Mentoring and Induction Programs That Support New Principals Susan Villani, 2006 Dr

Villani's comprehensive new book gives our profession especially those who are new to it a terrific boost. With clarity and great care, Villani outlines the critical need for mentoring and induction programs for new school leaders. Using excellent examples, she shows us the extremely difficult and varied situations principals face daily. Then she explores well-documented model programs from across the nation that serve as examples and inspiration for all school leaders.

Dr. Vincent L. Ferrandino, Executive Director, NAESP
 Susan Villani's Mentoring Induction Programs that Support New Principals is a comprehensive compendium of ideas and models drawn from school systems, regional education agencies, states, professional associations, and universities. Villani makes a compelling case for the value of supporting beginning principals in new and more powerful ways. She describes how changing educational policies and escalating demands on the principalship have caused an increasing number of states and local districts to seek improved ways to support new principals early in their administrative careers. Most important, Villani provides guidance to readers in translating these ideas and models into new or stronger mentoring and induction programs for the next generation of school principals.

Dr. Dennis Sparks, Executive Director, NSDC
 There is increasing evidence as to the significant role which principals play in reforming schools and in increasing student achievement. Principal induction and mentoring are key components of effective leadership development. This text provides an effective guide for organizations supporting the development of school principals.

Dr. Gerald N. Tirozzi, Executive Director, NASSP
 Make it possible for all new principals to realize their full potential. A well-prepared new principal is essential to the success of an entire school. So why is it one of the least supported positions in the building?

In Mentoring and Induction Programs That Support New Principals, mentoring expert Susan Villani addresses the key question of how well new principals are prepared and supported. This is an ideal resource for developing a mentoring or induction program for principals or for enhancing your existing program. This innovative new text offers a close examination of the state of principalship and the needs of new principals, as well as a detailed compilation of principal mentoring and induction programs throughout the United States. This useful hands-on guidebook includes:

- A complete understanding of the challenges facing new principals.
- Practical examples and enlightening vignettes to clearly illustrate challenges often faced by novice principals.
- Detailed tips to encourage and foster new principals.
- A clear, easy-to-understand comparison of model mentoring and induction programs.

Handbook of Research on Innate Leadership Characteristics and Examinations of Successful First-Time Leaders

Guah, Matthew Waritay, 2021-02-05

For hundreds of years, different leadership theories have been explored to try to explain exactly how and why certain people become great leaders. Research spans a discussion of personality traits, the characteristics of the situation at hand, and qualifications of the leader to try to determine what causes people to become more likely than others to take charge. This can be in various settings: CEOs, presidents, and prime ministers; managing directors, governors, senators, head coaches, and more. Through the examination of first-time leadership, new theories and ideas on leadership are explored. The Handbook of Research on Innate Leadership Characteristics and Examinations of Successful
