The Desire of Ages Ellen Gould White, 2017-03-20 Another book in the series of theological interpretations of the Seventh Day Adventists this book covers the life and ministry of Jesus and she tells quite a different story about Jesus compared to the rest of her contemporaries since she heavily relies on mystical experience in order to make her theological conclusions Like her other books this one has been fought against by theologians in all times but helps to make us realize what is God's truth

Aristotle on Desire Giles Pearson, 2012-08-30 Desire is a central concept in Aristotle's ethical and psychological works but he does not provide us with a systematic treatment of the notion itself This book reconstructs the account of desire latent in his various scattered remarks on the subject and analyses its role in his moral psychology Topics include the range of states that Aristotle counts as desires orexeis objects of desire orekta and the relation between desires and envisaging prospects desire and the good Aristotle's three species of desire epithumia pleasure based desire thumos retaliatory desire and boulis good based desire in a narrower notion of good than that which connects desire more generally to the good Aristotle's division of desires into rational and non-rational Aristotle and some current views on desire and the role of desire in Aristotle's moral psychology The book will be of relevance to anyone interested in Aristotle's ethics or psychology

The Syntax of Desire Elena Lombardi, 2007-01-01 In medieval culture the consideration of language is deeply connected to other aspects of the system of knowledge One interesting connection takes place between theories of language and theories of larger concepts such as love and desire The Syntax of Desire is an interdisciplinary examination of the interlacing operation of syntax and desire in three medieval grammars theological linguistic and poetic Exploring three representative aspects of medieval language theory Elena Lombardi uncovers the ways in which syntax and desire were interrelated in the Middle Ages She suggests that in Augustine s theology the creative act of God in the universe emerges as a syntax that the human individual must interpret by means of desire in the linguistic theory of the Modistae she sees the syntax of language as parallel to a syntax of reality one organized by the desiring interplay of matter and form in Dante s poetry she argues that the language of the fallen human is bound together by the syntax of poetry an act of desire that restores language to its primitive innocence In addition to detailed analyses of medieval texts The Syntax of Desire examines some aspects of the same relationship in light of contemporary linguistics philosophy of language and psychoanalysis

A Conceptual-analytic Study of Classical Indian Philosophy of Morals Rajendra Prasad,2008 Using reconstructive ideas available in classical Indian original works this book makes a departure in the style of modern writings on

Indian moral philosophy It presents Indian ethics in an objective secular and wherever necessary critical manner as a systematic down to earth philosophical account of moral values virtues rights and obligations It thereby refutes the claim that Indian philosophy has no ethics as well as the counter claim that it transcends ethics It demonstrates that moral living proves that the individual his society and the world are really real and not only taken to be real for behavioral purposes as the Advaitins hold the self is amoral being a non agent moksa is not a moral value and the Karmic theory because of involving belief in rebirth does not fuarantee that the doer of an action is also the experiencer of its results contrary to what is commonly held and Indian ethics can sustain itself even if such notions are dropped Rajendra Prasad calls Indian ethics organismic because along with ethical concerns it also covers issues related to professions politics administration sex environment etc Therefore in one format it is theoretical and applied normative and metaethical humanistic and non humanistic etc of course within the limits of the then cognitive enquiry
