Segovia, Sofya Shaikut Segovia, 2023-02-17 This book recovers Dionysus and Apollo as the twin conceptual personae of life's dual rhythm in an attempt to redesign contemporary theory through the reciprocal affirmation of event and form earth and world dance and philosophy It revisits Heidegger and L. vi Strauss and combines them with Roy Wagner with the purpose of moving beyond Nietzsche's manifold legacy including post structuralism new materialism and speculative realism It asks whether merging philosophy and anthropology around issues of comparative ontologies may give us a chance to re become earthbound dwellers on a re worlded earth Theories of Local Economic Development James E. Rowe, 2016-12-05 In economic development theory and practice exist as two seemingly separate realities Academics strive to develop or refine theory by drawing on abstract concepts about the way people behave and institutions work while practitioners draw from a stock of experiences By bringing together leading theorists and practitioners such as Blakely Blair McCann Luger Gunder Stough and Stimson this book provides the first comprehensive overview of local economic development theories for over fifteen years It explores the theory behind the key concepts that every economic practitioner must understand and in doing so ties together the various theories from across the disciplines to practice

Israeli Cinema Miri Talmon, Yaron Peleg, 2011-07-01 With top billing at many film forums around the world as well as a string of prestigious prizes including consecutive nominations for the Best Foreign Film Oscar Israeli films have become one of the most visible and promising cinemas in the first decade of the twenty first century an intriguing and vibrant site for the representation of Israeli realities Yet two decades have passed since the last wide ranging scholarly overview of Israeli cinema creating a need for a new state of the art analysis of this exciting cinematic oeuvre The first anthology of its kind in English Israeli Cinema Identities in Motion presents a collection of specially commissioned articles in which leading Israeli film scholars examine Israeli cinema as a prism that refracts collective Israeli identities through the medium and art of motion pictures The contributors address several broad themes the nation imagined on film war conflict and trauma gender sexuality and ethnicity religion and Judaism discourses of place in the age of globalism filming the Palestinian Other and new cinematic discourses The authors illuminating readings of Israeli films reveal that Israeli cinema offers rare visual and narrative insights into the complex national social and multicultural Israeli universe transcending the partial and superficial images of this culture in world media range of readers from graduate students to established scholars with varying levels of expertise and familiarity putting affect theories to work in education All the contributions are accessible to those new to the theory methods and debates in this vibrant area of educational studies Thinking with the Poem Andrew R. Mossin, 2024-12-15 Broad ranging and pluralistically investigative the essays in Thinking with the Poem document Rachel Blau DuPlessis's authorial interventions as a poet scholar and cultural critic steeped in the linguistic and political frames of her time The writers included in this volume engage root level questions at the heart of DuPlessis's praxis as posed by her in a recent essay What is a poem what is a poet what is an oeuvre what is the poetic Inventive and noncanonical these essays offer substantive responses to these and other questions providing new routes of inquiry into the poetry and poetics of this preeminent figure of new writing

Subjectivity, Creativity, and the Institution Christopher Crouch, 2009 This book is an interdisciplinary collection of essays that examine the subjective experiences of the moulding of creativity for good or bad by institutional values It is essential reading for anyone who wishes to gain a glimpse into the circumstances that surround the creative individual in our current globalising world With chapters ranging in scope from the function of the internet in building creative social spaces to an examination of the dreaming of their history by the Z'para Amazonian people this book will introduce the reader to critical analyses of the many differing creative spaces we have made for ourselves across the world In a radical break from the traditional academic practice of keeping specialists and disciplines separate this collection brings international scholars and practitioners together from many disciplines all of whom have the shared intention of understanding creative self empowerment in the new conditions of what the sociologist Ulrich Beck calls Second Modernity An innovative text that illuminates the contemporary global cultural space in which multiple histories and traditions are intersecting and slowly rupturing the certainties of the first modernity of colonialism nationalism and industrialisation this collection presents essays that had their origins as papers in the Subjectivity Creativity and the Institution Conference that was convened by the Chinese Australian Studies Research Centre at Sun Yat sen University Guangzhou China and held at the John Curtin Gallery in Perth Australia It includes the keynote presentation by the distinguished Australian sociologist Professor Raewyn Connell

Evidence-Based Healthcare in Context Jon Adams, 2016-12-05 With new methods of treatment standardisation resulting in various benefits for patient outcomes evidence based medicine and evidence based practice have emerged as defining features of western healthcare provision in recent years Most health professions are now adopting some form of evidence based framework for clinical training and practice However the rise of evidence based healthcare has drawn sustained criticism regarding the limits of trial based evidence the reductive character of epidemiological study designs and the potential for an erosion of the importance of lay perspectives and clinical judgement Evidence Based Healthcare in Context introduces readers to the social cultural and historical underpinnings of evidence in healthcare critically examining questions about what constitutes evidence and effectiveness from perspectives outside medicine including those of patients complementary medicine and midwifery It focuses on the application of contemporary theoretical debates around the nature of medical and health knowledge providing readers with a series of critical analyses of the production application and translation of evidence in a range of healthcare contexts Featuring cutting edge work from leading social scientists in the UK US Canada Norway Australia and New Zealand this volume draws on the latest empirical research to provide a thorough critical overview of this important field of health research

Deterritorializing Language, Teaching, Learning, and Research, 2019-12-16 It is now recognized that language teachers and learners are both users and creators of knowledge in socially culturally politically materially complex and unpredictable environments With this in mind an increasing number of researchers in Second Language Education have progressively broken away from traditional ways of studying educational practices to find novel and more complex ways to conceptualize and study language teachers and learners teaching and learning practices and knowledge development This book is in line with these trends and should be considered as the actualization of experimentations with novel ways to apprehend the interrelationships between language and education by drawing on the conceptual repertoire of French philosopher Gilles Deleuze and his collaborator Félix Guattari To guide us through this reflexive journey ten scholars specialized in the field of Second Language Education call on their experiences as language educators and researchers to explore the intersections between language teaching learning and research focusing on the experiences of diverse populations e g students immigrants teachers etc in multiple settings e g Canada Japan United Kingdom universities and family literacy intervention programs Through this book new insights and lines of thought are generated on how research and educative practices can be transformed to reimagine second language teaching learning and research to think differently about the experiences of language teachers learners and researchers and disrupt the processes that may prevent us from innovating and seizing future opportunities Contributors are Francis Bangou Maria Bastien Valença Joff P N Bradley Martina Emke Douglas Fleming Roumiana Ilieva Brian Morgan Enrica Piccardo Aisha Ravindran Gene Vasilopoulos and Monica Waterhouse

Carson McCullers in the Twenty-First Century Alison Graham-Bertolini, Casey Kayser, 2016-10-26 The contributors to this volume use diverse critical techniques to identify how Carson McCullers writing engages with and critiques modern social structures and how her work resonates with a twenty first century audience The collection includes chapters about McCullers fiction autobiographical writing and dramatic works and is groundbreaking because it includes the first detailed scholarly examination of new archival material donated to Columbus State University after the 2013 death of Dr Mary Mercer McCullers psychiatrist and friend including transcripts of the psychiatric sessions that took place between McCullers and Mercer in 1958 Further the collection covers the scope of McCullers canon of work such as The Heart Is a Lonely Hunter 1940 The Member of the Wedding 1946 and Ballad of the Sad Café 1943 through lenses that are of growing interest in contemporary literary studies including comparative transatlantic readings queer theory disability studies and critical animal theory among others

Creating Material Worlds Louisa Campbell, Adrian

Maldonado,Elizabeth Pierce,Anthony Russell,2016-05-07 Despite a growing literature on identity theory in the last two decades much of its current use in archaeology is still driven toward locating and dating static categories such as Phoenician Christian or native Previous studies have highlighted the various problems and challenges presented by identity with the overall effect of deconstructing it to insignificance As the humanities and social sciences turn to material culture archaeology provides a unique perspective on the interaction between people and things over the long term This volume argues that identity is worth studying not despite its slippery nature but because of it Identity can be seen as an emergent property of living in a material world an ongoing process of becoming which archaeologists are particularly well suited to study The geographic and temporal scale of the papers included is purposefully broad to demonstrate the variety of ways in which archaeology is redefining identity Research areas span from the Great Lakes to the Mediterranean with case studies from the Mesolithic to the contemporary world by emerging voices in the field The volume contains a critical review of theories of identity by the editors as well as a response and afterward by A Bernard Knapp Misfit Children Markus

Bohlmann,2016-12-14 Misfits are often confused with outcasts Yet misfits rather find themselves in between that which fits and that which does not This volume is interested in this slipperiness of misfits and explores the blockages and the promises of such movements as well as the processes and conditions that produce misfits the means that enable them to undo their denomination as misfits and the practices that turn those who fit into misfits and vice versa This collection of essays on misfit children produces transmissible motions across and engages in scholarly conversations that unfold betwixt and between in order to make rigid concepts twist and twirl and ultimately fail to fit Sound Changes Daniel Fischlin,Eric

Porter,2021-05-17 Extends the field of improvisation studies in a more global transcultural direction Stretching Beyond the Horizon Jean Hillier,2017-03-02 In this innovative work Jean Hillier develops a new theory for students and researchers of spatial planning and governance which is grounded primarily in the work of Gilles Deleuze The theory recognizes the complex interrelation between place qualities and the multiple space time relational dynamics of spatial governance Using empirical examples from England and Australia Hillier identifies the power of networks and trajectories through which various actors territorialize space and explores the social and political responsibilities of spatial managers and decision makers She considers what spatial planning and urban management practices could look like if they were to be developed along Deleuzian lines and suggests alternative framings for spatial practice broad trajectories or visions of the longer term future and shorter term location specific detailed plans and projects with collaboratively determined tangible goals

Towards a Twenty-First-Century Feminist Politics of Music Sally Macarthur,2016-02-24 Towards a Twenty First Century Feminist Politics of Music opens up a new way of thinking about the absence of women s music It does not aim to find a solution in a liberal feminist sense but to discover new potentialities new possibilities for thought and action Sally Macarthur encourages us with the assistance of Deleuze and feminist Deleuzian work to begin the important work of imagining what else might be possible not in order to provide answers but to open up the as yet unknown The power of thought or what Deleuze calls the virtual opens up new possibilities Macarthur suggests that the future for women's new music is not tied to the predictable and known but to futures beyond the already known Previous research concludes that women's music is virtually absent from the concert hall and yet fails to find a way of changing this situation Macarthur finds that the flaw in the recommendations flowing from past research is that it envisages the future from the standpoint of the present and it relies on a set of pre-determined goals It thus replicates the present reality so reinforcing rather than changing the status quo Macarthur challenges this thinking and argues that this repetitive way of thinking is stuck in the present unable to move forward Macarthur situates her argument in the context of current dominant neoliberal thought and practice She argues that women have generally not thrived in the neoliberal model of the composer which envisages the composer as an individual autonomous creator and entrepreneur Successful female composers must work with this dominant modernist aesthetic and exploit the image of the neo-romantic entrepreneurial creator This book sets out in contrast to develop a new conception of subjectivity that sows the seeds of a twenty-first century feminist politics of music

Philosophical Perspectives on Play
 Malcolm MacLean, Wendy Russell, Emily Ryall, 2015-08-20 Philosophical Perspectives on Play builds on the disciplinary and paradigmatic bridges constructed between the study of philosophy and play in The Philosophy of Play Routledge 2013 to develop a richer understanding of the concept and nature of play and its relation to human life and value Made up of contributions from leading international thinkers and inviting readers to explore the presumptions often attached to play and playfulness the book considers ways that play in virtual and real worlds can inform understandings of each critiquing established norms and encouraging scepticism about the practice and experience of play Organised around four central themes playing at the limits aesthetics metaphysics ontology and ethics the book extends and challenges notions of play by drawing on issues emerging in sport gaming literature space and art with specific attention paid to disruption and danger It is intended to provide scholars and practitioners working in the spheres of play education games sport and related subjects with a deeper understanding of philosophical thought and to open dialogue across these disciplines

Architecture in Abjection Zuzana Kovar, 2017-11-30 This book marks a turning point in architectural theory by using philosophy to examine the field anew Breaking from the traditional dualism within architecture which presents the body as subject and space as object it examines how such rigid boundaries can be softened Zuzana Kovar thus engages with complementary and complex ideas from architecture philosophy feminist theory and other subjects demonstrating how both bodies and bodily functions relate deeply to architecture Extending philosopher Julia Kristeva's notion of abjection the confrontation of one's own corporeality as something is excreted Kovar finds parallels in the concept of the scaffold Much like living bodies and their products can impact on the buildings that house them old skin cells create dust menstrual blood stains our breath heats and cools surfaces scaffolding is similarly ephemeral and yet not entirely separable from the architecture it supports Kovar shifts

the conversation about abjection towards a more nuanced idea of architecture where living organisms building matter space decay and waste are all considered as part of a continual process drawing on the key informing works of thinkers like Gilles Deleuze and Felix Guattari to do this Including a number of experimental projects conducted in the spaces inhabited by the author herself to illuminate the theory at its core the book forms a distinguished and pioneering study designed for practitioners and scholars of architecture philosophy and visual culture alike

Transnational Chinese Cinema Brian Bergen-Aurand, Mary Mazzilli, Hee Wai-Siam, 2015-03-26 This collection of essays on transnational Chinese cinema explores the corporal psychological and affective aspects of experiencing bodies on screen engages with the material and discursive elements of embodiment and highlights the dynamics between the mind and body involved in bio cultural practices of cinematic production distribution exhibition and reception
