

The background of the title page is a dramatic painting. It depicts a large, dark Zeppelin airship flying across a cloudy, twilight sky. Below the airship, a city is visible, with a large, bright fire or explosion in the foreground, casting a glow over the scene. The overall tone is somber and historical.

The German Air Raids on Great Britain, 1914-1918. [With Plates and Maps.]. Joseph MORRIS (A. F. R. Ae. S.), 1925 Air Raids on South-West Essex in the Great War Alan Simpson, 2015-07-30 A quarter of a century before the Blitz of 1940 the inhabitants of south west Essex were terrorized by an earlier aerial menace Over the course of four years German Zeppelins Gothas and Giants flew above their homes unleashing hundreds of highly explosive and incendiary bombs on London During three of these raids bombs were dropped on Leyton and many others landed elsewhere in south west Essex These early air raids are now largely forgotten in local memory but for the inhabitants of the time the attacks were unprecedented unexpected and lethal In the years since the Great War a great deal of literature has been published on London s first air raids and about the defence network that evolved around the metropolis but what happened in the capital s eastern suburbs and the nearby Essex countryside has received less coverage This meticulously researched and insightful book attempts to put that right looking at the area which in 1914 was part of south west Essex but now comprises the London boroughs of Waltham Forest Redbridge Havering Newham and Barking and Dagenham Focussing in particular on Leyton and Ilford this is the first book to ever examine what happened before and after the raiders reached and bombarded the capital The author has included a wide range of contemporary letters diaries and newspaper reports from local sources plus several previously unseen photographs To set the story in its wider context the book also contains a wealth of information about the defence of the London area generally and vivid reports from combatants on both sides Battle of Britain 1917 Jonathan Sutherland, Diane Canwell, 2006-06-19 In the autumn of 1916 the Germans began to equip with the Gotha twin engine bomber The Gothas were designed to carry out attacks across the channel against Britain A group of four squadrons was established in Belgium and they carried out their first bombing raid towards the end of May 1917 This 22 aircraft sortie against the town of Folkestone caused 95 deaths In mid June a force of 18 Gothas attacked London in broad daylight Over 90 British fighters met them but not one Gotha was brought down This bombing raid caused 162 deaths From mid September an even larger more potent bomber joined the Gothas The Zeppelin Staaken Riesenflugzeug or Giant bomber It had a range of about 800km 500 miles The Gotha Giant night raids continued throughout 1917 almost unscathed until December when the British began to have success in intercepting the Gothas at night Anti aircraft fire was also becoming more effective and the increased use of barrage balloons affected the bombers By the end of the war a 50 mile long line of barrage balloons surrounded London In the meantime the Giants continued a small but influential campaign against London On 16 February during a four aircraft raid a Giant dropped a 1 000 kg 2 200 lb bomb the largest used by anyone in the war and blew up a wing of the Chelsea hospital
