All technologies differ from one another They are as varied as humanity s interaction with the physical world Even people attempting to do the same thing produce multiple technologies For example John H White discovered more than 1 1000 patents in the 19th century for locomotive smokestacks Yet all technologies are processes by which humans seek to control their physical environment and bend nature to their purposes All technologies are alike The tension between likeness and difference runs through this collection of papers All focus on atmospheric flight a twentieth century phenomenon But they approach the topic from different disciplinary perspectives They ask disparate questions And they work from distinct agendas Collectively they help to explain what is different about aviation how it differs from other technologies and how flight itself has varied from one time and place to another The importance of this topic is manifest Flight is one of the defining technologies of the twentieth century Jay David Bolter argues in Turing s Man that certain technologies in certain ages have had the power not only to transform society but also to shape the way in which people understand their relationship with the physical world A defining technology says Bolter resembles a magnifying glass which collects and focuses seemingly disparate ideas in a culture into one bright sometimes piercing ray 2 Flight has done that for the twentieth century aircraft that made the difference between victory and defeat at critical moments in the Second World War the Battle of Britain and the allied aerial offensive against Germany Making the Best of It Sarah Glassford, Amy J. Shaw, 2020-04-15 Many women who lived through the Second World War believed it heralded new status and opportunities but scholars have argued that very little changed How can these interpretations be reconciled Making the Best of It examines the ways in which gender and other identities intersected to shape the experiences of female Canadians and Newfoundlanders during the war The contributors to this thoughtful collection consider mainstream and minority populations girls and women and different parts of Canada and Newfoundland They reassess topics such as women in the military and in munitions factories and tackle entirely new subjects such as wartime girlhood in Quebec Collectively these essays broaden the scope of what we know about the changes the war wrought in the lives of Canadian women and girls and address wider debates about memory historiography and feminism Lake Opeongo S. Bernard Shaw, 1998 Bomber Command Gordon A. A. Wilson, 2021-11-15 A complete history of Bomber Command including its crucial role in WWII and later nuclear role in the Cold War Cold War Fighters Randall Wakelam, 2011-11-03 The cancellation of the CF 105 Arrow in 1959 holds such a grip on the imagination of Canadians that earlier developments in defence procurement remain in the shadows Randall Wakelam corrects this oversight and offers fresh insight into the AVRO saga and contemporary procurement issues by detailing the complexities Canada's air force faced in buying fighter aircraft and by showing how the RCAF grew by leaps and bounds Wakelam shows that cabinet members chiefs of staff and air marshals were forced to negotiate competing pressures to arm the air force please allies and save money Their decisions resulted in the CF 100 Canuck and the F 86 Sabre Canada's front line defensive aircraft in the coldest years of the Cold War Although historians assume that the Arrow arrived on the heels of these successes Wakelam reveals that neither the air force nor the government believed AVRO could manufacture even the CF 100 on budget De Havilland Gazette, 1953 Wings Across Canada Peter Pigott, 2002-10-01 From the eccentric Fairey Battle to the lethal looking CF 18 from modern airliners that have no defects and no character to the classic North Star which had both here is the ultimate line up of the aircraft that have served Canadians in the last century With over one hundred photographs of fifty historic planes Wings Across Canada is a retrospective of Canada's aeronautical technology This book does not compare the planes nor claim that all are classics in the traditional sense of the word Instead it is a celebration of a love affair with aircraft that all served a purpose in their own time Canadian Air Review, 1929 Aviation Pioneers of Canada 7-Book Bundle Peter Pigott, 2016-07-07 The Aviation Pioneers of Canada 7 Book Bundle presents the high flying insight of Peter Pigott in a special collection chronicling the aviators aircraft and drama of over a century of Canadian flight From the Avro Arrow and the Silver Dart to the adventurers and visionaries who pushed Canadian airways to new heights Pigott covers it all with his trademark breezy style and incredible historical photographs Includes Brace for Impact Air Crashes and Aviation Safety Air Canada The History Flying Canucks Famous Canadian Aviators
