Historical Turning Points in the German Air Force War Effort Richard Suchenwirth, 1959

Rise and Fall of the German Air Force (1933 to 1945), Air Ministry, 2018-12-02 Written by British intelligence officers in 1948 RISE AND FALL OF THE GERMAN AIR FORCE offers a unique insider's view of Germany's extraordinary military machine Drawing upon records and documents captured from the Luftwaffe archives and elsewhere it describes the Air Force's principal campaigns achievements and operational problems as well as the political tensions that ultimately became its undoing It also explores the powerful personalities behind the service especially the relationship between Hitler and Goering and the impact on the Luftwaffe of the German Supreme Command Illustrated with original photographs and maps this fascinating contemporary account shows how and why a military phenomenon was brought to defeat Pre War policy and preparations 1919 1939 The German Air Force on the offensive 1939 1942 The Turn of the Tide 1943 1944 Decline and Fall of the German Air Force 1944 1945 Born of the spirit of the German airmen in the First World War inspired by faith in our Führer and Commander in Chief thus stands the German Air Force today ready to carry out every command of the Führer with lightning speed and undreamed of might Hermann Goering 1939

German Air Force Airlift Operations Generalmajor a. D. Fritz Morzik, 2017-06-28 Germany's imaginative employment of transport aircraft in World War II produced as many innovations as Germany's use of tanks Indeed like the tank the transport aircraft was closely associated with the Blitzkrieg concept This relationship was advantageous at the outset of the war but it became dangerous as the war dragged on and German armies outran their surface supply lines in North Africa and Russia Then ground commanders began to think of air transport as the means of supply The history of this trend is one of the main themes of this study which was first published in its English translation in 1961. Some of the questions embodied in this theme: How much air transport is enough? Under what conditions is an air supply operation feasible? What are the prerequisites for a successful airlift to encircled ground forces? What are the advantages and limitations of the glider? Are they as vital and controversial today as they were during World War II? Generalmajor a D Fritz Morzik, who began his military career as a non-commissioned officer in the German Air Service in World War I and ended it as Armed Forces Chief of Air Transport in World War II, is especially well qualified to write the present study. His long career spanning two world wars and his experience with both civilian and military transport aircraft testify to the breadth of his practical knowledge.
