounding in or the influence of cognitive psychology not all of it derives from that tradition Traditions of rhetoric curriculum analysis and developmental psychology are also woven throughout the chapters The editors envision this volume as a contribution to educational research in a subject matter and as a tool for practitioners concerned with the improvement of instruction in history They also anticipate that it will contribute to cognitive science

Bridge Stories Susan Wilson-Shultz, 2014-04-08 Like a lot of people Susan didn't believe that she had a story worth sharing a story that would impact lives for Christ that is until that surprising day when God called her to write her testimony That day with fingers pressed upon the keys of her laptop Susan embarked on a journey that forever changed her life as well as the lives of others Over the course of a few years as Susan wrote God began to orchestrate the events of her life to paint a beautiful picture depicting how His people should live in preparation for His return and demonstrating His desire that we begin living lives that testify to Him In these pages you will find more than simply the words that describe Susans personal journey you will hear the Saviors voice You will hear the message that Jesus lovingly laid on her heart a message that speaks about how He longs for His ultimate wedding day to His Bride the Church and about how we should live in preparation for that day Just as a bridge once connected Jerusalem with the Temple Mount bringing people closer to the Temple where God resided these stories will lead you into a deeper relationship with the Lord They will help you to discover your own story for God created you to testify You are meant to be a bridge that leads others to Christ God wants to speak through you so let's get started finding your story     A Twin Set Terry Gooch Ross, 2023-01-10 Janet Westmore J to her friends lived the perfect life in the Eastern Sierra ski resort town of Mammoth Lakes Calif She had a solid reputation as a management consultant an ideal relationship with the man of her heart Ross and a beloved twin Mary happily married to Bob whom she frequently visited at their home in the San Francisco Bay area or in Mammoth It was on one of those trips that J's world shattered into pieces Bob and Mary's plane crashed as they were flying J back to Mammoth J woke up in a hospital room broken frightened and unsure of what had happened but comforted when she saw Mary sleeping in a chair next to her bed Every time she regained consciousness Mary was there But on the first day J was fully awake Mary had disappeared and a doctor told her she was the only survivor J knew that was a lie even when Ross tried to tell her of Mary and Bob's deaths But time and news stories finally convinced her and she resigned herself to a twin-less life Depression and anger at God consumed her until one day a simple piece of Godiva chocolate told her Mary and Bob were still with her Life changed after the reappearance of Mary and Bob in her life J's daily life including consulting assignments frequently turned into encounters with kidnappings extortion bombings and attempted murders At times Mary and Bob sent those with troubles to J without warning knowing she would take care of them Although out of her depth she tackled these challenges head on because Mary and Bob had her back even if sometimes it was at the very last minute J learned that when she was patient the same observation logic and objectivity skills required of a consultant were also good tools to pursue solutions to the problems she faced Unfortunately she sometimes found it challenging to keep her feelings out of the way placing her in some precarious situations In A Twin Set book 4 of Gooch Ross's High Sierra mystery series a routine assignment at Mammoth's new eco hotel Couloir places her smack in the middle of systematic defamation anonymous attacks and murder attempts While she seeks to uncover who is causing the mayhem Mary and Bob distract her more than help her and Ross decides he wants more from their relationship It's a mystery solved with plenty of food wine ingenuity and love

Eccentric Spaces Robert Harbison, 2000-02-28 The subject is the human imagination and the mysterious interplay between the imagination and the spaces it has made for itself to live in gardens rooms buildings streets museums and maps fictional topographies and architectures The book is a lesson in seeing and sensing the manifold forms created by the mind for its own pleasure Like all of Robert Harbison's works Eccentric Spaces is a hybrid informed by the author's interests in art architecture fiction poetry landscape geography history and philosophy The subject is the human imagination and the mysterious interplay between the imagination and the spaces it has made for itself to live in gardens rooms buildings streets museums and maps fictional topographies and architectures The book is a lesson in seeing and sensing the manifold forms created by the mind for its own pleasure Palaces and haunted houses Victorian parlors Renaissance sculpture gardens factories hill towns ruins cities even novels and paintings constructed around such environments these are the spaces over which the author broods Brilliantly learned deliberately remote in form from conventional scholarship Eccentric Spaces is a magical book an intellectual adventure a celebration Since its original publication in 1977 Eccentric Spaces has had a devoted readership Now it is available to be discovered by a new generation of readers

how to engage children with Shakespeare through story through the very best of early years practice and through his rich and sensual language It also illustrates how engagement with the plays and their language can have a dramatic impact on children s writing And because plays are for performing there is helpful and practical advice on how to develop the work and share it with the whole school parents and the wider community This accessible and comprehensive guide is ideal for teacher trainees and practising primary teachers everywhere

Content Matters Leif Fearn, Eric Fearn, 2013-06-26 A critical question in social studies education is not whether teachers develop and teach units of study but what is in the units of study teachers develop and teach Curricular planning and instruction must focus on what we teach in the social studies classroom It is not uncommon for students to experience fine units about the westward movement and exit the fifth grade with little or no geographic literacy Most students leave middle school grades unable to name even one person who made a difference in the history of Indian people in the United States After three to five years of history classes high school students routinely self report that history is boring And it is the rare middle school graduate who knows how to use a free enterprise economy for his or her benefit This book explains the content of nine areas in social studies If teachers know what history biographical studies and the United States Constitution mean for instruction they can increase the probability of better focused content in their social studies instruction

Living Beyond Belief Jaia Lee, 2008 What if all you ever really wanted to know was who you are and what you are doing here What if those questions just about drove you crazy What if you knew there was more to life What if one day you got an answer and life was never the same again Living Beyond Belief reveals one woman s discovery of a life she had never before imagined A world she came to discover seemingly quite by accident understanding perfectly well that there are no accidents Through personal experiences insights and poetry she shares her discovery of a new way of living and insights into what makes this alternative way of living possible for everyone If you find yourself reading this right now it is no accident Your soul is ready Ready to live a life beyond what it can even begin to imagine Your soul is ready The question is are you

Living Our Story Larry A. Golemon, 2010-12-31 Living Our Story explores how good narrative work the retrieval construction and performance of valued stories takes place in ministry Authors Larry A Golemon Lee Ramsey N Graham Standish Tim Shapiro Carol Johnson Mike Mather Niles Elliot Goldstein and Diana Butler Bass examine this question from a variety of perspectives including the role of the pastor or rabbi as narrative leader the sacred and mundane stories that shape congregational life and identity storytelling as a means of community building and story sharing as a practice of hospitality Through the stories they themselves tell these authors show how stories witness to God s presence in the unfolding of human life and how the best leaders craft stories that reveal how God is at work among the people and inspire them to become a part of this larger story

The Detective Novels of Agatha Christie James Zemboy, 2010-08-10 The most popular mystery writer of all time concocted a rich recipe of intrigue character and setting All of Agatha Christie s 66 detective novels are covered here in great detail Each chapter begins with general comments on a novel s geographical and historical setting identifying current events fashions fads and popular interests that relate to the story A concise plot summary and comprehensive character listing follow and each novel is discussed within Christie s overall body of work with an emphasis on the development of themes narrative technique and characters over the course of her prolific career An appendix translates Poirot s French and defines the British idiomatic words and phrases that give Christie s novels so much of their flavor
