Terence Davies:

Terence Davies Michael Koresky, 2014-10-15 Called the most important British filmmaker of his generation Terence Davies made his reputation with modern classics like Distant Voices Still Lives and The Long Day Closes personal works exploring his fractured childhood in Liverpool His idiosyncratic and unorthodox narrative films defy easy categorization as their seeming existence within realism and personal memory cinema is undermined by an abstractness that makes the way he lays bare personal pain come across as distant even alien Film critic Michael Koresky explores the unique emotional tenor of Davies's work by focusing on four paradoxes within the director's oeuvre films that are autobiographical yet fictional melancholy yet elating conservative in tone and theme yet radically constructed and obsessed with the passing of time yet frozen in time and space Through these contradictions the films intricate designs reveal a cumulative deeply personal meditation on the self Koresky also analyzes how Davies's ongoing negotiation of and struggle with questions of identity related to his past and his homosexuality imbue the details and jarring juxtapositions in his films with a queer sensibility which is too often overlooked due to the complexity of Davies's work and his unfashionable ambivalence toward his own sexual orientation Terence Davies Screenplays, Volume 1 Terence Davies, 2025-11-13 This collection of Terence Davies's screenplays brings together his powerful autobiographical work from the films that comprise The Terence Davies Trilogy 1983 to his 2008 poetic documentary Of Time and the City of 2008 and his biopics of the poets Emily Dickinson and Siegfried Sassoon The screenplays are supported by new critical introductions and by film stills and previously unpublished material from Terence Davies's personal archive Terence Davies Wendy Everett, 2004-09-04 Terence Davies has made some of the most innovative harrowing and hauntingly lyrical films of the contemporary era This first ever book length study of his work combines detailed analysis of all his films with a persuasive and stimulating investigation of key filmic issues of time and memory identity and selfhood and the nature of literary adaptation as well as a previously unpublished interview with Davies himself The book demonstrates that Davies's films successfully subvert traditional division between popular culture and art house cinema Gardner explores not only Davies's debt to social realism the British Documentary movement and Ealing comedies but equally to the European auteur tradition and to the great Hollywood musicals and melodramas that continue to inspire him It provides fresh insight into the centrality of music in Davies's work and into his conviction that film itself is closer to music than to any other art form Revisiting Space Wendy Ellen Everett, Axel Goodbody, 2005 How does film construct space and what is the relationship between space and time in film These and other questions are explored in this collection of wide ranging challenging essays that re evaluate and extend recent theoretical debate in relation to the regional and national cinemas of Europe Terence Davies Screenplays, Volume 2 Terence Davies, 2026-01-08 This second volume of Terence Davies's screenplays brings together his adaptations of classic novels and plays including his 1995 film of John Kennedy Toole's coming of age novel The Neon Bible his adaptation of Edith Wharton's classic The House of Mirth

starring Gillian Anderson as the young New York socialite Lily Bart his 2011 film adaptation of Terence Rattigan's play The Deep Blue Sea and Sunset Song his adaptation of the Great War novel by Lewis Grassie Gibbon The screenplays are enriched by previously unpublished material from Terence Davies's personal archive and there is an introduction to the screenplays by the film critic and curator Michael Koresky

The New Biographical Dictionary of Film David Thomson, 2010 Thomson independent scholar writing of The Biographical Dictionary of Film aka A Biographical Dictionary of the Cinema 1975 edition described it as a personal opinionated and obsessive biographical dictionary of the cinema Thirty five years and several editions later that description still holds true of this expanded work The new dictionary summarizes salient facts about its subjects lives and discusses their film credits in terms of the quality of the filmmakers work In ambition it has competitors including Leslie Halliwell's various editions of Halliwell's Filmgoers Companion 12th ed 1997 and Halliwell's Who's Who in the Movies edited by John Walker 4th ed rev and updated 2006 which cover films and technical terms categories not included in Thomson's but whose entries are neutral and exceedingly brief Additionally Francophile Richard Roud's edited Cinema A Critical Dictionary The Major Filmmakers 2 v 1980 is as passionate a work as Thomson's but narrower in scope with entries written by various experts rather than only by Roud Finally the multivolume magnum opus The International Dictionary of Films and Filmmakers 4th ed 2000 ed by T Pendergast and S Pendergast 2nd ed ed by N Thomas v 1 CH May 91 1st ed ed by C Lyon v 1 2 CH Jan 85 v 3 CH Apr 87 v 4 5 CH Jun 88 covers everything films directors actors writers and production artists with generous measured scholarly entries and lavish illustrations However it looms large and heavy unlike the handy one volume work by Thomson Arguably Thomson's work for its scope is the most fun the most convenient and the most engaging title All libraries supporting people interested in film should buy it It will get lots of use and provide very good value for the money Summing Up Highly recommended Lower level undergraduates and above general readers General Readers Lower division Undergraduates Upper division Undergraduates Graduate Students Researchers Faculty Professionals Practitioners Reviewed by C Hendershott

Screen Epiphanies Geoffrey Macnab, 2019-07-25 What I remember was that it was the first time a piece of fiction had had such a devastating emotional effect on me A lot of children remember seeing cartoons Pinocchio or Bambi or something that breaks their heart I remember seeing The Blue Angel and it breaking my heart It was the first time I realised there was an adult world that adults could damage each other or destroy each other emotionally It might have fed into a whole series of epiphanies about my own upbringing I was living in a family where my grandparents had separated in quite complex circumstances Perhaps it resonated with some elements of that to do with simply how love can be a rupturing and damaging emotion as well as a healing one Also to see somebody who is in an authority position made so small so diminished by the feeling of having no control Anthony Minghella The Blue Angel In a strange lethal way I was suddenly wildly attracted to the process of filmmaking even though it is described as a nightmare a matter of horror in that film There is a trancelike atmosphere Suddenly I was reminded that you can feel like it's a matter of life and death when you make a film It changed from being a mediocre feeling of emptiness in your life to something that feels necessary I realised that filmmaking can be many things and it can be narcotic in a way You can become addicted to it Thomas Vinterberg Hearts of Darkness Screen Epiphanies brings together 32 leading film makers to discuss the films that inspired them to pursue a career in the movie business or which influenced their own film making practice or which stayed with them because of their depictions of familiar communities intense human relationships or unknown worlds Beautifully illustrated with images from the films discussed Screen Epiphanies is a thought provoking and often moving insight into the creative process and the way in which
