Эдгар Аллан По,2022-01-29 The Tell Tale Heart is a short story by Edgar Allan Poe first published in 1843 It is told by an unnamed narrator who endeavors to convince the reader of his sanity while describing a murder he committed The victim was an old man with a filmy vulture eye as the narrator calls it The murder is carefully calculated and the murderer hides the body by dismembering it and hiding it under the floorboards Ultimately the narrator s guilt manifests itself in the form of the sound possibly hallucinatory of the old man's heart still beating under the floorboards My Autobiography the Prequel: Volume 1, the Conception of "thy Death Valley House" for Beatty, Nevada Martin J. Blahnik, MD, the Desert Doc, 2024-07-24

 This is the first of a three volume memoir in the author's provocative tell all journey to feature the artistic side of the human condition. As such, there are matters that go well beyond Dr. Blahnik's professional career as a physician and scientist. Yet they are the unbreakable rules of the Scientific Method that guide our deep understanding of the Darwinian evolution of the human mind, the DNA driven emergence of the psychotic mental illnesses and what we call human creativity. In this first volume, the lively narrative quickly connects us to the author's True Love for the American desert lands; indeed, the desert is his mistress in particular Death Valley National Park. Then the whimsical adventure travels to Europe to Paris and Berlin but also elsewhere along the way, always with a keen interest and focus on thought provoking matters of history. All three books have the words in their titles: thy Death Valley House for Beatty Nevada. It is the artist's legacy objective to build this house in the small historic mining town certified as the Gateway to Death Valley called Beatty. Given the author's decades of experience in Death Valley as a professional landscape photographer, his very long Chapter Six dramatically profiling the 1960s Charles Manson hippie cult in Death Valley Country is something whereby Dr. Blahnik has been duly authorized to make the claim with confidence. No one can tell this story of Charles Manson in Death Valley in the manner that I have. Furthermore, it is decidedly engaging and indeed surprising to observe the extent to which the history of some members of the cult serves as a foil to the author's character. Imagine that Nevermore! Julian Wiles, 1995. On September 27, 1849, Edgar Allan Poe boarded a ship in Baltimore Harbor for an overnight voyage to New York City. He never arrived. Five days later, he was found delirious on a Baltimore street and shortly thereafter, without regaining his senses, he died. What had transpired over those missing five days has remained forever a mystery until now. Cover The Investigative Enterprise William Coleman, Frederic L. Holmes, 2024-03-29. The seven distinguished contributors to this volume illuminate not only the history of the biological and medical sciences but also the relationship between institutes and ideas which characterized the explosion of scientific investigation, especially in Germany. Besides William Coleman and Frederic L. Holmes, they include Robert G. Frank Jr., Timothy Lenoir, John E. Lesch, Kathryn M. Olesko, and Arlene M. Tuchman. Scientific investigation was not new to the nineteenth century, but it was during that period that it began to be carried out on a scale large enough to become crucial to the welfare of nations. Much remains to be learned about how the forms of organization characteristic of the modern investigative enterprise originated. This book explores such questions in relation to one of the dominant experimental sciences of the century: physiology. Each author shows, through the examination of a specific institute or a specific subject, that the interplay between research, pedagogy, personal vision, and state or public interests can be studied to particular advantage in localized settings.
