The Geographers Library:

The Geographer's Library Jon Fasman, 2006-02-28 A brainy noir a winningly cryptic tale a cabinet of wonders written by a novelist whose surname and sensibility fit comfortably on the shelf between Umberto Eco and John Fowles Los Angeles Times One of the year s most literate and absorbing entertainments Kirkus Reviews Jon Fasman s dizzyingly plotted intellectual thriller suggests a marriage between Dan Brown and Donna Tartt When reporter Paul Tamm is assigned to investigate the mysterious death of a reclusive academic he finds himself pursuing leads that date back to the twelfth century and the theft of alchemical instruments from the geographer of the Sicilian court Now someone is trying to retrieve them Interspersed with the present action are the stories of the men and women who came to possess those charmed and sometimes cursed artifacts which have powers that go well beyond the transmutation of lead into gold Deftly combining history magic suspense and romance and as handsomely illustrated as an ancient incunabulum The Geographer's Library is irresistible

The Geography of State Policies (Routledge Library Editions: Political Geography) J. R. V. Prescott, 2014-10-03 This book examines the reciprocal relationships between geography and the policies of states The text begins with a theoretical analysis which sets the study in the context of geography and related fields and an analysis of certain global strategies advocated by geographers and others The remainder of the book deals with policies of defence development and administration

Popular Geographical Library Robert Stewart (A.M.), 1853 The English Historical Library William Nicolson, 1696

Theory and Methods Chris Philo, 2017-05-15 This volume tackles the complex terrain of theory and methods seeking to exemplify the major philosophical social theoretic and methodological developments some with clear political and ethical implications that have traversed human geography since the era of the 1960s when spatial science came to the fore Coverage includes Marxist and humanistic geographies and their many variations over the years as well as ongoing debates about agency structure and the concepts of time space place and scale Feminist and other positioned geographies alongside poststructuralist and posthumanist geographies are all evidenced as well as writings that push against the very limits of what human geography has embraced over these fifty plus years The volume combines readings that are well known and widely accepted as classic with readings that while less familiar are valuable in how they illustrate different possibilities for theory and method within the discipline The volume also includes a substantial introduction by the editor contextualising the readings and in the process providing a new interpretation of the last half century of change within the thoughts and practices of human geography
