Sir Robert Peel Richard A. Gaunt,2010-07-02 Sir Robert Peel paragon or pariah Peel was the greatest statesman and political leader of mid Victorian Britain a titan of Conservative politics whose legacy has inspired generations in his party and in British political life In a career spanning forty years he held the greatest offices of state including Chief Secretary to Ireland Home Secretary Chancellor of the Exchequer and was twice Prime Minister He was the first acknowledged leader of the Conservative Party and the Founder of Modern Conservatism Yet Peel s seemingly peerless reputation has never been secure The Repeal of the Corn Laws split his party his Peelite supporters joined the Liberals and the Conservatives remained in opposition for thirty years Richard Gaunt drawing on a huge archive of state papers contemporary writings including Peel s own Memoirs and the latest historiography paints a convincing picture of Peel as an exponent of effective government in the modern industrial state and a calculating practitioner supremely self confident who dominated both his Party and the House of Commons Gaunt s revisionist life of Peel will be essential reading and the standard work for students and general readers interested in Conservative and mid Victorian political history and historical biography The Lost Chapel of

Westminster John Cooper,2024-11-07 The fascinating history of St Stephen s Chapel in the Palace of Westminster a building at the heart of British life for over 700 years Begun in 1292 the royal chapel of St Stephen was the crowning glory of the old palace of Westminster a place of worship for kings and a showcase of the finest architecture ritual and music the Plantagenets could muster But in 1548 as the Protestant Reformation reached its height St Stephen s was given a new purpose as the House of Commons Burned out in the great palace fire of 1834 the Commons chamber was then recreated on a remarkably similar medieval design perpetuating a way of doing politics that is recognisable to this day St Stephen's has been part of many lives over the centuries from the medieval masons who worked through the Black Death to complete the chapel to the generations of MPs who locked horns in the Commons chamber Threading together religion politics art architecture and narrative history John Cooper tells the story of the lost chapel an iconic building that reflects the national transition from medieval divine right monarchy to modern parliamentary democracy The Outlook, 1913 The Sketch, 1913 Popular Anti-Catholicism in Mid-Victorian England Denis G. Paz, 1992 Anti Catholic sentiment was a major social cultural and political force in Victorian England capable of arousing remarkable popular passion Hitherto however anti Catholic feeling has been treated largely from the perspective of parliamentary politics or with reference to the propaganda of various London based anti Catholic religious organizations This book sets out Victorian anti Catholicism in a much fuller and more inclusive context accounting for its persistence over time disguising it from anti Irish sentiment and explaining its social economic political and religious bases locally as well as nationally The author is principally concerned with determining what led ordinary people to violent acts against Roman Catholic targets violent acts against Roman Catholic petitions joining anti Catholic organizations and reading anti Catholic literature All too often English history and even British history turns out to be the history of what was happening in the West End One of the special distinctions of this book is that it shows the interplay between national issues and their local conditions The book covers the period ca The Tastemakers Diana Davis, 2020-07-07 An examination of the development role and influence of the British decorative art dealers who invented an Anglo Gallic style for elite interiors In this volume Diana Davis demonstrates how London dealers invented a new and visually splendid decorative style that combined the contrasting tastes of two nations Departing from the conventional narrative that depicts dealers as purveyors of antiquarianism Davis repositions them as innovators who were key to transforming old art objects from ancien régime France into cherished antiques and equally as creators of new and modified French inspired furniture bronze work and porcelain The resulting old new and reconfigured objects merged aristocratic French eighteenth century taste with nineteenth century British preference and they were prized by collectors who displayed them side by side in palatial interiors of the period The Tastemakers analyzes dealer made furnishings from the nineteenth century patron's perspective and in the context of the interiors for which they were created contending that early dealers deliberately formulated a new aesthetic with its own objects language and value Davis examines a wide variety of documents to piece together the shadowy world of these dealers who emerge center stage as traders makers and tastemakers
