

THE DEVELOPMENT OF AMERICAN POLITICAL THOUGHT

Fall 2010

THE COURSE surveys the development of American political thought from the age of revolution through the late twentieth century with an emphasis on the moments of special significance for the evolution of American political key concepts and institutions. All readings are selected from primary materials - founding documents, speeches, platforms, statements, essays, Supreme Court decisions, and letters - in an effort to understand American political mind through the arguments of its most prominent political actors.

REQUIREMENTS. Students will be required to make four oral in-class presentations summarizing the readings, write two short papers, and participate in class discussions of the materials. Grades will be determined as follows: oral in-class presentations 80%, two short papers 20%.
