

THE GETTYSBURG ADDRESS

November 19, 1863

At the Dedication of the Soldiers' National Cemetery in Gettysburg, Pennsylvania:

Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent, a new nation, conceived in Liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal.

Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met on a great battle-field of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of that field, as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this.

But, in a larger sense, we can not dedicate – we can not consecrate – we can not hallow – this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it, far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note, nor long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us – that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion – that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain – that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom – and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth.

We the People Erwin Chemerinsky, 2018-11-13 The author and dean of constitutional law offers framework for understanding the US Constitution and the current threats facing democracy Worried about what a super conservative majority on the Supreme Court means for the future of civil liberties From gun control to reproductive health a conservative court will reshape the lives of all Americans for decades to come The time to develop and defend a progressive vision of the US Constitution that protects the rights of all people is now University of California Berkeley Dean and respected legal scholar Erwin Chemerinsky expertly exposes how conservatives are using the Constitution to advance their own agenda that favors business over consumers and employees and government power over individual rights But exposure is not enough Progressives have spent too much of the last forty five years trying to preserve the legacy of the Warren Court's most important rulings and reacting to the Republican dominated Supreme Courts by criticizing their erosion of rights but have not yet developed a progressive vision for the Constitution itself Yet if we just look to the promise of the Preamble liberty and justice for all and take seriously its vision a progressive reading of the Constitution can lead us forward as we continue our fight ensuring democratic rule effective government justice liberty and equality Includes the Complete Constitution and Amendments of the United States of America Praise for We the People Paste Magazine's 10 Best Books of November This work will become the defining text on progressive constitutionalism a parallel to Thomas Picketty's contribution but for all who care deeply about constitutional law Beautifully written and powerfully argued this is a masterpiece Lawrence Lessig Harvard Law School and author of Free Culture Thank heaven for Erwin Chemerinsky His latest book We the People really is his finest work Clear and concise This book could not have come at a better time It is a life preserver for those who feel adrift in the uncharted waters of the Trump era Laurie L Levenson Los Angeles Review of Books Chemerinsky pulls no punches His rock solid arguments are rooted in history in a profound progressive philosophy Kirkus Reviews starred review
