Small-Area Income and Poverty Estimates National Research Council, Commission on Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Committee on National Statistics, Panel on Estimates of Poverty for Small Geographic Areas, 2000-09-25 Recent trends in federal policies for social and economic programs have increased the demand for timely accurate estimates of income and poverty for states counties and even smaller areas Every year more than 130 billion in federal funds is allocated to states and localities through formulas that use such estimates These funds support a wide range of programs that include child care community development education job training nutrition and public health A new program of the U S Census Bureau is now providing more timely estimates for these programs than those from the decennial census which have been used for many years These new estimates are being used to allocate more than 7 billion annually to school districts through the Title I program that supports educationally disadvantaged children But are these estimates as accurate as possible given the available data How can the statistical models and data that are used to develop the estimates be improved What should policy makers consider in selecting particular estimates This new book from the National Research Council provides guidance for improving the Census Bureau s program and for policy makers who use such estimates for allocating funds

Small-Area Estimates of School-Age Children in Poverty National Research Council, Commission on Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Committee on National Statistics, Panel on Estimates of Poverty for Small Geographic Areas, 2001-02-16 The Panel on Estimates of Poverty for Small Geographic Areas was established by the Committee on National Statistics at the National Research Council in response to the Improving America s Schools Act of 1994 That act charged the U S Census Bureau to produce updated estimates of poor school age children every two years for the nation s more than 3 000 counties and 14 000 school districts The act also charged the panel with determining the appropriateness and reliability of the Bureau s estimates for use in the allocation of more than 7 billion of Title I funds each year for educationally disadvantaged children The panel s charge was both a major one and one with immovable deadlines The panel had to evaluate the Census Bureau s work on a very tight schedule in order to meet legal requirements for allocation of Title I funds As it turned out the panel produced three interim reports the first one evaluated county level estimates of poor school age children in 1993 the second one assessed a revised set of 1993 county estimates and the third one covered both county and school district level estimates of poor school age children in 1995 This volume combines and updates these three reports into a single reference volume

Choosing the Right Formula National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Committee on National Statistics, Panel on Formula Allocations, 2001-09-07 The workshop was a direct outgrowth of a previous study by the CNSTAT Panel on Estimates of Poverty for Small Geographic Areas That panel established under a 1994 act of Congress began its work with a very specific mission to evaluate the suitability of the U S Census Bureau s small area estimates of poor school age children for use in the allocation of funds to counties and school districts under Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act In carrying out their assignment panel members came to realize that the properties of data sources and statistical procedures used to produce formula estimates interacting with formula features such as thresholds and hold harmless provisions can produce consequences that may not have been anticipated or intended It also became evident that there is a trade off between the goals of providing a reasonable amount of stability in funding from one year to the next and redirecting funds to different jurisdictions as true needs change In one instance for example the annual appropriation included a 100 percent hold harmless provision ensuring that no recipient would receive less than the year before However there was no increase in the total appropriation with the result that new estimates showing changes in the distribution of program needs across areas had no effect on the allocations Choosing the Right Formula provides an account of the presentations and discussions at the workshop The first three chapters cover the overview case studies and methodological sessions respectively Chapter 4 summarizes the issues discussed in the roundtable and concluding sessions with emphasis on the identification of questions that might be addressed in a panel study
