Music Preferred Lorraine Byrne Bodley, 2018-05-28 The contributions to this Festschrift honouring the distinguished Irish musicologist Harry White on his sixtieth birthday have wide repercussions and span a broad timeframe But for all its variety this volume is built around two axes on the one hand attention is focussed on the history of music and literature in Ireland and the British Isles and on the other topics of the German and Austrian musical past In both cases it reflects the particular interest of a scholar whose playful sometimes unconventional way of approaching his subject is so refreshing and time and again leads to innovative surprising insights It also reflects a scholar who for all the broadening of his perspectives that has taken place over the years has always adhered to the strands of his scholarly preoccupations that have become dear to him the music of the Austro Italian Baroque and Irish musical culture first and foremost An international cast of authors announces the sustaining influence of Harry White's wide ranging research Professor Dr Thomas Hochradner Chair of the Department of Musicology University of Music and Dramatic Arts Mozarteum Salzburg

written especially for new enthusiasts who live impossibly far from Irish musicians and are fretfully asking themselves Where Can I Ever Learn To Play It contains information on technique and style that more advanced players will also find useful And there are 72 dance tunes and airs suitably arranged for the tinwhistle including some recently composed pieces and several unusual settings of old standards that even the most jaded musical palates aflame with the insatiable desire for New Tunes will find exhilarating and momentarily satisfying

The Melodic Tradition of Ireland James R. Cowdery,1990 Annotation Irish folk music oriented around monophonic melodies which are varied and ornamented is viewed from various angles ethnographic and musical a thriving melodic tradition Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Sources of Irish Traditional Music c. 1600-1855 Aloys Fleischman,2016-12-05 First Published in 1998 Irish traditional music is one of the richest treasuries of folk music in the world Being an oral tradition much of it has already been lost and what has been recorded is only partially available in isolated collections Until now no composite picture has yet been presented showing its remarkable range and diversity over four centuries This volume covers Irish materials in general collections up to 1800 and in Irish collections up to and including Petrie s Ancient Music of Ireland 1855 The purposes of the project are to identify Irish dance tunes and songs to present the scholar with a mass of material showing the evolution of the Irish vocal and instrumental folk style period by period from the earliest recorded tune up to the middle of the last century to put into circulation many of the splendid airs which were lost but have now been located Some 6 000 songs and dance tunes are presented also including Scottish and English tunes Included are Scottish tunes that were used by 18th century Irish poets for their verses and both English and Scottish tunes that are still current among Irish traditional musicians Tunes of present day currency which do not seem to be included may still be located by comparing their first 12 notes in the thematic index at the end of the volume To make the vast array of material readily available an index allows readers to locate a tune by its melodic incipit by any of its titles or by the first line of its text Unfortunately the vast majority of Irish songs noted up to the end of the last century lack texts since the collectors were ignorant of the Irish language But almost every other facet is covered provenance tonality structure and variants
