Affective Landscapes in Literature, Art and Everyday Life Christine Berberich, Neil Campbell, 2016-03-09 Bringing together a diverse group of scholars representing the fields of cultural and literary studies, cultural politics and history, creative writing and photography, this collection examines the different ways in which human beings respond to, debate and interact with landscape. How do we feel, sense, know, cherish, memorise, imagine, dream, desire or even fear landscape? What are the specific qualities of experience that we can locate in the spaces in and through which we live? While the essays most often begin with the broadly literary, the memoir, the travelogue, the novel, poetry, the contributors approach the topic in diverse and innovative ways. The collection is divided into five sections: Peripheral Cultures dealing with dislocation and imagined landscapes; Memory and Mobility concerning the road as the scene of trauma and movement; Suburbs and Estates contrasting American and English spaces; Literature and Place foregrounding the fluidity of the fictional and the real and the human and nonhuman; and finally Sensescapes tracing the sensory response to landscape. Taken together, the essays interrogate important issues about how we live now and might live in the future.

Tales of an Ecotourist Mike Gunter Jr., 2017-11-21 Crossing the far corners of the globe, Tales of an Ecotourist showcases travel from the hot and humid Amazon jungle to the frozen but dry Antarctic as a simple yet spellbinding lens to better understand the complex issue of climate change. At its core, climate change is an issue few truly understand in large part due to its dizzying array of scientific, economic, cultural, social and political variables. Using both keen humor and memorable anecdotes while weaving respected scientific studies along the way, Mike Gunter Jr. transports the reader to five famous ecodestinations from the Galapagos Islands to the Great Barrier Reef, revealing firsthand the increasing threats of climate change. Part travelogue, part current events exposé with a healthy dose of history, ecology and politics, these tales of ecoadventure tackle such obstacles head on while fleshing out much needed personal context to perhaps society's greatest threat of all.

An Anthology of Women's Travel Writings Shirley Foster, Sara Mills, 2002 This anthology aims to challenge stereotypes of women travellers. Rather than simply presenting writings by Victorian women who travelled bravely around the world disregarding social convention and danger, the editors present a range of writing and possible ways of being a woman traveller. As well as the eccentric woman traveller, the editors have included writings by those who might be seen as failed travellers cautious and conventional travellers and those who did not conform to the adventurous heroine stereotype Because travelling as a woman and writing as a woman presents the author with a number of textual problems which must be negotiated Foster and Mills have chosen to include writings which confronted these problems and which resolved them or did not resolve them in different ways These textual problems include the depiction of other women the representation of spatial relations the negotiations undertaken in relation to the adventure heroine narrative and character and the position taken by the author in relation to the representation of knowledge These issues are all crucial in relation to travel writing by women and the women whose writing has been collected together in this anthology have made bold decisions in relation to them
