In spite of the gravity of the problem of mass unemployment and its periodic recurrence in industrial societies few scientific studies have been undertaken which serve to define the impact of plant closings on workers families and the community to evaluate individual group or community responses to closings and to offer suggestions for the future Shutdown at Youngstown meets this need It presents the findings of a multidisciplinary scientific study of the closing of the steel mills in Youngstown in 1977 which put 5 000 persons out of work Research reported in the text is based on personal interviews social indicator data and data from health and human service agencies The authors conclude by developing a public policy for dealing with plant closings and the crisis of mass unemployment Labor-Management Notification and Consultation Act of 1985 United States. Congress. House. Committee on Education and Labor. Subcommittee on Labor-Management Relations,1985 Workplace Democracy Donald V. Nightingale,1982-12-15 This book begins with a historical review of how authority in the Canadian workplace has changed over the past century It proceeds to outline a theory of organization which provides a broad conceptual framework for the empirical analysis which follows This theory is based on five concepts the values of organizational members the administrative structure of the organization the interpersonal and intergroup processes the reactions and adjustments of organization members the social political economic and cultural environments of the organization A sample of 20 industrial organizations was selected to examine the effects of significant employee participation and to test the theory They are matched pairs ten permit some form of participation and ten similar in size location industry union non union status and work technology follow conventional hierarchical design The resulting data demonstrate that greater productivity results from employee participation in decisions relating to their work in productivity bonuses and in profit sharing and employee share ownership plans Hearings, Reports and Prints of the Senate Special Committee on Aging United States.
