Terese Svoboda

The Glass Children The Contemporary Poetry Series:

The Glass Children Richard Cole, 1986 A Buddhist outlook on and appreciation of life shines through a collection of essays in which the Japanese author comments on current events contemporary culture and thinking ethics and technological advances

Temples and Fields Phillis Levin, 2009-02-01 This collection of poems by Phillis Levin won the Poetry Society of America's Norma Farber First Book Award

The Gaze of Winter Donald Revell, 1988 In Donald Revell's poems the present is often little more than an instant caught between the sadness of memory and the need to face the future's blank expanse Even the best dreams recall happiness that cannot be retrieved while the worst memories bend past love into a crazy line through darkness Anything can turn furious The crazy line through wreckage that wears my face and all the faces seems not to end And on the way even the most damaged things have one surface glazed a sudden distorting mirror that I can't help finding There I look as I did stalled in hours or places it is shame to remember The Eumenides are slow vengeance meted out by anywhere love fails in the collapse and angry dealing of self love The light presses The air presses hard and no story of mine if good enough to hold out When there is escape calm in these poems it is often in thoughts of distant lands and pasts in the works of other writers and artists the bands of light and changing shadows of Cezanne's canvases the suburban desire and deep green lawns of Cheever's fiction It is art stories the urge to tell that brings hope in these lines

The Violence of the Morning Calvin Bedient, 2002 Groundbreaking new poetry evokes a wide range of influences from Kant to the Upanishads while making deep exploratory journeys into the complexities of sexual relationships disease heartbreak and death Winner of the Contemporary Poetry Series Competition Original

The Blaze of the Poui Mark McMorris, 2003 The author mingles personal and political observations with history in this memoir of his travels through lands of conquest in the Americas Winner of the Contemporary Poetry Series competition Poetry

Assembling the Shepherd Tessa Rumsey, 1999 Driven by an endless matrix of poetic forms the poems of Assembling the Shepherd create a world where allusions to Plato and the Dead Sea scrolls intermingle with car culture and terrorism where modern skylines are framed within the history of alchemy and architecture Tessa Rumsey uses words in ways that defy summary and synonym in poetry that challenges the boundaries of common dualities city and desert heaven and earth waking and dreaming violence and harmony destruction and regeneration recollecting and forecasting She attempts to move beyond these natural contrasts in her poetry and beyond point of view to create a collection that offers an elemental glimpse of the fragmented yet interconnected world we live in Throughout the book familiar themes are seen again and again undergoing subtle metamorphosis the seasonal solstice the sundial the planets the Sphinx as Rumsey invites us beneath the surface of her words

The Book of Motion Tung-Hui Hu, 2003 This debut collection explores memory cities motion Tung Hui Hu's tone has some of the swampy wit that recalls Calvino or Michaux A man swaps bodies with his lover a mapmaker holds captive a city which needs his crystal telescope to navigate through streets unreadable as palm lines a car pushed off a cliff in a fit of anger becomes home for a school of fish

Anchored by the sequence Elegies for self Hu s poetry brings a quiet sophistication to syntax diction and form They are Sleeping Joanna Klink,2000 In They Are Sleeping Joanna Klink tests the limits of solitude setting her poems in places where our grip on self is loosened and blurred caves coastlines rooms in cities As her poems lead us through these sometimes beautiful sometimes appalling internal landscapes characters like the Hanged Man and the Lady of Situations reappear often locked in misunderstanding but compelling us toward a more fragile and expansive sense of self A Drowning Man is Never Tall Enough Patrick Lawler,1990-01-01 This is a poetry of excursions into maps of lost territories into the thoughts of a man with no legs into the life of a town marked by disasters Patrick Lawler moves into the slender lines of shattered glass the spaces between lyric and narrative between metamorphosis and mutation From the artful surface of a Russian novel rich with symbolism and white bears to a survivor s unwillingness to immerse himself in life or leave it the poems in A Drowning Man Is Never Tall Enough hunger for a language beyond the solid for the fragmentation that makes a scene complete

Mere Mortals Terese Svoboda,2009-09-01 All of the medical technological and psychological advances of the twentieth century challenge mere mortals in Terese Svoboda s third book of poetry In Faust a mini epic in five acts the eponymous character of literary legend appears in the form of a woman who redefines what being mortal means in light of the politics of the Third World and gender In contrast Ptolemy s Rules for High School Reunions explores what happens when you do without a pact with the devil The gods Greek and otherwise also make appearances as a TV announcer in Philomela in the basement with the plumber in The Smell of Burning Pennies and in the dyslexic confusion between Dog God But it is not only the divine that charges the poems in Mere Mortals sex also suffuses and reinvents key relationships Readers of such wittily probing poems as The Root of Father is Fat and Brassiere Prison or Showcase will know why Philip Levine has described Svoboda as one light year from being the polite lovely workshop poet Mere Mortals poems first appeared in such magazines as the New Yorker New York Times Magazine Paris Review and the American Poetry Review
