The Dark Romance Of Dian Fossey:

The Dark Romance of Dian Fossey Harold Hayes, 1990 Traces the remarkable life of the controversial primatologist detailing her relationship with Louis Leakey her stormy experiences in defending the gorillas she studied and the circumstances surrounding her brutal still unsolved murder

Gorilla Dreams: the Legacy of Dian Fossey Georgianne Nienaber, 2006-02-21 Imagine that murdered primatologist Dr Dian Fossey of Gorillas in the Mist fame were alive today and able to reflect upon her death as well as her legacy This is the impetus behind author Georgianne Nienaber's compelling work Gorilla Dreams The Legacy of Dian Fossey At the beginning of Gorilla Dreams Fossey attends her own funeral and watches her murdered gorillas interacting with the graveside bystanders She establishes a new relationship with the slain gorilla Digit who acts as her guide after death as she carefully reviews her life its challenges successes hardships and the ultimate closure of her murder Although Fossey's death is officially unsolved recently released documents obtained through the Freedom of Information Act as well as testimony from the International War Crimes Tribunal proceedings offer new suspects motives and opportunities Every fact about Fossey's life is meticulously annotated However the setting of her conversations with the murdered gorillas is obviously fictional yet steeped in African tradition Gorilla Dreams The Legacy of Dian Fossey is a biographical interpretation of the famed primatologist's life that honors the African belief that the dead live on in spiritual form

The Madame Curie Complex Julie Des Jardins, 2010-03-01 The historian and author of Lillian Gilbreth examines the Great Man myth of science with profiles of women scientists from Marie Curie to Jane Goodall Why is science still considered to be predominantly male profession In The Madame Curie Complex Julie Des Jardin dismantles the myth of the lone male genius reframing the history of science with revelations about women's substantial contributions to the field She explores the lives of some of the most famous female scientists including Jane Goodall the eminent primatologist Rosalind Franklin the chemist whose work anticipated the discovery of DNA's structure Rosalyn Yalow the Nobel Prize winning physicist and of course Marie Curie the Nobel Prize winning pioneer whose towering mythical status has both empowered and stigmatized future generations of women considering a life in science With lively anecdotes and vivid detail The Madame Curie Complex reveals how women scientists have changed the course of science and the role of the scientist throughout the twentieth century They often asked different questions used different methods and came up with different groundbreaking explanations for phenomena in the natural world

The Dark Continent? Frits Andersen, 2015-12-31 Africa a forgotten continent that evades all attempts at control and transcends reason Or does it This book describes Europe's image of Africa and relates how the conception of the Dark Continent has been fabricated in European culture with the Congo as an analytical focal point It also demonstrates that the myth was more than a creation of colonial propaganda the Congo reform movement the first international human rights movement spread horror stories that still have repercussions today The book cross examines a number of witness testimonies reports and novels from Stanley's travelogues and Conrad's

Heart of Darkness to Herge's Tintin and Burroughs Tarzan as well as recent Danish and international Congo literature The Dark Continent proposes that the West's attitudes to Africa regarding free trade emergency aid and intervention are founded on the literary historical assumptions of stories and narrative forms that have evolved since 1870 Ancestral Passions

Virginia Morell, 2011-01-11 This biography of the First Family of anthropology reveals how their discoveries collaborations and rivalries contributed to our own knowledge of the origins of humankind In this fascinating and authoritative work acclaimed science writer Virginia Morell brings to vivid life the famous and infamous Leakey family pioneers in the field of paleoanthropology Louis Leakey the patriarch who persisted through initial scientific failures and scandal ridden divorce to achieve spectacular success in digs throughout East Africa Mary his second wife who worked alongside Louis as they made their outstanding discoveries at Olduvai Gorge and elsewhere and Richard their son who ascended to the top of the field in his parents wake only to be threatened with both near fatal illness and fierce professional rivalry Morell transports us into the world of these compelling personalities demonstrating how a small clan of highly talented and fiercely competitive people came to dominate an entire field of science and to contribute immeasurably to our understanding of the origins of humanity

Brigitte Bardot Barnett Singer, 2013-03-11 Actress and sex symbol Brigitte Bardot had a stunning career in France and America in the mid 20th century Since the 1970s she has dedicated her life to the welfare and protection of animals with much personal involvement In this book the author makes the case that far from being a pretty face or a spotlight grabber Bardot was an accomplished actress and has always been an intelligent sensitive individual Chapters acquaint readers with her Paris childhood and her rebellious coming of age in a Catholic bourgeois family who disapproved when she appeared on the cover of Elle magazine and was offered a screen test The book examines her years in film with careful analysis of her films and also covers her tumultuous personal life including suicide attempts and the beginnings of her interest in animal protection Final chapters detail her efforts in worldwide animal welfare activism including the work of her own international foundation Into Africa, Out of Academia

Kwan Kew Lai, 2020-10-22 In 2006 Kwan Kew Lai left her full time position as a professor in the United States to provide medical humanitarian aid to the remote villages and the war torn areas of Africa This memoir follows her experiences from 2006 to 2013 as she provided care during the HIV AIDs epidemics after natural disasters and as a relief doctor in refugee camps in Kenya Libya Uganda and in South Sudan where civil war virtually wiped out all existing healthcare facilities Throughout her memoir Lai recounts intimate encounters with refugees and internally displaced people in camps and in hospitals with limited resources telling tales of their resilience unflinching courage and survival through extreme hardship Her writing provides insight into communities and transports readers to heart aching beautiful parts of Africa not frequented by the usual travelers This is a deeply personal account of the huge disparities in the healthcare system of our global village and is a call to action for readers to understand the interconnectedness of the modern world the needs of less developed neighbors and the shortcomings of their healthcare systems The Encyclopedia of

Unsolved Crimes Michael Newton, 2009 Over 800 entries examine the facts evidence and leading theories of a variety of unsolved murders robberies kidnappings serial killings disappearances and other crimes

Sentience Nicholas Humphrey, 2022 We feel therefore we are Conscious sensations ground our sense of self They are essential to our idea of ourselves as psychic beings present existent and mattering But is it only humans who feel this way Do other animals Will future machines To answer these questions we need a scientific understanding of consciousness what it is and why it has evolved Nicholas Humphrey has been researching these issues for fifty years In this extraordinary book weaving together intellectual adventure cutting edge science and his own breakthrough experiences he tells the story of his quest to uncover the evolutionary history of consciousness from his discovery of blindsight after brain damage in monkeys to hanging out with mountain gorillas in Rwanda to becoming a leading philosopher of mind Out of this he has come up with an explanation of conscious feeling phenomenal consciousness that he presents here in full for the first time Building on this theory of how phenomenal consciousness is generated in the human brain he turns to the morally crucial question of whether it exists in non human creatures His conclusions on the evidence as it stands are radical Contrary to both popular and much scientific opinion he argues that phenomenal consciousness is a relatively recent evolutionary innovation present only in warm blooded creatures mammals and birds Invertebrates such as octopuses and bees for all their intelligence are in this respect unfeeling zombies And for now but not necessarily for ever so are man made machines

Nature's Saviours Graham Huggan, 2013-08-22 Today's celebrity conservationists many of whom made their reputations through television and other visual media play a major role in drawing public attention to an increasingly threatened world This book one of the first to address this contribution focuses on five key figures the English naturalist David Attenborough the French marine adventurer Jacques Yves Cousteau the American primatologist Dian Fossey the Canadian scientist broadcaster activist David Suzuki and the Australian crocodile hunter Steve Irwin Some of the issues the author addresses include What is the changing relationship between western conservation and celebrity How has the spread of television helped shape and mediate this relationship To what extent can celebrity conservation be seen as part of a global system in which conservation like celebrity is big business The book critically examines the heroic status accorded to the five figures mentioned above taking in the various discourses around nature science nation gender through which they and their work have been presented to us In doing so it fills in the cultural historical and ideological background behind contemporary celebrity conservationism as a popular expression of a chronically endangered world

Centralizing Fieldwork Jeremy MacClancy, Agustín Fuentes, 2010-12-01 Fieldwork is a central method of research throughout anthropology a much valued much vaunted mode of generating information But its nature and process have been seriously understudied in biological anthropology and primatology This book is the first ever comparative investigation across primatology biological anthropology and social anthropology to look critically at this key research practice It is also an innovative way to further the comparative project within a broadly conceived anthropology because it does not focus on common theory but on a common method The questions asked by contributors are what in the pursuit of fieldwork is common to all three disciplines what is unique to each how much is contingent how much necessary Can we generate well grounded cross disciplinary generalizations about this mutual research method and are there any telling differences Co edited by a social anthropologist and a primatologist the book includes a list of distinguished and well established contributors from primatology and biological anthropology A Reenchanted World James William Gibson, 2009-04-14 A surprising and enlightening investigation of how modern society is making nature sacred once again For more than two centuries Western cultures as they became ever more industrialized increasingly regarded the natural world as little more than a collection of useful raw resources The folklore of powerful forest spirits and mountain demons was displaced by the practicalities of logging and strip mining the traditional rituals of hunting ceremonies gave way to the indiscriminate butchering of animals for meat markets In the famous lament of Max Weber our surroundings became disenchanted with nature s magic swept away by secularization and rationalization But now as acclaimed sociologist James William Gibson reveals in this insightful study the culture of enchantment is making an astonishing comeback From Greenpeace eco warriors to evangelical Christians preaching creation care and geneticists who speak of human animal kinship Gibson finds a remarkably broad yearning for a spiritual reconnection to nature As we grapple with increasingly dire environmental disasters he points to this cultural shift as the last utopian dream the final hope for protecting the world that all of us must live in Made From This Earth Vera Norwood, 2014-07-01 The broad sweep of environmental and ecological history has until now been written and understood in predominantly male terms In Made From This Earth Vera Norwood explores the relationship of women to the natural environment through the work of writers illustrators landscape and garden designers ornithologists botanists biologists and conservationists Norwood begins by showing that the study and promotion of botany was an activity deemed appropriate for women in the early 1800s After highlighting the work of nineteenth century scientific illustrators and garden designers she focuses on nature s advocates such as Rachel Carson and Dian Fossey who differed strongly with men on both women s nature and the value of the natural world These women challenged the dominant male controlled ideologies often framing their critique with reference to values arising from the female experience Norwood concludes with an analysis of the utopian solutions posed by ecofeminists the most recent group of women to contest men over the meaning and value of nature Sisters of the Jungle Keriann McGoogan, 2025-09-16 A scientist s memoir that delves into the history of primate field studies and the women who shaped the discipline of primatology including Jane Goodall Dian Fossey Birut Galdikas and Alison Jolly Since the 1970s the science of primatology has been dominated by women a unique reversal with men usually outnumbering women in other science technology engineering and math fields Sisters of the Jungle shines a light on a scientific discipline in which women take the lead while transporting readers to the far corners of the earth to understand our closest living relatives Keriann McGoogan s journey as a primatologist has taken her to Belize and Madagascar studying wild primates including howler monkeys the loudest living primate and lemurs the most endangered group of animals on the planet Against this backdrop she explores the stories of the many women who came before her Intrepid scientists like Jane Goodall Dian Fossey Birut Galdikas and Alison Jolly broke boundaries made astonishing discoveries and ultimately shaped the trajectory of an entire branch of science

Congo Sean Rorison, 2012 Known as the heart of Africa the Congos are one of the last bastions in Africa for the seriously adventurous traveler This revised guide tells you how to travel both adventurously and safely with the practical information and unique maps needed to explore this jungle territory The Congos encompass Africa's largest area of intact rainforest and much of the book is devoted to the spectacular wildlife including the mountain gorilla and the critically endangered eastern lowland gorilla This is the only comprehensive guide to both Congos in English

Meeting the Ethical Challenges of Leadership Craig E. Johnson, 2020-01-14 Meeting the Ethical Challenges of Leadership Casting Light or Shadow explores the ethical demands of leadership and the dark side of leadership The book takes an interdisciplinary approach drawing from many fields of research to help readers make ethical decisions lead with integrity and create an ethical culture

Three Weeks in December Audrey Schulman, 2012-02-07 Two Americans have life altering experiences in Africa a century apart in this environmentalist adventure novel by the author of Theory of Bastards Kirkus Reviews In 1899 Jeremy a young engineer leaves a small town in Maine to oversee the construction of a railroad across British East Africa In charge of hundreds of Indian laborers he becomes the reluctant hunter of two lions that are killing his men in nightly attacks Plagued by fear and alienated by a secret he can tell no one Jeremy takes increasing solace in the company of his African scout In 2000 Max an American ethnobotanist travels to Rwanda where she searches for an obscure vine that could become a lifesaving pharmaceutical Stationed in the mountains she shadows a family of gorillas the last of their group to survive the local poachers But their precarious freedom is threatened as a violent rebel group from the nearby Congo draws close Told in alternating perspectives that interweave the two characters and their fates Audrey Schulman's novel deftly confronts the struggle between progress and preservation idiosyncrasy and acceptance

In the Kingdom of Gorillas Bill Weber, Amy Vedder, 2012-01-10 From the founders of the world famous Mountain Gorilla Project an empowering account of their efforts to save the mountain gorilla in Rwanda and how they succeeded even in the midst of a horrendous civil war In 1978 when Dr Bill Weber and Dr Amy Vedder arrived in Rwanda to study mountain gorillas with Dian Fossey the gorilla population was teetering toward extinction Poaching was rampant but it was loss of habitat that most endangered the gorillas When yet another slice of the Virunga Mountains was targeted for development Weber and Vedder recognized that the gorillas were doomed unless something was done to save their land Over Fossey's objections they helped found the Mountain Gorilla Project The MGP was designed to educate Rwandans about the gorillas and about the importance of conservation while at the same time establishing an ecotourism project one of the first anywhere in a rainforest to bring desperately needed revenue to Rwanda In vivid detail Weber and Vedder describe their experiences getting to know entire families of gorillas from powerful silverback patriarchs to helpless newborn infants They tell us about the gorillas they recognized and came to know as individuals stories both tragic and joyful They describe a landscape that was heaven one day green hell the next And they tell of their discovery of the terrible and mysterious events surrounding Fossey s murder They explain that the key to saving the mountain gorillas was helping the people of Rwanda even in the face of a civil war to share in the benefits of conservation Rich with details about the gorillas lives the realities of conservation and portraits of ordinary people caught in extraordinary times this is a riveting adventure story that is sure to take its place among the classic accounts of the world of nature

Feminism in Twentieth-Century Science, Technology, and Medicine Angela N. H. Creager, Elizabeth Lunbeck, Londa Schiebinger, 2001-11 What useful changes has feminism brought to science Feminists have enjoyed success in their efforts to open many fields to women as participants But the effects of feminism have not been restricted to altering employment and professional opportunities for women The essays in this volume explore how feminist theory has had a direct impact on research in the biological and social sciences in medicine and in technology often providing the impetus for fundamentally changing the theoretical underpinnings and practices of such research In archaeology evidence of women s hunting activities suggested by spears found in women s graves is no longer dismissed computer scientists have used feminist epistemologies for rethinking the human interface problems of our growing reliance on computers Attention to women s movements often tends to reinforce a presumption that feminism changes institutions through critique from without This volume reveals the potent but not always visible transformations feminism has brought to science technology and medicine from within Contributors Ruth Schwartz Cowan Linda Marie Fedigan Scott Gilbert Evelyn M Hammonds Evelyn Fox Keller Pamela E Mack Michael S Mahoney Emily Martin Ruth Oldenziel Nelly Oudshoorn Carroll Pursell Karen Rader Alison Wylie
