Reordered Love, Reordered Lives David K. Naugle, 2008-11-03 If we have a particle of sense St Augustine said we realize that we all want to be happy What's more God actually designed human beings to crave and seek happiness Why then is there so much unhappiness in the world According to David Naugle it is because in our desperate quest we are looking in the wrong places Reordered Love Reordered Lives explores a distinctly Augustinian theme that is supremely relevant for the twenty first century Naugle explains that if we love properly that is if we love beginning with God and progressing to other humans ourselves and the world around us we will also live properly and in so doing will find our own true happiness Packed with select quotes and references to popular music literature and other media and including provocative questions for discussion the book presents classic theological ideas in a conversational and edgy fashion Naugle's refreshing take is sure to appeal to anyone searching for happiness which in the end is all of us

Everyone Is NOT Doing It Jamie L. Mullaney, 2006 Labels like vegan virgin or nonsmoker get thrown around to identify forms of abstinence but for many abstainers such labels are also proud declarations of who they are Setting aside the moral debates and psychological assessments surrounding abstinence Jamie L Mullaney here asks why it is that the act of not doing something plays such a crucial role in the formation of our personal identities Based on interviews with individuals who abstain from habits as diverse as sex cigarettes sugar and technology Everyone Is NOT Doing It identifies four different types of abstainers quitters those who have never done something and never will those who haven't done something yet but might in the future and those who are not doing something temporarily Mullaney assesses the commonalities that bind abstainers as well as how perceptions of abstinence change according to social context age and historical era In contrast to such earlier forms of abstinence as social protest entertainment or an instrument of social stratification not doing something now gives people a more secure sense of self by offering a more affordable and manageable identity in a world of ever expanding options
