Sustainable Development in World Investment Law Marie-Claire Cordonier Segger, Markus W. Gehring, Andrew Paul Newcombe, 2011-01-01 Sustainable development as defined by the World Commission on Environment and Development is development that meets the needs of the present without compromising the ability of future generations to meet their own needs More specifically sustainable development is a process of change that seeks to improve the collective quality of life by focusing on economically socially and environmentally sound projects that are viable in the long term Sustainable development requires structural economic change and the foundation of that change is investment In developing nations with low levels of domestic savings investment predictably comes from abroad in the form of foreign direct investment A large and ever expanding number of international investment agreements are in place to govern these transactions While these accords seek to foster development while mitigating the risk involved in these types investments many questions remain unresolved This highly insightful book reflects the contributions of a variety of world renowned experts each of which is designed to provide the reader with valuable perspective on recent developments in investment law negotiations and jurisprudence from a sustainable development law perspective It offers answers to pertinent questions concerning advancements in investment law including the negotiation of numerous regional and bilateral agreements as well as the increasing number of disputes resolved in the World Bank's International Centre for the Settlement of Investment Disputes ICSID from different developed and developing country perspectives It lays out future directions for new treaty negotiations and dispute settlement proceedings as well as ongoing investment promotion efforts against a background of rapidly evolving international relationships between economic environment and development law It focuses on key issues in investment laws which have emerged as priorities in the negotiation of bilateral and regional investment agreements and have been clarified through recent decisions of the ICSID and other arbitral panel awards Foreign Direct Investment in Large-Scale Agriculture in Africa Atkeyelsh Persson, 2019-05-02 This book examines environmental sustainability and inclusive economic growth providing in depth analysis of foreign direct investment FDI in large scale agriculture in Ethiopia In most African states arable land and other natural resources play a pivotal role for economic growth and development Ethiopia is one of those countries where agriculture is the backbone of the economy This sector has also been an attraction for FDI in Sub Saharan Africa since the global food and financial crisis of 2007 and 2008 This book uses six foreign investments in large scale agriculture as case studies to examine current Ethiopian policies the patterns of investment they promote how these impact on land based resources and communities wellbeing Presenting analyses of the economic social and political realities of foreign direct investment in the local context Foreign Direct Investment in Large Scale Agriculture in Africa discusses how the fundamental principles of pro poor and environmentally sustainable investments intersect with the government's ambition to advance Ethiopia's development agenda This book will be of interest to scholars and students of African

Directory of Published Proceedings, 2004 FDI and Tourism Conferencia de las Naciones Unidas sobre Comercio y Desarrollo, 2008 Global Jurisprudential Apartheid in the Twenty-First Century Howard Tafara Chitimira, Artwell Nhemachena, Tapiwa Victor Warikandwa, 2021-09-27 In Global Jurisprudential Apartheid in the Twenty First Century Universalism and Particularism in International Law the contributors argue that the world is witnessing the formation of a global jurisprudential apartheid despite the promotion of democracy equality human rights and humanitarianism Examining organisations such as international criminal courts the World Trade Organisation the United Nations Security Council the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank the contributors unpack the challenges of global jurisprudential apartheid In particular they analyse the ways in which these organizations hold and contribute to the increasing inequalities between the Global North and the Global South Ultimately Global Jurisprudential Apartheid in the Twenty First Century shows that globalisation is a variant of the apartheid era particularism and not universalism working to advantage the Global North while disadvantaging the Global South under the pretense of humanitarianism Institutional Factors and Foreign Direct Investment Flows Rose Ngugi, Owen Nyang'oro, 2005 International Investment Law and the Right to Regulate Lone Wandahl Mouyal, 2016-03-10 The book considers the ways in which the international investment law regime intersects with the human rights regime and the potential for clashes between the two legal orders Within the human rights regime states may be obligated to regulate including a duty to adopt regulation aiming at improving social standards and conditions of living for their population Yet states are increasingly confronted with the consequences of such regulation in investment disputes where investors seek to challenge regulatory interferences for example in expropriation claims Regulatory measures may for instance interfere with the investment by imposing conditions on investors or negatively affecting the value of the investment As a consequence investors increasingly seek to challenge regulatory measures in international investment arbitration on the basis of a bilateral investment treaty This book sets out the nature and the scope of the right to regulate in current international investment law The book examines bilateral investment treaties and ICSID arbitrations looking at the indicative parameters that are granted weight in practice in expropriation claims delimiting compensable from non compensable regulation The book places the potential clash between the right to regulate and international investment law within a theoretical framework which describes the stability flexibility dilemma currently inherent within international law Lone Wandahl Mouyal goes on to set out methods which could be employed by both BIT negotiators and adjudicators of investment disputes allowing states to exercise their right to regulate while at the same time providing investors with legal certainty The book serves as a valuable tool an added perspective for academics as well as for practitioners dealing with aspects of international investment law Performance Requirement Prohibitions in International Investment Law

Alexandre Genest, 2019-09-16 In Performance Requirement Prohibitions in International Investment Law Alexandre Genest explores the prohibition of performance requirements in investment treaties The author focuses on answering two questions first how do States prohibit performance requirements in investment treaties And second how should such prohibitions of performance requirements be interpreted and applied In providing answers to these questions Alexandre Genest breaks new ground by proposing the first empirical typology of performance requirement prohibitions in investment treaties and the first in depth analysis of arbitral awards on the subject Alexandre Genest formulates insightful remarks for a more deliberate and informed interpretation and application of existing performance requirement prohibitions These remarks will help improve the drafting of performance requirement prohibitions in future investment treaties Handbook of Research on
