

The book cover features a stylized illustration. At the top, a large, solid red circle, resembling a setting or rising sun, is positioned over a black and white photograph of a cityscape, likely Singapore. The city is shown with various buildings and structures, some of which are partially obscured by the red circle. Below the cityscape, the background transitions into a dark, textured area that looks like a night sky or a dark sea. In the bottom right corner of this dark area, there are two small, bright yellow, flame-like or smoke-like shapes. The title text is overlaid on the middle of the cover.

world and entirely sui generis Davies's circumnavigation takes him to Baku the Emirates India Malaysia Mauritius Tasmania Tahiti Texas Madeira and many places in between At every stop he not only describes the current scene but also excavates the layers of accumulated experience that underpin the present He tramps round ancient temples and weird museums summarises the complexity of Indian castes Austronesian languages and Pacific explorations delves into the fate of indigenous peoples and of a missing Malaysian airliner reflects on cultural conflict in Cornwall uncovers the Nazi origins of Frankfurt airport and lectures on imperialism in a desert oasis Everything has its history he writes including the history of finding one's way or of getting lost The personality of the author comes across strongly wry romantic occasionally grumpy but with an endless curiosity and appetite for knowledge As always Norman Davies watches the historical horizon as well as what is close at hand and brilliantly complicates our view of the past
