Tent With A View An Intimate African Experience:

A Tent with a View Robert Vavra,1991 Portrays the people and culture of the Maasai of Africa and describes a vanishing way of life

The White Spaces of Kenyan Settler Writing Terrence L. Craig,2017-03-27 The White Spaces of Kenyan Settler Writing provides an overview of Kenyan literature by white writers in the half century before Independence in 1964 Such literature has been overshadowed by that of black writers to the point of critical ostracism It deserves attention for its own sake as the expression of a community that hoped for permanence but suffered both disappointment and dispossession It deserves attention for its articulation of an increasingly desperate colonial and Imperial situation at a time when both were being attacked and abandoned in Africa as in other colonies elsewhere and when a counter discourse was being constructed by writers in Britain as well as in Africa Kenya was likely the best known twentieth century colony for it attracted publicity for its iconic safaris and its Happy Valley scandals Yet behind such scenes were settlers who had taken over lands from the native peoples and who were trying to make a future for themselves based on the labour willing or forced of those people This situation can be seen as a microcosm of one colonial exercise and can illuminate the historical tensions of such times The bibliography is an attempt to collect the literary resources of white Kenya in this historically significant period

Kenya Dalvan M. Coger,1996 At the beginning of the century Kenya was regarded as little more than a corridor to Uganda since that time however it has made a spectacular success of its social and economic development Indeed since gaining its independence in 1963 this ethnically divided nation has remained an island of relative political stability amidst its East African neighbours This fully revised volume contains substantial literature on the indigenous population as well as material about the residents and citizens of European and Asian origins
