Woods, 2023-04-28 This is the first in depth study of how the architectural profession emerged in early American history Mary Woods dispels the prevailing notion that the profession developed under the leadership of men formally schooled in architecture as an art during the late nineteenth century Instead she cites several instances in the early 1800s of craftsmen builders who shifted their identity to that of professional architects While struggling to survive as designers and supervisors of construction projects these men organized professional societies and worked for architectural education appropriate compensation and accreditation In such leading architectural practitioners as B Henry Latrobe Alexander J Davis H H Richardson Louis Sullivan and Stanford White Woods sees collaborators partners merchandisers educators and lobbyists rather than inspired creators She documents their contributions as well as those far less familiar of women architects and people of color in the profession s early days Woods s extensive research yields a remarkable range of archival materials correspondence among carpenters 200 year old lawsuits architect client spats the organization of craft guilds apprenticeships university programs and correspondence schools and the structure of architectural practices labor unions and the building industry In presenting a more accurate composite of the architectural profession s history Woods lays a foundation for reclaiming the profession s past and recasting its future Her study will appeal not only to architects but also to historians sociologists and readers with an interest in architecture s place in America today This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1999 This is the first in depth study of how the architectural profession emerged in early American history Mary Woods dispels the prevailing notion that the profession developed under the leadership of men formally schooled in architecture as an art during t Guide to Reprints ,2000 An Early Encounter with Tomorrow Arnold Lewis,1997 Chicago in the late nineteenth century was the wonder city of the Western world its famous Loop the laboratory in which to study innovative commercial architecture There Old World assumptions were overthrown by New World realities as the past was discounted the present glorified and the future eagerly anticipated Catalogue of the Public Library, 1892 ,1892 American Art Annual ,1910 American Art Directory ,1903 The biographical material formerly included in the directory is issued separately as Who s who in American art 1936 37 American Art Directory Florence Nightingale Levy,1910 The Journal of American History ,1908 The Chicago School of Architecture Carl W.
