The Bahamas From Slavery To Servitude 1783 1933:

The Bahamas from Slavery to Servitude, 1783-1933 Howard Johnson, 1996 Highly important scholarly treatment of Bahamian socioeconomic history in post emancipation period In addition to examining last phases of slavery in both rural and urban settings looks at export economies of salt cotton pineapples and sponges and their roles in emergence of mercantile middle class Concludes that partly because of flawed governmental policies workers ended up in servitude and ultimately migrated to Miami Handbook of Latin American Studies v 58 Race Relations in the Bahamas, 1784-1834 Whittington Johnson, 2000-07-01 This deeply researched clearly written book is a history of black society and its relations with whites in the Bahamas from the close of the American Revolution to emancipation Whittington B Johnson examines the communities developed by free bonded and mixed race blacks on the islands as British colonists and American loyalists unsuccessfully tried to establish a plantation economy The author explores how relations between the races developed civilly in this region contrasting it with the harsher and more violent experiences of other Caribbean islands and the American South Interpreting church documents and Colonial Office papers in a new light Johnson presents a more favorable conclusion than previously advanced about the conditions endured by victims of the African Diaspora and by Creoles in the Bahama Islands He makes use of an impressive and important body of archival and secondary research Race Relations in the Bahamas will be a book of great interest to southern historians historians of slave societies and black communities scholars of race relations and general readers

Race and Class in the Colonial Bahamas, 1880-1960 Gail Saunders, 2017-10-16 Saunders resoundingly affirms the relevance of island history Scholars will appreciate the detail and insights Choice Deftly unravels the complex historical interrelationships of race color class economics and environment in the Colonial Bahamas An invaluable study for scholars who conduct comparative research on the British Caribbean Rosalyn Howard author of Black Seminoles in the Bahamas Saunders is to be commended for a scholarly study that prominently features the non white majority in the Bahamas a group which usually has been overlooked Whittington B Johnson author of Post Emancipation Race Relations in The Bahamas In this one of a kind study of race and class in the Bahamas Gail Saunders shows how racial tensions were not necessarily parallel to those across other British West Indian colonies but instead mirrored the inflexible color line of the United States Proximity to the U S and geographic isolation from other British colonies created a uniquely Bahamian interaction among racial groups Focusing on the post emancipation period from the 1880s to the 1960s Saunders considers the entrenched though extra legal segregation prevalent in most spheres of life that lasted well into the 1950s Saunders traces early black nationalist and pan Africanism movements as well as the influence of Garveyism and Prohibition during World War I She examines the economic depression of the 1930s and the subsequent boom in the tourism industry which boosted the economy but worsened racial tensions proponents of integration predicted disaster if white tourists ceased traveling to the islands Despite some upward mobility of mixed race and black Bahamians the economy continued to be dominated by the white elite and trade unions and labor based parties came late to the Bahamas Secondary education although limited to those who could afford it was the route to a better life for nonwhite Bahamians and led to mixed race and black persons studying in professional fields which ultimately brought about a rising political consciousness Training her lens on the nature of relationships among the various racial and social groups in the Bahamas Saunders tells the story of how discrimination persisted until at last squarely challenged by the majority of Bahamians

Policing Freedom Martine Jean, 2023-08-17 Policing Freedom uses the case study of Brazil's first penitentiary the Casa de Correio to explore how the Brazilian government used incarceration and enforced labor to control the prison population during the foundational period of Brazilian state formation and postcolonial nation building Placing this penitentiary within the global debates about the disciplinary benefits of confinement and the evolution of free labor ideology Martine Jean illustrates how Brazil's political elites envisioned the penitentiary as a way to discipline the free working class While participating in the debates about the inhumanity of the slave trade philanthropists and lawmakers both conservative and liberal articulated a nation building discourse that focused on reforming Brazil's vagrants into workers in anticipation of slavery's eventual demise laying the racialized foundations for policing and incarceration in the post emancipation period

The Last Imperialist Bruce Gilley, 2021-09-21 The British Empire one of the most powerful forces in history was also one of the most humane Yet at its twilight few were willing to defy the anti colonial reaction that condemned millions to despotism under the regimes that replaced it Sir Alan Burns was among them In this lively and provocative work of history Bruce Gilley vindicates Sir Alan's view that decolonization was poorly managed and too swiftly executed a view based not on imperialist nostalgia but on a sober assessment of the ravages of the twentieth century Gilley demonstrates that Burns understood the benefits of colonial rule and correctly foretold the chaos that accompanied its rapid dissolution Relying on previously unavailable documentation from Burns's family The Last Imperialist dethrones the revisionist historians and shatters their unbalanced accusations against European colonialism This is history writing at its most courageous

Methodology, Ideology and Pedagogy of African Art Moyo Okediji, 2024-02-14 This edited volume including contributions from scholars with different areas of specialization investigates a broad range of methodologies ideologies and pedagogies focusing on the study of the art of Africa using theoretical reflections and applications from primitivism to metamodernism Chapters break the externally imposed boundaries of Africa related works beyond the conventional fragments of traditional contemporary and diaspora The contributions are significantly broad in their methodologies ideologies and pedagogical coverage yet they all address various aspects of African artistic creativity demonstrating the possibilities for analytical experiments that art history presents to scholars of the discipline today The character of each approach is unique nevertheless each is useful toward a fuller understanding of African art studies as an independent aspect of art historical research that is a branch or bud of the larger family of art history The volume respects highlights and celebrates the distinctiveness of each methodical approach
