

The background of the image is a dark, deep blue night sky. It is filled with numerous small white dots representing stars. Several constellations are depicted with thin white lines connecting their primary stars. These constellations include a large one in the upper left, a prominent one in the center, and another in the upper right. The overall effect is a celestial map. At the bottom of the image, there is a dark, silhouetted horizon line with a wavy, undulating shape, suggesting a landscape or the edge of the Earth.
