The Debated Lands British And American Representations Of The Balkans:

The Debated Lands Andrew Hammond, 2007 A volume focusing on the popular genre of travel writing the book examines over 400 British and American literary texts in order to outline and account for the multiple ways in which the Balkans have been represented from the mid nineteenth century to the present day

The British and the Balkans Eugene Michail, 2011-08-18

American Representations of Post-Communism Andaluna Borcila, 2014-07-11 With the televised events of 1989 territories of Eastern and Central Europe that had been marked as impenetrable and inaccessible to the Western gaze exploded into visibility As the narratives of the Cold War crumbled new narratives emerged and new geographies were produced on and by American television Using an understudied archive of American news broadcasts and tracing their flashes and echoes through travel guides and narratives of return written by Eastern European Americans this book explores American ways of seeing and mapping communism s disintegration and the narratives articulated around post communist sites and subjects

The Balkans in Travel Writing Marija Knežević, 2015-09-18 This book revisits images of the Balkans in twentieth century travel writing that vividly mirrors the turbulent changes that the region went through As such it provides a vital basis for research into the variety of possibilities or obstacles present on the region s path to accession when its unique heritage will have to be reconciled with a more European identity This volume explores the work of well known authors such as Rebecca West Paul Theroux Robert D Kaplan and also contributes to travel writing theory by addressing less known travellers who recorded their thoughts on the social dynamics of the region The corpus offers divergent and often contradictory views ranging from moral and political criticism to a delight in the rich heritage and the still undiscovered Balkan paths More importantly its generic potentials prove to overcome both the discourse of power and the discourse of apology Its narrative style also comprises striking variations from the objective and well researched approaches to quick impressionist sketches Being a multi generic form travel writing is observed from a multidisciplinary perspective encompassing fields such as literature linguistics history sociology anthropology ethnology political sciences and geography

Yugoslavia in the British Imagination Samuel Foster, 2021-06-17 Despite Britain entering the 20th century as the dominant world power public discourses were imbued with a cultural pessimism and rising social anxiety Through this study Samuel Foster explores how this changing domestic climate shaped perceptions of other cultures and Britain s relationship to them focusing on those Balkan territories that formed the first Yugoslavia from 1918 to 1941 Yugoslavia in the British Imagination examines these connections and demonstrates how the popular image of the region s peasantry evolved from that of foreign Other to historical victim suffering at the hand of modernity s worst excesses and symbolizing Britain s perceived decline This coincided with an emerging moralistic sense of British identity that manifested during the First World War Consequently Yugoslavia was legitimized as the solution to peasant victimization and as Foster s nuanced analysis reveals enabling Britain s imagined and self promoted revival as civilization s moral arbiter Drawing on a range of previously unexplored archival sources this compelling transnational analysis is an important contribution to the study of British social history and the nature of statehood in the modern Balkans Travel Narrative and the Ends of Modernity Stacy Burton, 2014 Combining theoretical arguments with close reading this text traces how twentieth century writers have reinvented travel narrative for new purposes Across the Corrupting Sea Cavan Concannon, Lindsey A. Mazurek, 2016-03-17 Across the Corrupting Sea Post Braudelian Approaches to the Ancient Eastern Mediterranean reframes current discussions of the Mediterranean world by rereading the past with new methodological approaches The work asks readers to consider how future studies might write histories of the Mediterranean moving from the larger pan Mediterranean approaches of The Corrupting Sea towards locally oriented case studies Spanning from the Archaic period to the early Middle Ages contributors engage the pioneering studies of the Mediterranean by Fernand Braudel through the use of critical theory GIS network analysis and postcolonial cultural inquiries Scholars from several time periods and disciplines rethink the Mediterranean as a geographic and cultural space shaped by human connectivity and follow the flow of ideas ships trade goods and pilgrims along the roads and seascapes that connected the Mediterranean across time and space The volume thus interrogates key concepts like cabotage seascapes deep time social networks and connectivity in the light of contemporary archaeological and theoretical advances in order to create new ways of writing more diverse histories of the ancient world that bring together local contexts literary materials and archaeological analysis Facing the East in the West Barbara Korte, Eva Ulrike Pirker, Sissy Helff, 2010 Over the last decade migration flows from Central and Eastern Europe have become an issue in political debates about human rights social integration multiculturalism and citizenship in Great Britain The increasing number of Eastern Europeans living in Britain has provoked ambivalent and diverse responses including representations in film and literature that range from travel writing humorous fiction mockumentaries musicals drama and children s literature to the thriller The present volume discusses a wide range of representations of Eastern and Central Europe and its people as reflected in British literature film and culture The book offers new readings of authors who have influenced the cultural imagination since the nineteenth century such as Bram Stoker George Bernard Shaw Joseph Conrad and Arthur Koestler It also discusses the work of more contemporary writers and film directors including Sacha Baron Cohen David Cronenberg Vesna Goldsworthy Kapka Kassabova Marina Lewycka Ken Loach Mike Phillips Joanne K Rowling and Rose Tremain With its focus on post Wall Europe Facing the East in the West goes beyond discussions of migration to Britain from an established postcolonial perspective and contributes to the current exploration of new European identities An Agenda for the Western Balkans: From Elite Politics to Social Sustainability Nikolaos Pasamitros, Nikolaos Papakostas, 2015-03-01 The Western Balkan countries have been both a popular subject matter for diachronic analysis and a 1990s favorite The significant changes that followed the most recent times of conflict in the region mostly evolve around the process of Europeanization Despite the plethora of analyses most approaches to the Western Balkans suffer from theoretical stagnancy ex parte political practice and detachment of politics from societal needs This volume is the work of a team of theorists and practitioners who attempt a multidisciplinary approach to Western Balkans reality An Agenda for the Western Balkans offers a critical view on issues that have been over analyzed in mainstream terms and opens a discussion that will occupy researchers and practitioners for years to come It addresses novel topics and engages in innovative approaches that cut across disciplines of social sciences political science international relations sociology historiography geography political economy and levels of analysis local national regional European global This collection is a pioneer theoretical and practical guide towards a sustainable future for the Western Balkans

Britain, the Albanian National Question and the Fall of the Ottoman Empire, 1876-1914 Daut Dauti, 2023-09-21 All too often Albania has been considered a relatively minor player in late 19th and early 20th century history By contrast this book highlights the significance of this nation and the Albanian question at this time through a detailed analysis of the relationship between Albania Britain and the Ottoman Empire from 1876 to 1914 Making use of a wide range of archival source materials some of which are published here in English for the first time this book explores British foreign policy towards the development of the Albanian national movement and parallel demise of the Ottoman Empire In doing so it illuminates the objectives of the British government as well as shining a spotlight on the public opinion of both the British people towards Albanian nationalism and on the reaction of the Albanians towards the British diplomatic position By looking through such a unique lens here Daut Dauti is able to provide fresh insight into why the Albanians were not supported by the Great Powers in their national quest in the way that other Balkan countries were and draws significant new conclusions on British Balkan and Ottoman relations As such this nuanced study is vital reading for all scholars interested in modern Albanian history turn of the century British international relations and the fall of the Ottoman Empire more broadly

Nineteenth-Century Worlds Keith Hanley, Greg Kucich, 2013-10-31 This volume assembles a wide range of studies that together provide through their interdisciplinary range international scope and historical emphases an original scholarly exploration of one of the most important topics in recent nineteenth century studies the emergence in the nineteenth century of forms of global experience that have developed more recently into rapidly expanding processes of globalization and their attendant collisions of race religion ethnicity population groups natural environments national will and power Emphasizing such links between global networks past and present the essays in this volume engage with the latest work in postcolonial cosmopolitan and globalization theory while speaking directly to the most pressing concerns of contemporary geopolitics Each essay examines specific cultural and historical circumstances in the formation of nineteenth century worlds from a range of disciplinary perspectives including economics political history natural history philosophy the history of medicine and disease religious studies literary criticism art history and colonial studies Detailed in their particular modes of analysis yet integrated into a collective conversation about the nineteenth century's profound impact on our present worlds these inquiries also explore the economic political and cultural determinants on nineteenth century types of transnational experience as interweaving forces creating new material frameworks and conceptual models for comprehending major human categories such as race gender subjectivity and national identity in global terms As nineteenth century global intersections differ in important ways from the shapes of globalization today however the essays in this volume generate new ways of understanding emergent patterns of worldwide experience in the age of imperialism and thereby stimulate fresh insights into the dynamics of global formations and conflicts today

British Fiction and the Cold War A. Hammond, 2013-09-19 This book offers a unique analysis of the wide ranging responses of British novelists to the East West conflict Hammond analyses the treatment of such geopolitical currents as communism nuclearism clandestinity decolonisation and US superpowerdom and explores the literary forms which writers developed to capture the complexities of the age

Illyria in Shakespeare's England Lea Puljcan Juric, 2019-06-12 Illyria in Shakespeare's England is the first extended study of the eastern Adriatic region often referred to in the Renaissance by its Graeco Roman name Illyria in early modern English writing and political thought At first glance the absence of earlier studies may not be surprising that area may seem significant only to critics pursuing certain specialized questions about Shakespeare's Twelfth Night which is set in Illyria But in fact it is not only often misrepresented in the discussions of that play but also typically ignored in the critical conversation on English prose romances poems and other plays that feature Illyria or its peoples some rarely read others well known including Shakespeare's Comedy of Errors 2 Henry VI Measure for Measure and Cymbeline Lea Puljcan Juric explores the reasons for such views by engaging with larger questions of interest to many critics who focus on subjects other than geographic regions such as othering religion race and the development of national identity among other issues She also broadens the conversation on these familiar problems in the field to include the impact of post Renaissance notions of the Balkans on the erasure of Illyria from Shakespeare studies Puljcan Juric studies the encounters of the English with the ancient and early modern Illyrians through their Greek and Roman heritage geographies histories and travelogues written in a variety of European polities including Illyria itself religious conflict after the Reformation and the threat of Islam and international politics and commerce These considerations show how Illyria's geopolitical position among the Ottoman Empire Habsburg Empire and Venice its national struggles as well as its cultural heterogeneity figured in English interests in the eastern Mediterranean and informed English ideas about ethnicity nationhood and religion In Shakespeare studies however critics have consistently cast Twelfth Night's Illyria as a utopia an enigma or a substitute for England Italy or Greece Arguing that twentieth century politics and negative conceptions of the eastern Adriatic as part of the Balkans have underwritten this erasure of Illyria from our perspective on the field Puljcan Juric shows how entrenched cultural hierarchies tied to elitism and colonial politics still inform our analyses of literature She invites scholars to recognize that for Shakespeare and his contemporaries Illyria is the site of important socio political and cultural struggles during the period some shared with neighboring areas others geographically specific that invite dynamic historical and literary scrutiny Beyond Balkanism Diana Mishkova, 2018-07-17 In recent years western discourse about the Balkans or balkanism has risen in prominence Characteristically this strand of research sidelines the academic input in the production of western representations and Balkan self understanding Looking at the Balkans from the vantage point of balkanism has therefore contributed to its further marginalization as an object of research and the evisceration of its agency This book reverses the perspective and looks at the Balkans primarily inside out from within the Balkans towards its self and the outside world where the west is important but not the sole referent The book unravels attempts at regional identity building and construction of regional discourses across various generations and academic subcultures with the aim of reconstructing the conceptualizations of the Balkans that have emerged from academically embedded discursive practices and political usages It thus seeks to reinstate the subjectivity of the Balkans and the responsibility of the Balkan intellectual elites for the concept and the images it conveys The book then looks beyond the Balkans inviting us to rethink the relationship between national and transnational self representation and the communication between local and exogenous Western Central and Eastern European concepts and definitions more generally It thus contributes to the ongoing debates related to the creation of space and historical regions which feed into rethinking the premises of the new area studies

Beyond Balkanism The Scholarly Politics of Region Making will interest researchers and students of transnationalism politics historical geography border and area studies Mapping World Anglophone Studies Pavan Kumar Malreddy, Frank Schulze-Engler, 2024-10-30 This book explores core issues in the emerging field of World Anglophone Studies It shows that traditional frameworks based on the colonial and imperial legacies of English need to be revised and extended to understand the complex adaptations iterations and incarnations of English in the contemporary world The chapters in this volume make three significant interventions in the field First they showcase the emergence of Anglophone literatures and cultures in parts of the world not traditionally considered Anglophone Cuba the Arab world the Balkan region Vietnam Algeria and Belize among others Second they feature new zones of contact and creolization between Anglophone literatures cultures and languages such as Swahili Santhali Ojibway and Hindi as well as Anglophone representations of colonial encounters and contemporary experiences in non Anglophone settings such as Cuba Angola and Algeria And finally the volume turns to Anglophone literary and cultural productions on new platforms such as social media and Netflix and highlights the role of English in emergent sites of resistance involving women Indigenous populations queer and other non heteronormative sexualities as well as post conflict societies Mapping linguistic transgressions and the transmigration of cultural tropes between Englishes vernaculars and a wide variety of other languages with a rich set of case studies this volume will be essential reading for courses such as world literatures in English postcolonial studies anglophone studies literature and culture Indian Ocean worlds Global Englishes and Global South studies The Novel and Europe Andrew Hammond, 2016-10-05 This book examines the ways in which fiction has addressed the continent since the Second World War

Drawing on novelists from Europe and elsewhere the volume analyzes the literary response to seven dominant concerns ideas of Europe conflict borders empire unification migration and marginalization offering a ground breaking study of how modern and contemporary writers have participated in the European debate The sixteen essays view the chosen writers not as representatives of national literatures but as participants in transcontinental discussion that has occurred across borders cultures and languages In doing so the contributors raise questions about the forms of power operating across and radiating from Europe challenging both the institutionalized divisions of the Cold War and the triumphalist narrative of continental unity currently being written in Brussels

Imagining Bosnian Muslims in Central Europe František Šístek, 2021-01-14 As a Slavic speaking religious and ethnic Other living just a stone s throw from the symbolic heart of the continent the Muslims of Bosnia and Herzegovina have long occupied a liminal space in the European imagination To a significant degree the wider representations and perceptions of this population can be traced to the reports of Central European and especially Habsburg diplomats scholars journalists tourists and other observers in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries This volume assembles contributions from historians anthropologists political scientists and literary scholars to examine the political social and discursive dimensions of Bosnian Muslims encounters with the West since the nineteenth century

Balkan Transnationalism at the Time of Neoliberal Catastrophe Dušan I. Bjelić, 2019-03-27 Offering a fresh look at the ways in which neoliberalism has claimed to cure the Balkan region of its ethnic particularities under the pretext of Europeanization this book shows how the reconfiguration of the economic political and cultural landscape of the region has resulted in its functioning as Europe s neocolony The contributors to this volume engage in postcolonial analysis of the Balkans past and present coloniality by way of interrogating race racism trauma film and global capitalism They challenge the idea of a United Europe that rests on the assumption that the European Union s newness represents both a clean slate and the right to shift ownership of its colonial histories to former colonial subjects and their national histories Taken as a whole the volume seeks to transform Europe s colonial amnesia into postcolonial awareness and to speak from within the Balkans as a site of Europe s neocolony As it critically interrogates a neocolonial reconfiguration of the Balkans as a massive social overhaul which includes at once global integration and local social disintegration this book will be of interest to those studying the region as well as postcolonialism in general This book was originally published as a special issue of Interventions Journal of Postcolonial Studies

Michael Ondaatje: Haptic Aesthetics and Micropolitical Writing Milena Marinkova, 2011-07-14 This study of selected literary and cinematic works by Michael Ondaatje investigates the political potential of the Canadian author s aesthetics Contributing to current debates about affect and representation ideology critique and the artwork trauma and testimony this book uses the concept of the haptic to demonstrate how Ondaatje s multisensory fluid and historically inflected writing can forge an enabling relationship between audience author and text This is where Ondaatje s micropolitics often misconstrued as ideologically suspect aestheticism emerges a praxis that intimates how one can write and read politically with a difference Balkan Departures Wendy Bracewell, Alex Drace-Francis, 2009-05-01 In writings about travel the Balkans appear most often as a place travelled to Western accounts of the Balkans revel in the different and the exotic the violent and the primitive traits that serve according to many commentators as a foil to self congratulatory definitions of the West as modern progressive and rational However the Balkans have also long been travelled from The region s writers have given accounts of their travels in the West and elsewhere saying something in the process about themselves and their place in the world The analyses presented here ranging from those of 16th century Greek humanists to 19th century Romanian reformers to 20th century writers socialists and men of the world suggest that travellers from the region have also created their own identities through their encounters with Europe Consequently this book challenges assumptions of Western discursive hegemony while at the same time exploring Balkan Occidentalisms
